CTCI staff continue to be involved with meaningful collaboration across the state.

Meredith Gramlich, CTCI Senior Faculty Specialist and Way2Work Technical Assistance Specialist, presented to statewide rehabilitation professionals at the Maryland Rehabilitation Association 2019 Conference on "Interagency Collaboration and Way2Work Maryland: A Collaborative Partnership Supporting Careers for Transitioning Youth" on November 7, 2019 at the Sheraton Baltimore North in Towson, Maryland.

She collaborated with Jill Pierce, Way2Work Project Co-Director and MD DORS Transitioning and Supported Employment Specialist and Malorie Marti, MRA President and DORS Transition Counselor to share lessons learned from Way2Work regarding interagency collaboration best practices.

The presentation shared the Way2Work approach to interagency service collaboration to improve employment outcomes, common barriers for partners to effectively collaborate, and lessons learned to improve collaboration among partners leading to improved employment outcomes for students.
