Public broadband has never been more urgent than during the COVID-19 pandemic. ALL New Yorkers deserve access to safe, high-quality public internet without the risk of surveillance.

stopspying.org/nyc-internet-remastered
46% of NYC households living in poverty lack internet access.

The City must close the digital divide without compromising privacy.
Internet access is essential, but without proper safeguards, public broadband could become an even more granular way to track New Yorkers.

Read our proposal on how to safely and equitably roll out NYC's Internet Master Plan in S.T.O.P.'s latest report.

stopspying.org/nyc-internet-remastered