Spring Into 2020

Bernadette’s House receives national attention! Carol Nash, founder of Bernadette’s House was featured on the Today Show which aired January 8. Carol was interviewed by Maria Shriver along with two other amazing women in a segment entitled “Setting The Stage: Inside look at women launching second chapters.” These three ladies persevered in the face of doubt, ageism and financial uncertainty. The messages and advice they impart regarding their journey to starting anew in their careers are inspiring and valuable life lessons. We encourage you to take a moment and watch the video clip which is posted to the Bernadette’s House website.
