RUTH’S TABLE SAFETY PROTOCOL
February 22, 2022

RT Visitors Guidelines:

- A proof of vaccination and ID are required to attend public events and workshops.
- Visitors who are not fully vaccinated will only be allowed entry with proof of negative COVID test result taken within one day for rapid antigen tests or two days for PCR tests.
- For general gallery visits, no proof of vaccination is required.
- We ask visitors to self-screen for COVID-related symptoms before visiting Ruth’s Table to help keep our community safe. By entering the building, you acknowledge that you have self-checked for and do not have symptoms.
- If you’re sick or experiencing any flu-like symptoms, please reschedule your visit to RT.
- Masks are required at all times.
- Maintain social distancing and please avoid gathering in groups or lingering in one area.
- No food or drink in the gallery. Enjoy your refreshments at the outside patio.
- Sanitizer dispensers are located next to the front and back entrances, as well as in the restroom.

RT Safety Protocols:

- Increased frequency of cleaning and sanitizing of high-touch areas
- Providing gloves, masks, and sanitizers for visitors, participants, teaching artists
- Maintaining social distancing table/chair set up in class for all programs
- Keeping doors & windows open, and keeping the AC fan
- Checking vaccination records from all participants & instructors for any public programs/workshops.
- Regular reminders to our teaching artists and staff about public health recommendations and current safety protocols
- If a visitor or employee reports a positive COVID status within one day of attending an on-site activity, all those in close contact with that individual will be notified and asked to refrain from returning for five days and follow San Francisco City and County guidelines to test 3-5 days after exposure.
