ANNUAL REPORT 2020

PROTECT EACH OTHER

WASHINGTON IMMIGRANT SOLIDARITY NETWORK
The Washington Immigrant Solidarity Network (WAISN) is the largest immigrant-led coalition in Washington. We are a powerful, volunteer-driven network of immigrant and refugee rights organizations and individuals distributed across the state that strives to protect, serve, and strengthen communities across the state. We work to provide support, capacity, and resources to organizations’ efforts to build power and a united voice statewide.

W A I S N ’ S M I S S I O N is to protect and advance the power of immigrant and refugee communities through a multiracial, multilingual, and multi-faith coalition. Our organizing strategy educates and mobilizes statewide to uphold and defend the rights and dignity of all immigrants and refugees, centering the voices of impacted communities.

H O W W E B U I L D

- The Network subscribes to a collective process led by community partners and guided by nationwide blueprints to build powerful coalitions.
- We have formulated working tables that include community leadership and create a balance to set the strategy and approach to the work and increase advocacy efforts around the region.
- We collaborate with LGBTQ communities, faith communities, youth groups, women’s rights, and many more; all with the intention to address communities holistically through an intersectional approach.

O U R P U R P O S E

- Growing Organizations & Grassroots Capacity Statewide
- Tracking & Responding to Shifts on Immigration Activity
- Leadership Development of Directly Impacted Community
- Organizing Resources & Services to Empower Movement
After the 2016 election, immigrant communities knew they would face an unprecedented threat. This new violent, opaque administration, focused on decimating our communities, forced us to build a new vision, one led by those who were directly impacted.

WAISN was built to fight back. We were built to protect each other. From the beginning, we knew our movement needed to be bound just as tightly as our futures, inevitably, would be. The election brought together leaders from all walks of life: youth, elders, faith leaders, activists, farmworkers, labor unions and business owners found a place in WAISN.

The commitment of funders allowed us to intentionally expand and build alongside the community, hire more people, and invest in community-led efforts. We fought for the passage of groundbreaking legislation such as Keep Washington Working and Courts Open to All Act, built a defense line through Rapid Response and Deportation Defense, as well as coordinated a statewide immigrant health response to COVID-19.

When the pandemic started, WAISN knew our communities would be hit hard. We partnered with funders, regranting over $150,000 to grassroots groups in rural communities, investing in the capacity and growth of immigrant organizations across the state.

This work has led to a strong, united front that won $40 million for direct relief to our undocumented community. The success of the WA Immigrant COVID-19 Relief Fund (WIRF) was the result of the investment in and collaboration with over 90 organizations who conducted vital outreach and application assistance. When WAISN grows, our community grows with us.

COVID-19 isn’t the last crisis our community is going to face. We understand that our collective liberation is not tied to an administration and our work must continue. We ask that you continue to be uncomfortable. We ask that you continue to spread power. We ask that you continue to trust the vision of directly-impacted people. Our futures are bound together, and we are bound to win.

In solidarity,

Monserrat Padilla (She/Her/Ella)

Pivoted Immigration Rapid Response Teams to Mutual Aid and PPE Distribution

WAISN and the network helped bridge resource access to undocumented families who were impacted by COVID-19 by training 29 rapid response teams in 22 counties to provide referrals to emergency food relief, rental assistance support, labor protections, and connecting communities to local resources available in their country.

Established partnership with the Office of Civil Legal Aid to provide free legal referral through the Hotline

In partnership with OCLA, WAISN set a goal to build and manage an intentional legal referral system for the WAISN Hotline that would address the types of issues immigrant and undocumented communities are experiencing as a result of COVID-19 in the three areas:

- Unemployment & Employment
- Individual & Family Legal Issues
- Housing & Eviction Defense

WAISN Legal Partners: CLEAR, Fair Work Center, Housing Justice Project, Northwest Justice Projects, Washington State Labor Council, Clark County Volunteer Lawyer Program, Cowlitz Wahkiakum Legal Aid, Eastside Legal Assistance Program, King County Bar Association, Legal Counsel for Youth and Children, Solid Ground Legal Benefit, Tacoma ProBono, West African Community Council, Washington ProBono Council

My life and the lives of so many of my family, friends, and community has been shaped by migration and I firmly believe that migration and freedom of movement is a natural right for all people and that no one should be punished for exercising that right. I am also firmly against the detention and deportation machine, and all the systems of oppression that it is tangled with, and am dedicated to fighting against these systems and for our community members impacted by them. Paying for bonds to liberate our community members who are detained by ICE and CBP is one step towards ending the detention and deportation machine. In my role as the Fair Fight Bond Fund Coordinator, I am building formal structures to the operations of the bond fund, will engage in fundraising efforts to sustain the fund, and will provide more support to the community members whose immigration bonds are paid for through the bond fund. I am looking forward to working with you to help free our community from detention.

Message from Fair Fight Bond Fund Coordinator
Vanessa Reyes, they/them & she/her

Hello! My name is Vanessa Reyes. I use they/them and she/her pronouns. This past August, I started as the first full-time coordinator for the Fair Fight Bond Fund. I am excited to have joined the staff at WAISN and to be able to work towards liberating our community members from detention. I come to this work as a child of migration and as an abolitionist.

What is the Fair Fight Bond Fund?
The Fair Fight Bond Fund is an initiative of WAISN. We pay bonds for individuals detained in immigration detention in the state of Washington. Our mission is to ensure all those who are granted a bond option can take advantage of it.

Why was the Bond Fund created?
The Fair Fight Bond Fund was created in response to the demands of community members who were engaging in a hunger strike while detained at the Northwest ICE Processing Center (more commonly known as the Northwest Detention Center or NWDC) in Tacoma, Washington.

BOND FUND STEERING COMMITTEE:
- Alycia (she/her)
- Bill (he/him)
- Jose (he/him)
- Orlando (he/him)
- Martin (he/him)
- Saul (he/him)
- Wendy (she/her)

This leadership body consists of folks who have been detained at the NWDC, folks who are engaged in community organizing, and an immigration DOJ accredited representative.
PARTNERSHIP WITH COMMUNITY CREDIT LAB

One major partnership that the FFBF achieved this year was with Community Credit Lab, an organization that facilitates affordable lending programs with individuals and community organizations. Community Credit Lab secured $250,000 loan for the FFBF with $150,000 of that amount in use so far. These funds are able to be used as a revolving loan fund; as that money is returned to the bond fund, it can be reoused for other funds over a 7 year period.

We are incredibly grateful to Community Credit Lab for partnering with WAISN to secure this loan and be able to support the release of more community members. We are also thankful for our individual donors who are able to make our work possible. All contributions go directly to financing bonds.
