Monitoring & Supporting Field-based Staff - WEBINAR

PRESENTERS:

Jade Ann Gingerich, Meredith Gramlich, Dana Hackey, and Dr. Kelli Krane

SUMMARY:

Transition services, particularly those that feature work-based experiences, often require designated staff to spend the majority of their time in the field. It also requires that staff have the skills and support to properly and effectively deliver necessary services. This webinar shared how Maryland PROMISE trained and monitored field-based staff in order to meet project outcome goals. The presenters highlighted how they used performance data to measure progress and offer strategies on effectively managing staff.
