

NEW HORIZONS IN BRAIN SCIENCE

29th Annual Zarrow Mental Health Symposium
September 20-22, 2023

CALL FOR PRESENTATIONS

CONFERENCE OVERVIEW

OVERVIEW

The 2023 Zarrow Mental Health Symposium: New Horizons in Brain Science will focus on evolutionary research, promising practices, creative collaborations and outside-the-box thinking to address the needs of individuals and families, as well as influence more dynamic and coordinated systems. Our growing understanding of how the brain works, informed by advances in brain imaging and neuroscience and influenced by our evolving knowledge of the interconnection between social determinants, physiology, and resilience, finds us challenging how we classify mental illness and rethinking our approach to treatment. With technology comes new insight along with opportunities to push boundaries and hone in on more individualized care options. How we translate research into practice, the implications, as well as emerging knowledge as a mechanism of hope, will also be explored.

The conference will bring together local, regional and national partners from the fields of mental and public health, addiction, neuroscience, research, education, crisis response, government, law enforcement, criminal justice reform, technology and more to explore best practices, emerging knowledge, innovative programs and collaborations to bring mental health treatment, systems and supports to the forefront. This year marks the 29th annual Zarrow Symposium which historically draws over 800 participants from across the country.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

Attendees represent a broad cross-section of the community ranging from nonprofits, healthcare, education, research, government, law enforcement, faith communities and tribal nations, to mental health professionals including social workers, psychologists, licensed professional counselors, licensed marital and family therapists, licensed alcohol and drug counselors, case managers and peer recovery support specialists, as well as individuals with lived experience, their family members, students and mental health advocates.

CONFERENCE HOST/INFORMATION MENTAL HEALTH ASSOCIATION OKLAHOMA

With offices in Tulsa and Oklahoma City, Mental Health Association Oklahoma is a statewide, nonprofit organization founded in 1955. It is dedicated to promoting mental health, preventing mental disorders and achieving victory over mental illness through advocacy, education, service and housing. The Association has a reputation for bringing stakeholders together to tackle difficult issues, including improving services for people with mental illness, providing housing and recovery supports, ending homelessness and criminal justice reform as it relates to people impacted by mental illness. The Symposium brings together over 800 participants from across the country to explore the latest in mental health care and treatment. This year's conference will focus on the ever-evolving research and science behind mental illness and recovery, along with the emerging knowledge that will allow us to transform systems and improve the quality of care across the lifespan, inclusive of cultural considerations, as well as at-risk and special needs populations.

CONFERENCE FORMAT/LOCATION

The 2023 Zarrow Mental Health Symposium will remain a 100% virtual event and professional development opportunity. Building on our successes and experience gained with the 2020 - 2022 virtual conferences, we are building a robust agenda, with opportunities to learn from nationally recognized speakers, actively engage with presenters and fellow participants and interact with our sponsors and exhibitors. In all, three full days of content will be accessible live, as well as post-event, for a limited time, in our conference archive. This allows attendees to review the presentations and earn additional CEUs. Simply log in from the comfort and safety of your home or office, and download the conference app for additional opportunities to network and interact.

PRESENTATIONS

PRESENTATIONS

Mental Health Association Oklahoma seeks presentation proposals from presenters around the globe interested in sharing information about treatment modalities, programs, research findings, policies and practices that are informed by science and use creative and innovative approaches to mental health. Presentations utilizing technology, innovative collaborations, new treatment and program models, and emerging knowledge and methodologies are encouraged.

Breakout sessions will be 60 or 90 minutes in length with an emphasis on evidence-based, best practice and/or emerging knowledge. Sessions may feature a single presenter, multiple presenters (3 maximum), or a moderated-panel discussion. Presentations will be 45 or 75 minutes in length and will include 15 minutes of questions and answers and a facilitated discussion at the end. Sessions promoting interactive discussion will be given preference.

AREAS OF INTEREST

Mental Health Association Oklahoma is seeking a variety of clinical and programmatic presentation proposals addressing strategies, practices, interventions and resources which aid in the healing process and emphasize advancements in the identification and treatment of mental health and related disorders. Proposal topics include research, emerging knowledge and best practices in mental health related to community and policy initiatives, treatment and prevention, recovery supports and cross sector continuum of care. Presentations relevant to the influence of the pandemic, social unrest, creative collaborations, supportive inclusion and resilience, as well as a focus across the lifespan and on at-risk and marginalized populations will be given special consideration.
