Financial Acumen

Register today for our in-person executive education program, Financial Acumen for Health Care Leaders, on October 28 and 29. The program covers financial statement analysis, budgeting, cost accounting, and value-based payment models.

Register here

Point Health Podcast

Executive Director Elizabeth Teisberg is featured on the Point Health podcast. She discusses how she co-developed the concept of value-based care, why she believes it’s the ideal solution for improving outcomes and lowering costs, misconceptions about value-based care, and much more.

Listen here
We want to hear from you!

If you’re an MS in Health Care Transformation alum and you have news you would like to share, please fill out the form to the right.

Alumni Profile: Steven Cutbirth

“My favorite part of the program was the relationships I was able to build with my classmates and faculty.” In this spotlight video, MS in Health Care Transformation alum Steven Cutbirth talks about why you should apply to the program.

We Are Hiring!

We are hiring a research writer. Please share this opportunity with your networks, and if you are interested in joining us to transform health care, we hope you will apply today!

Social Work Leader of the Year

MS in Health Care Transformation alum Donna Shanor has been named 2021 Health Care Social Work Leader of the Year by the Society for Social Work Leadership in Health Care. Congratulations, Donna!

Application Now Open

The MS in Health Care Transformation program application for the Class of 2023 is now open! The one-year hybrid program equips leaders with the knowledge, skills, and abilities required to design and lead health care services that achieve better health and better value for individuals and families.
UN Science Summit

Executive Director Elizabeth Teisberg spoke at the 76th United Nations General Assembly Science Summit on September 28. The objective of the virtual meeting was to raise awareness of the role and contribution of science to the attainment of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals.

Reducing Substance Use Disorders

Erin Donovan, PhD, MS in Health Care Transformation faculty member, and Michael Mackert, PhD, director of the Center for Health Communication, have received a $6 million grant with the Texas Health and Human Services Commission to develop interactive resources to promote coping and reduce substance use disorders among Texas families. Congratulations!