EDUCATE August 1-9

Suffrage Snapshots

Weekdays

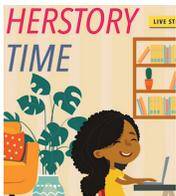

The WSCC is bringing you your weekday dose of suffrage history with our signature whiteboard animation videos. The series will tell the story of women's fight for the vote in quick and engaging one-minute history lessons.

Live from Nashville: Song Suffragettes

Monday, Aug. 3

The WSCC has partnered with the Nashville based all-female singer-songwriter collective, Song Suffragettes, to host livestreamed weekly performances from The Listening Room every Monday in August at 7pm (ET) in celebration of the centennial. Enjoy the inspiring musical stylings of some local Nashville legends-in-the-making! Check back soon for more details on the artist lineup.

Herstory Time

Tuesday, Aug. 4

On August 4 at 12pm (ET), join us for a Herstory Time reading of Founding Mothers: Remembering the Ladies with Rebecca Boggs Roberts. Founding Mothers was written by pioneering journalist Cokie Roberts. Rebecca will read a selection of her favorite chapters from her mother's book, including stories of Abigail Adams and Mercy Otis Warren.

NEW EPISODE And Nothing Less Podcast

Wednesday, Aug. 5

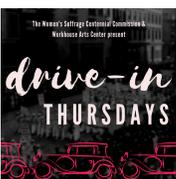

"Men their rights and nothing more; women their rights and nothing less." Written by suffragists Susan B. Anthony and Elizabeth Cady Stanton, women's rights activists used this rallying cry to demand voting equality. But the suffrage movement included far more voices and perspectives than these two well-known names: throughout the fight for women's right to vote, generations of diverse activists demanded full access to the ballot box. Hosts Rosario Dawson and Retta guide us through this seven-part series from the Women's Suffrage Centennial Commission and PRX, bringing listeners the stories we didn't learn in our history books. Tune in each week for new episodes of this seven-part podcast from the WSCC, PRX, and the National Park Service.

NEW EPISODE The Magic Sash Podcast

Wednesday, Aug. 5

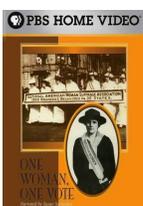

The Magic Sash is a journey back in time hosted by gold medal gymnast and advocate Aly Raisman. Join Lotty and Isaiah, two very modern fifth graders, as they meet iconic heroes of the movement for women's right to vote and experience big moments in women's suffrage first-hand. Tune in each week for new episodes of this seven-part children's podcast from the WSCC, TRAX from PRX, the National Park Service, and Gen-Z Media.

Drive-In Movie Thursdays

Thursday, Aug. 6

The Women's Suffrage Centennial Commission and the Workhouse Arts Center are partnering together for National Women's Suffrage Month to present Drive-In Thursdays: Bold Women in History Film Series. Every Thursday throughout August at the Workhouse Arts Center Drive-In, we'll present a film featuring the fearless women of history.

One Woman, One Vote Virtual Watch Party

Friday, Aug. 7

Grab your popcorn and join us for a special virtual film screening! On Friday, August 7, watch the modern rendition of One Woman, One Vote, a classic special with a 21st century message. The WSCC teamed up with the One Woman One Vote Film Festival to bring this revamped suffrage documentary to your living room, featuring a brand new introduction by Supreme Court Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg!

Keynote Conversation: Creativity & Persistence

Thursday, Aug. 20

The fight for the vote went beyond lobbying politicians with letter writing campaigns. Suffragists of the early 20th century transformed the controversial and polarizing idea of women's suffrage to appeal to the masses. How did they do it? On Thursday, August 20, join National Endowment for the Arts Chairman Mary Anne Carter as she shares the art, merchandise, publications, artifacts, tactics, and methods that the suffragists used to advertise and popularize the campaign for the vote.

19th Amendment: Women Vote USPS Stamp Release

Saturday, Aug. 22

With this stamp, the U.S. Postal Service commemorates the centennial of the ratification of the 19th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. Inspired by historic photographs, the stamp features a stylized illustration of suffragists marching with purple, white, and gold banners.
