The Australasian Agricultural and Resource Economics Society (AARES) 64th annual conference will take place 11-14 February 2020 in Perth, Western Australia

Contributed Papers and Posters

Call for Submissions

Closing date for submissions: 23 October 2019

The Local Organising Committee invites contributions that highlight the latest research and policy applications in agricultural, environmental, resource, ecological, energy, fisheries, food, agribusiness and development economics. The conference will offer a forum for applied and theoretical economists to gather along with industry and policymakers to share experiences and discuss insights.

Contributed Papers and Posters are invited on any topic relevant to the broad conference theme.

The previous system of “selected papers” will not be used. Instead, titles and extended abstracts (300-500 words) will be used to select contributed papers and posters for inclusion in the program. Contributors must use the extended abstract template provided on the “Call for Papers/Posters” page on the conference website (https://www.aares2020.org/#/call4papers/). Extended abstracts are to be submitted through a web link that will soon be made available on that page.

Presenters of accepted papers are encouraged to produce a full paper to support their presentation. Full papers and posters can be uploaded to the conference website at any time before the conference. Abstracts and papers (if uploaded) and posters (if uploaded) of successful submissions will be made available to conference delegates. (Full papers will be uploaded to the AgEcon Search website after the conference, unless authors request otherwise.)

As each delegate is only entitled to make one verbal presentation, please consider submitting posters for your additional research projects. Note that there are no restrictions on co-authorship for contributed papers.

A cash prize is available for the best first time presenter at the AARES conference. Two prizes are awarded to the best poster as judged by an expert panel and a public vote.
