

Mother's Day Tech Gifts

BY JON COHEN
TECH COLUMNIST

Stuck on finding the perfect Mother's Day gift?

This year, why not consider a tech gadget that can make her life easier, more productive, or simply more fun? From headphones to travel chargers, there's a tech gift out there for everyone. Let's have a look at three fantastic options that cater to a variety of interests, ensuring you find the perfect present to show mom you care!

Questyle NHB 15 - www.questyleshop.com

Music is a universal language, a soundtrack to our lives. But the headphones most of us have at home lack a truly immersive sound for our favorite tunes. The Questyle NHB 15 earphones are here to elevate what moms are listening to.

These sleek in-ear, wired headphones are all about sound quality. The NHB 15 packs a powerful punch right inside its compact design. With a built-in amp that delivers pure, unadulterated audio, letting you hear every detail the artist intended, from the delicate crescendos of classical symphonies to the driving bass lines of your favorite pop hits.

But the magic of the NHB 15 goes beyond technical specs. High-fidelity drivers translate that power into an immersive lossless listening experience.

Whether you're rocking out at the gym, unwinding on your commute, or getting lost in an audiobook, the NHB 15 reproduces every note with stunning clarity and depth.

Comfort is key, especially for those extended listening sessions. The NHB 15 earphones are lightweight and designed for a snug, secure fit, ensuring fatigue-free listening no matter how long your playlist is. Offering both a USB-C or the 3.5mm headphone jack, these headphones are a great gift and do not disappoint.

AUKEY MagFusion Z -www.aukey.com

AUKEY MagFusion Z is a 3-in-1 charger that folds up for easy travel but unfolds to power up mom's iPhone, Apple Watch, and AirPods all at once. MagSafe with Qi 2 attaches your iPhone to the stand for a secure, super-fast charge, while the built-in spots handle your watch and AirPods case.

At just 1.7mm thick it is perfect for moms' travel bag, purse, or backpack, the MagFusion Z keeps your tech powered up and organized – just one wire to the wall outlet is all you need to get up and running.

Tiger EDGE Blender - www.tiger-corporation.com

Who doesn't love a smoothie or a creamy frozen treat at home? Look no further than the Tiger Edge blender! This innovative kitchen appliance boasts a revolutionary 45-degree diagonal blade that pulverizes fruits, vegetables, and even ice into ultra-smooth concoctions.

No more chunky textures, now just perfectly blended juices, dips, nut butters, and even hot soups (although heating is not a function of the blender itself). The Tiger Edge tackles tough ingredients with ease, thanks to its powerful motor and unique blade design. Plus, with ten variable speeds and a pulse function, mom will have complete control over the consistency of creations.

This blender is perfect for health enthusiasts, busy families, and anyone who loves to experiment in the kitchen. From refreshing summer drinks to healthy meal prep essentials, the Tiger Edge unlocks a world of culinary possibilities.

JON COHEN is a published consumer electronics columnist, a correspondent for SiriusXm Radio, Rogers Media, and a certified Apple Mac & iOS Technician