Crafted Quality.

All our veneered products are fine sanded and can be supplied polished using spray applied lacquers, giving protection to and complementing the aesthetics of the wood veneer.

Some woods can be further enhanced by staining and our technical staff can advise on the selection of finish best suited to your chosen veneer.

Birmingham veneers specialises in the manufacture of doors and door sets, each item being custom made to meet the individual requirements of partitioning companies, interior designers, shop fitters and building contractors.

Wherever a high quality finish is required, Birmingham Veneers has the skill and expertise to ensure satisfaction. We are major suppliers of custom-made veneer products for conference centres, banks, hotels and pubs, shops and offices, dealing directly with the customer.

Better Value.

We are pleased to supply quotations on request and we believe that you'll be surprised by our prices and lead times.

While traditional skills are still important, we have made considerable investment in modern technology to ensure that our craftsmen have the best tools available to them. The result is crafted quality which meets the functional and aesthetic requirements of the most discerning designer and contractor.

Solid doors are manufactured to the precise size and thickness required.

Our five axis computer numerically controlled (CNC) machining facilities enable us to undertake all machining operations including locks, hinges, apertures and kick plates and drop seals.

Short lead times to facilitate site demands for project completion. 2-3 weeks as standard.
