

PRIVACY POLICY

This website is owned and operated by THINK CRITICALLY INC. We recognize that as a visitor to this website you may be concerned about the information which is provided to us and how we treat that information. This Policy will be reviewed and updated from time to time, so please check the policy routinely.

Types of Information We Collect

We collect two types of information.

The first type of information is for our procurement users and includes email address, name, address, credit card numbers, and other information necessary to process orders. These individuals voluntarily and knowingly provide this information by registering at our site or in contacts forms. We do not require you to register or provide this information in order to use this site.

The second type of information is generalized and collects information regarding how many consumers visit the site, the pages they access, the information they download, the type of web browser and operating systems use, name of your internet provider, and other like information. This information is automatically collected when you visit our site.

How Is Information Collected

As noted above, from you directly and with your specific input.

Non-personal information is collected by “cookie” or other technological methods available to websites. A cookie collects information by placing information on your hard drive to make your web experience more efficient. Cookies can tell us if you have visited our site before or pages you frequently return to. Temporary “cookies” are deleted when you exit your browser.

How We Use Your Personal Data

If you have registered with us and are a procurement user of the site, you may be contact or emailed by us with special promotions, offers, updates, and product information or news. Your information will not be shared or marketed to any other company.

We do not sell, transfer, or disclose any personal information gathered at our website.

Updates

We may change or update portions of this Privacy Notice at any time and without any prior notice to you. Please check from time to time. The latest notice date is noted at the top page of the notice.
