

Privacy Statement

General Privacy Statement

This website is managed by ISLE. If you use the website of ISLE and the products and services that can be found on it, you leave your details with us. The website also leaves a number of types of cookies on your computer. These are used to make the website work better on your device.

Below you can read what data ISLE can collect, why we do it and what we can do with that data. You can also read which cookies we use and why. This statement is about our entire website: it applies to visitors, but also when you sign up for a newsletter.

Cookies

In order to make this website work better and faster and to be able to tailor it to your preferences, certain information about your use of this website is collected. This information can be collected by using so-called 'cookies'. These are small text files that are automatically placed on your computer by the visited web page. You can disable the use of 'cookies' via the settings of your browser. However, this leads to a reduced functionality of this website. Third parties can also place cookies and track internet behaviour, as is the case for example with embedded videos of Vimeo.

How do we obtain your data?

If you use the ISLE website, you sometimes leave personal data with us.

You leave your details with us in the following ways:

- * Navigation through the website
- * Filling in forms
- * Subscribe to newsletter

What do we do with your data?

ISLE saves and processes your data for the following purposes:

- * Collecting and analyzing statistics in order to optimize the website;
- * Delivering the products and services you purchase from us;
- * Settlement of payments;
- * Building a contact history;

How do we protect your data?

Your data will be stored and transmitted securely. It can only be accessed by those who work directly with it, no one else. If you have nothing to do with your data, you simply cannot access it. ISLE strives to store and send your data using the most recent security techniques and encryption methods.

With whom does Lise Low share your data?

ISLE will treat your personal data confidentially. We will never sell your personal data to other parties.

Contact, mailing and/or advertising

If you do receive mail or unwanted advertising, you can always indicate that you no longer want us to contact you. There are no costs associated with unsubscribing.

Younger than 16 years?

If you are a minor, i.e. under 16 years of age, you may only consent to the processing of your personal data with the consent of one of your parents or legal guardian. It is then important that your parent(s) or guardian read this statement. They can also exercise the rights you have with regard to the personal data you leave behind with us, such as the right to oppose the (further) processing of your personal data or the right to inspect and correct your data.

Insight into your data?

You can always get insight into the data ISLE has about you. You can send a written request to this effect to ISLE. Based on the results, you can also request that your data be modified if they are factually incorrect, incomplete or irrelevant.

Contact details

The website and the personal data you leave behind here are managed by ISLE.

For questions and remarks about this Privacy Statement you can always contact us via the contact form via this website.

Third party websites

This Privacy and Cookie Statement does not apply to websites of third parties that can be visited via this website via links.

Changes Privacy statement

ISLE reserves the right to make changes to this Privacy statement. It is therefore recommended that you check this Privacy Statement regularly, so that you are kept informed of these changes. The most recent version can always be consulted on the website.