Message from our CEO and Chief Curator

For many, August tends to be a vacation month—people are in and out of the office, workflow slows down, and everyone takes some extra time to rest and recharge. The PGAHC team, myself included, is no exception! As summer comes to a close, this is the time to take a step back, enjoy the warm weather, and recenter our minds to keep the burnout at bay.

I've found that the greatest benefit to rest is that by doing so, we ensure that we’re in our best shape to take on the final stretch of the year.

And boy do we have a lot in store for the next several months! Next month, we’re hosting the inaugural Prince George’s Film Festival, an immersive four-day cinematic celebration jam-packed with panel discussions, networking events, workshops, and a digital public art exhibition! That’s only the beginning of what is to come— we will continue to celebrate our 40th Anniversary for the entire year with our Signature Events.

So, I invite you to take this time to rest with us, because we want you to be as ready as we are for all of the incredible art experiences the Prince George’s Arts & Humanities Council is bringing you for the rest of the year!

Creative We Stand,

Rhonda Dallas
CEO and Chief Curator
