History of the Diocese of Brisbane

The Diocese of Brisbane is coterminous with Southern Queensland. Its area is 542,000km², and its population is about half of the entire population of the state which is estimated at five million. Anglicans make up 11.3% of the population of Queensland (2021 Census). There are approximately 470 clergy and 300 churches in the Southern Queensland Diocese.

On 14 June, 1859, Dr Edward Wyndham Tufnell was consecrated first Bishop of Brisbane, and arrived here in September 1860, to exercise Episcopal control in the newly formed Colony of Queensland. The Bishop arrived to find the work in the Diocese maintained by the utterly inadequate staff of three clergy. To these must be added the six clergy the Bishop brought with him. When, after 14 years' strenuous pioneer work, the Bishop resigned, he left a staff of 26 clergy and a Diocese equipped and furnished with all the needful machinery for Diocesan administration.

In 1874, when Bishop Tufnell resigned, with the Synod of the Diocese failing to elect a successor or to delegate the power of appointment to the Church at home, the appointment of his successor lapsed to the bishops of Australia and Tasmania, by whom the Rt Rev'd Mathew Blagden Hale, Bishop of Perth, was nominated. Bishop Hale was translated to Brisbane in 1876. During the episcopate of Bishop Hale, which lasted eight years, the Diocese of North Queensland was formed. In the year 1878, the Rev'd George Henry Stanton, then Vicar of St Giles in the Fields, was consecrated Bishop of the new Diocese, and arrived in Queensland in 1879.

In 1884, when Synod was called upon to elect a successor as Bishop in succession to Bishop Hale, the choice was delegated to the Archbishop of Canterbury, which resulted in the consecration of the Rev'd William Thomas Thornhill Webber, on St Barnabas' Day, 1885. The Bishop was enthroned by the Primate in St John's Pro-Cathedral on 17 November 1885. When the Bishop arrived he found 33 clergy working in the Diocese; on his death, in the year 1903, the number had risen to 57. The episcopate of Bishop Webber is well remembered for two great outward achievements – the creation of the Diocese of Rockhampton and the successful launching of the Cathedral project. On SS Philip and James' Day 1889, the Ven Nathaniel Dawes, Archdeacon of Brisbane, was consecrated Coadjutor Bishop of the Diocese, with special oversight over the Northern portion, and when four years later the See of Rockhampton was formed, Dr Dawes was elected its first Bishop.

When, in 1903, the choice of Bishop was delegated to the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Rev'd St Clair George Alfred Donaldson was nominated to the vacant See.

Archbishop Donaldson resigned from 15 November 1921. The Rt Rev'd Gerald Sharp was elected to fill the vacancy by the Archbishop Election Committee, and was enthroned in St John's Cathedral on 16 November 1921. He remained in charge of the Diocese as Archbishop until the day of his death, 30 August 1933.

In November 1933, the Archbishop Election Committee met in Brisbane and elected the Rev'd John William Charles Wand, Dean of Oriel College, Oxford. Archbishop Wand was consecrated in St Paul's Cathedral, London, on Tuesday, 1 May 1934, and on Wednesday, 5 September, was enthroned in St John's Cathedral, Brisbane. He resigned on 31 July 1943, on his appointment as Bishop of Bath and Wells.

On 3 November 1943, having been elected by the Archbishop Election Committee, the Rt Rev'd Reginald Charles Halse, Bishop of Riverina, was enthroned in St John's Cathedral, Brisbane. He remained in charge of the Diocese as Archbishop until the day of his death, 9 August 1962.

On 28 March 1963, having been elected by the Archbishop Election Committee, the Rt Rev'd Philip Nigel Warrington Strong, Bishop of New Guinea, was enthroned in St John's Cathedral, Brisbane. He resigned on 30 June 1970.

On 10 July 1970, the Rev'd Canon Frank William Coaldrake, Chairman of the Australian Board of Missions, was elected to be the Archbishop of Brisbane. Unfortunately, he died suddenly on 22 July 1970 before he could be consecrated or enthroned.

On 17 October 1970, having been elected by the Archbishop Election Committee, the Rt Rev'd Dr Felix Raymond Arnott, Bishop Coadjutor of Melbourne, was enthroned in St John's Cathedral, Brisbane. He resigned on 31 July 1980.

On 15 November 1980, having been elected by the Archbishop Election Committee, the Rt Rev'd John Basil Rowland Grindrod, Bishop of Rockhampton, was enthroned in St John's Cathedral, Brisbane.

His resignation took effect from 4 December 1989.

On 22 March 1990, having been elected by the Archbishop Election Committee, the Rt Rev'd Peter John Hollingworth, Bishop of the Inner City of Melbourne, was enthroned in St John's Cathedral, Brisbane. His resignation became effective from 25 June 2001.

On 2 February 2002, having been elected by the Archbishop Election Committee, the Rt Rev'd Dr Phillip John Aspinall, Assistant Bishop of Adelaide, was installed in St John's Cathedral, Brisbane.

The Most Reverend Dr Phillip Aspinall AC's resignation took effect from 2 February 2023.

On 16 December 2023, having been elected by the Archbishop Election Committee, the Rt Rev'd Jeremy David Greaves KCSJ, Assistant Bishop of Brisbane, was installed in St John's Cathedral, Brisbane.

History of St John's Cathedral

The Cathedral Church of St John the Evangelist is one of the great works of architecture stemming from the Victorian neo-gothic revival of the 19th Century.

The design, by eminent English architect John Loughborough Pearson, is a mixture of French and Early English neo-Gothic style, with many features reminiscent of Norman cathedrals in Caen and Coutances. Pearson had already designed a new cathedral for Truro in Cornwall, where he concentrated principally on English Gothic style, but for this building he planned a polygonal apse at the east end, and a double-aisled nave, providing a processional ambulatory around the central worship space.

The sexpartite ribs of the vault, rising from the major and minor piers of the nave and chancel give a unified sense of space and grace, with elegance of form and proportion. It is understood that this is the most extensive stone vault in the southern hemisphere.

The pillars, which form such a notable feature of the cathedral, are marvellously varied in form and scale – from the solid Romanesque piers of the southern chapels and the graceful columns of the nave and chancel, to the massive piers of the crossing, and the elegant columns in the Lady Chapel.

The outer walls of the cathedral are of pink porphyry from the O'Connell Town quarry in Windsor, four kilometres from Brisbane. The interior stone in varying shades of creamy brown is sandstone from Helidon, near Toowoomba. The external window dressings of the first stage were of stone from the Pymont quarries in Sydney, New South Wales, while those of the later stages are also from the Helidon quarries in Queensland.

The Lady Chapel and the Southern Chapels form delightful intimate spaces for smaller services and private prayer, and their different character is emphasised by the differing treatments – the Lady Chapel (originally intended as a Children's Chapel) is designed with a calculated lightness and grace which makes it at once a place to which children can relate without being over-awed. The children of the Diocese contributed towards the cost of this chapel, placing in the offertory at the Consecration Ceremony, gifts in specially-made silken purses. The Southern Chapels, with the solid Romanesque piers remind one of many a parish church with a side aisle (indeed the reference to the previous St John's in George Street, may be deliberate).

The High Altar is somewhat Byzantine in style with contrasting coloured marbles, and inlaid glass mosaics. The central panel of the front is made of quartz and agate. The rounded pillars are green Cornish marble, and the altar is inlaid with alabaster, and green quartz in the side panels. The mensa (table top) is made of three slabs of grey-green marble from Iona (the traditional birthplace of British Christianity). The altar is a memorial to Bishop Webber, whose inspiration led to the building of the cathedral. His body rests beneath the altar, having been translated from the Toowong cemetery in 1910.

Pearson's original design included an impressive baldachino (canopy) supported by four columns above the High Altar (similar to that he had designed for Peterborough Cathedral). The floor has been specially strengthened to carry the additional weight.

The pulpit, carved from Cornish soapstone, was imported from England and features a carved panel depicting Christ teaching the people.

The font of grey black marble rests on columns of Frosterley marble, in which can be seen interesting fossils.

The carved choir stalls in the chancel were designed by Frank Pearson (John Pearson's son), and the initial sections were carved in Burmese teak, by Luscombes of Exeter. The carving of the remainder of the stalls was continued by Colin Blumson, one of Australia's first Churchill fellows, and completed in 1992.

The canopies on the north side of the choir contain representations of British saints, Alban, Patrick, Ninian and David, together with patron saints associated with diocesan schools. On the south side, are represented King George V and Queen Mary, together with founding Bishops of Australia and the province of Queensland.

The pipe organ, built by Messrs Norman and Beard in 1910, was rebuilt and enlarged in 1969-72 by Messrs Hill, Norman and Beard. The carved organ case of the north transept, designed by Frank Pearson, was donated by Herbert Jones in commemoration of the centenary of the City of Brisbane 1824-1924. At the time of the rebuild in 1972, carved wooden screens were provided for the swell organ facing into the chancel – these latter being designed by Arnold Conrad and executed by Colin Blumson, featuring a pair of ringtail possums in the middle of the screen.

The stained glass ranges from imported English glass of the early 20th Century (such as the great Wheel Window of the north transept, designed by Frank Pearson and executed by Burlisson and Grylls), through Australian designs by William Bustard to the more recent modern glass of the clerestory and nave by David Saunders and Glenn Mack, stained glass artists with a deep sense of spiritual vocation.

The completed cathedral is 79.2m long. The width of the nave is 10.6m, the outer aisles 9.6m, and the transepts 8m. The height of the ceiling vault is 18.2m.

Construction history

The first Church of St John (1843-1854) stood on the corner of what is now Queen Street and North Quay. St John's Church was then moved to a new site between William, George and Elizabeth Streets and the old building was used for a while as a school and also as the Brisbane Volunteer Fire Station. This Church was built in 1850-54 to a design by ET Blacket.

There were three stages to the building of the second St John, the first beginning with the laying of the foundation stone when a portion of the William Street nave was built; the second, when this was extended by the length of two bays, and the third when a duplicate nave with chancel were added. The church was dedicated to St John the Evangelist by Bishop Tyrrell on 29 October 1854. St John's remained the parish church of Brisbane until it became the pro-cathedral of the Diocese of Brisbane. The enthronement of Bishop Tufnell on 4 September 1860 gave a new status to the little St John's Church as pro-cathedral for the Diocese of Brisbane.

In 1876, a peal of eight bells was installed in a wooden tower at the original site of St John's Church in William Street. However, they were housed in a timber belfry which only allowed them to be chimed not rung. This remained the case when the bells were transferred to the present cathedral site in 1906 and housed in a temporary timber bell tower.

In 1879-1880, the school was built. The last service in the second St John's was held on 7 August 1904. In that same year, St Luke's Church in Charlotte Street was opened and dedicated to serve as the pro-cathedral until the new cathedral was built.

The new cathedral was designed by John Loughborough Pearson for his friend William Webber who had been appointed third Bishop of Brisbane in 1885. Bishop Webber promoted the idea of replacing the old church with a cathedral, and he and John Pearson discussed plans for the cathedral in 1886. In September of that year, at his inaugural address to the Diocese, the Bishop reported that the Diocesan Council had agreed to invite Pearson to prepare the design. He commented: "Thus our citizens will see that we aim at giving to Brisbane nothing less than the best which highest modern art can produce."

Pearson's plans were approved in April 1889, although there were no resources in hand to attempt the commencement of such a grand project in the fledgling colony. The pro-cathedral site in William Street was clearly inadequate, and in 1899 an alternative site between Adelaide and Ann Streets at the northern entrance to the city was purchased, and a site plan was produced in 1900.

Construction work on St John's Cathedral commenced with the laying of the Foundation Stone on 22 May 1901 by the Duke of Cornwall and York (later King George V), on his way home from the opening of the first Federal Australian Parliament in Melbourne. It is located on the north side of the sanctuary, beside the altar rail, and can be seen from the ambulatory.

In 1904, the old St John's in Queen's Park was demolished and much of the material was used in the construction of the St John's Day School (now known as Webber House).

The building of the cathedral commenced on 22 April 1906. The first stage of the cathedral was built between 1906 and 1910 and consecrated on the Feasts of Saints Simon and Jude – 28 October 1910; it comprised the polygonal end (the east end), sanctuary and chancel, the side chapels, transepts and first bay of the nave. The organ, the pulpit and the rose window were in position in time for the Consecration of the Cathedral.

By the time the building commenced in 1906, both the architect John Pearson and the motivating Bishop Webber had died, and the design development had passed to Pearson's architect son Frank Loughborough Pearson. He was never able to visit the site. The contractor for the first stage of building was Peter Rodger of Ballarat, Victoria.

Care has been taken to remain faithful to Pearson's concept and designs. The original plan envisaged a cathedral which would cost some £100,000 (and at that time the colony numbered some 100,000 inhabitants). It was a very grandiose scheme for its time. The first stage of the building (about one third of its bulk) was commenced in 1906 and completed in 1910, at a cost of some £37,000.

The clergy stalls were installed in June 1913. The sounding board over the pulpit was not installed until September 1916.

In 1944, it was resolved to make the completion of St John's Cathedral the Diocesan War Memorial. On 24 October 1946, an appeal was launched. On 15 July 1947, Field Marshall Viscount Montgomery of Alamein laid the corner stone (known as the Stone of Remembrance) of the extensions.

On Sunday 21 August 1955, the first sod was turned by His Excellency the Governor-General of Australia (Sir William Slim).

A start-of-building service was celebrated on 21 November 1965 and work resumed. On 27 May 1968, HRH Prince Philip unveiled a stone in the new portion commemorating the completion of the masonry. The two bay extensions (1964-68) were completed and consecrated on Friday 22 November 1968. On the advice of structural engineers, added strength was given to the structure by incorporating within the piers a core of steel.

In 1988, two bells were added to the peal as a Bicentennial gift from the Friends of the Cathedral and the Cathedral Gift Shop, and the 10 bells were transferred to a steel frame intended to be the skeleton of the north west tower. Here they could be rung full circle, but only with a fair degree of difficulty because of excessive movement in the tower. In 2004, they were rehung in their final resting place above the nave crossing as Pearson intended, where they can be rung in full circle without compromise.

The final stage of construction to complete the cathedral commenced in 1989. Peter Dare of Exeter was appointed the master mason in the same year. After a time he also took over the role of construction manager, and has overseen the completion of the nave and the west end of the cathedral.

Work took place on the south-west porch between June 1989 and 1990, and continued with construction of the fourth bay of the nave and the western front. The western front was opened in December 2006. Work then commenced on the construction of the western towers.

In 2000, the first stained glass window was installed in the west end; this commemorated Australian-United States of America comradeship during World War II; it was executed by Glenn Mack of Victoria.

In early 2000, a public competition was held for the design of the major window in the west front, known as the Millennium window. The design submitted by Scott Maxwell on the theme of "creation" was accepted by the Cathedral Chapter and executed by Warwick Blair of Brisbane.

In mid-2000, work on the cathedral, which had been previously supervised by Conrad & Gargett Pty Ltd, was transferred to architect Michael Kennedy because of his expertise in conservation architecture. The Cathedral Chapter at the same time established its own CAD drawing office and appointed an architectural draftsman to facilitate issues of drawing and cutting profiles for the computer-directed wire saw used to produce stone for the building. John Phillips, RIBA, of London acted as a consultant architect to the project until his death in 2006.

In late 2006, Peter Dare returned to England. He remained a consultant to the project, but the role of construction manager has passed to Terry McCallum. Cliff Lawrence was the foreman mason in charge of stone work.

The western spires were raised on the 1 March 2008, and the central spire on the 11 November 2008, complete with the installation of the last two bells. Both days received wide, national media coverage and were an historic achievement. This marked the end of the construction of the cathedral. The cost of the final stage of cathedral construction was $39.2m.

The West Windows were installed in March 2009 (a public competition for the design was held and was won by Mr Glenn Mack). The exciting design centers on the theme of the 'I am' saying from St John's Gospel, and includes symbolism which captures the desire to enter into dialogue with other faiths and the world of science. The Catholic Archdiocese (who celebrated 150 years of the Catholic Archdiocese in Brisbane in 2009) donated a pair of windows as their gift to us on the sesquicentenary of the Anglican Diocese of Brisbane. We also have a window commemorating the 150th anniversary of the Anglican Diocese of Brisbane as well as the State of Queensland.

The cathedral was consecrated by the Most Rev'd Dr Phillip Aspinall on 29 October 2009, in an extremely moving and powerful liturgy. Music was provided by the cathedral choir, the Camerata of St John's and the Brisbane Chamber Choir. The service was attended by over 50 bishops, former Archbishops, Deans of the cathedral, ecumenical friends and political figures. The preacher was the Very Rev'd David Richardson (Archbishop of Canterbury's Representative to the Holy See and Director of the Anglican Centre in Rome). The service incorporated a welcome by the traditional owners, a didgeridoo player and dancing the Gospel by representatives of the Torres Strait Islander group. A DVD of the service was made and distributed at the end of the year.

It was fitting that we were able to consecrate the cathedral in the sesquicentenary year of both the State of Queensland and the Anglican Diocese of Brisbane.

Plans to develop the northern precinct in sympathy with Pearson's vision continued during 2009. Permission was sought from Brisbane City Council to refurbish St Martin's, Webber and Church Houses for office accommodation; build the three-story annexe behind Webber House and construct the car park.

Cathedral coin collection

In 2010, a donor, who wishes to remain anonymous, donated an extensive collection of ancient coins to St John's Cathedral. Some coins in the collection date back to the time of Christ. Jack Barnes made a secure showcase for the coins that are on public display near the southern chapels. The core collection is supplemented by the temporary addition of coins and other items of interest that refer to a specific event.

Northern precinct development

Plans for the construction of an extension to Webber House firmed as 2011 progressed. Groundbreaking ceremonies were conducted by the Dean for the cathedral congregations on 24 July, and by the Archbishop for staff on 7 September. Hutchinson Builders commenced work on Monday 28 November. Work was completed in 2012, allowing for many of the diocesan services to be co-located in the cathedral grounds and allowing for the centralising of functions for the diocese and the cathedral.

After consideration, Chapter named the site St John's Cathedral Precinct. Chapter wished to create a welcoming environment not only for staff, but also for all visitors to the cathedral and precinct. Both Webber House and the annexe are collectively known as Webber House.

A blessing of Webber House and the commissioning of the people of St John's Cathedral Precinct was conducted by the Archbishop on 4 October 2012.

Refurbishment of St Martin's House commenced in early November 2012, and was completed during 2013 by Hutchinson Builders. During the work, extensive termite damage was identified and treated. There will be ongoing work in order to avoid future infestations. The public toilet block was also refurbished.

Stage two, the development of the cloisters and the construction of a car park remains on the table and will only proceed at a time when sufficient funds are available. Parking on site is increasingly problematic and visitors are encouraged to take public transport.

During 2022, Chapter successfully applied for an extension to the DA which now expires on 3 June 2030. A Visioning Day was held in 2022 with the cathedral community, diocesan property officers and any interested people to see what the space may look like in future. A working party was established and is progressing investigation of stage two.

Church House refurbishment

In August 2016, refurbishment work on Church House commenced, and was completed in December 2016. NPS Commercial was the contractor. Church House is now back to its original state. The building has been totally rewired, painted, recarpeted, reglazed and new air conditioning installed. The main entrance is now at the southern face of the building and allows for disabled access.

During 2017, the diocesan archives moved into the ground floor of Church House and the Anglican Schools Office moved into the upper floor.

Tapestry cushions from the Lady Chapel

The collection of 400 cushions was cleaned and restored in 2015, and catalogued in 2016. The cushions are currently displayed in the glass cabinet in the northern transept. A new lighting system was installed in the display cabinet to highlight the cushions. The display changes monthly.

Refurbishment of Blessed Sacrament Chapel

In 2015, Jack Barnes was commissioned to craft a new tabernacle for the Blessed Sacrament Chapel and to restore the altar. The tabernacle is now in place and enhances this space. In 2017, Jack Barnes developed a proposal to further enhance the altar and commenced work in 2018.

Chapter was delighted that the new altar piece was completed and installed in time for the Tenth Anniversary of Completion Celebrations in October 2019.

West end statues

The first three statues were installed in their niches at the west end of the cathedral on 28 January 2015. The Christ: Holy Wisdom; John the Baptist; and Mary Magdalene were the first of the series of 13 statues to be lifted into place. Funds to complete all the statues were received in 2018.

Mary, Mother of Jesus and Joseph of Nazareth; Lazarus of Bethany, Mary of Bethany and Martha of Bethany; and James and John the Evangelist were dedicated on 6 May 2016.

On 29 November 2017, Matthias & Judas Iscariot; Peter & Paul; Luke & Matthew and Thomas & Mark were blessed by the Archbishop.

On 12 April 2019, James the Just & Bartholomew; Jude & Simon and Phillip & Andrew were raised into place, which completed the statue set.

Our thanks to Dr Rhyl Hinwood AM for her carving of these statues.

Oratory floor and votive candle stand

The designs for the oratory (the space left vacant when the font was moved to the west end) floor and for the associated furniture have now been finalised. The project will be funded through a bequest from Dianna and Elizabeth Luker. Jack Barnes was commissioned to construct the mosaic floor and work commenced in early 2020.

The mosaic, containing 48 different types of Australian hardwood, was installed in February 2022. The wood is very hard in order to mitigate any potential damage from foot traffic. The space is intended to be used, and people are free to walk on the mosaic.

A proposed design, along with a faculty request, for a votive candle stand for the space was submitted to the Archbishop's Advisory Committee on Buildings and Furnishings in late 2022.

Pascal candle

Chapter received a faculty for the installation of an oil-burning candle to replace the usual wax candle. The new candle was first used in 2022 and is a welcome addition to the fabric of the cathedral.

Adelaide House balcony

The east balcony on Adelaide House (The Deanery) had become unsafe due to deterioration over many decades; and was fully replaced during 2019. This balcony is an important part of Queensland's history. From here in 1859, Governor Bowen made the proclamation of Queensland as a separate colony from New South Wales.

Red bench – domestic/family violence

A red bench, in keeping with the Red Rose Foundation design, was purchased to raise awareness of domestic violence and provide an opportunity for this important issue to remain visible. It was securely installed on the front lawn on the northern side of the cathedral in 2022.

South-east porch repairs

Repairs to the porch's stonework was carried out in 2022 to overcome water egress and damage to the stone. This work was partially funded by the National Trust and partly by a bequest.

Telecommunications trench northern car park

This trench was installed in 2022 to ensure that the current precinct video, audio and security needs are met, as well as future needs. A second conduit was installed later in the year. The project was fully funded under Chapter's National Trust reserves.

Services for Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II

Platinum Jubilee celebrations

The Platinum Jubilee, honouring the 70th anniversary of Queen Elizabeth's accession to the throne, was celebrated on Sunday 6 February 2022 at Evensong. It was a low-key occasion, in keeping with the Queen's own practice, as it is also the anniversary of her father's death.

In addition, two very successful Platinum Jubilee concerts were held on 6 August 2022. The choir of St Andrew's, Sydney, joined the St John's Cathedral choirs – along with John Coulton Brass and Andrej Kouznetsov – to perform music by Bax, Weir, Broadstock, Voltz and others.

Solemn Evensong on the death of Queen Elizabeth II

Following the death of the Queen, a Solemn Choral Evensong to commemorate the life, work and witness of Her Majesty Elizabeth II, Queen of Australia, was held in the Cathedral on 9 September 2022. This was well attended and gave the public an opportunity to remember a much-loved Queen.

Service of thanksgiving for the life and work of Her Majesty Elizabeth II, Queen of Australia

This service was held on 20 September 2022. It was also well attended, with guests including dignitaries such as the Governor, heads of churches, inter-faith friends, the Judiciary and former Governors. There were over 3,000 views on the cathedral's YouTube Channel; the equivalent to filling the cathedral three times.

Celebrating 30 years of the ordination of women

A Thanksgiving Eucharist was held on 18 November 2022 to celebrate 30 years of women's ordination to the Priesthood in the Anglican Church of Australia. This was a very joyous occasion.

St Martin's House Centenary celebrations

On the 28 November 2022, celebrations began with a Thanksgiving Service in the courtyard garden at 10am, acknowledging the former hospital's service to the community, and that diocesan and cathedral offices are now based in St Martin's House. This was followed by a gathering in the cathedral with photographic and audio-visual displays, and a conversation corner, giving the opportunity for past nurses and others to share stories of the 100-year history of the building.

A time capsule laid behind the foundation stone could not be located as technicians were unable to remove the thick stone without damaging the heritage building.

Ordinations 2022 and the Archbishop laying up his pastoral staff

The Ordinations on 3 December 2022 concluded with the Archbishop – The Most Rev'd Dr Phillip Aspinall AC – laying up his pastoral staff. It was the Archbishop's wish that the focus be on the Ordinands, not on him. Heads of churches and our inter-faith friends attended to wish the Archbishop well.

Live streaming of services

Between 2020 and 2022, Covid-19 and lockdowns meant having to change the way worship was done at the cathedral. It was decided to purchase video equipment to allow the live streaming of the three Sunday services so that parishioners could still partake in the service from their homes. As Covid eased during 2023, and life returned to normal, there was still a strong demand for the streaming of services, so this has become a permanent and valued part of cathedral life.

Webber House – Anglicare and new tenant

Anglicare SQ vacated Webber House in September 2023 and moved to offices in Fortitude Valley. At the end of 2023, Chapter was investigating leasing Webber House and the Annexe in the hopes of securing a tenant in early 2024.

Webber House refurbishment work – roof and air-conditioning

NPS Commercial was engaged to undertake the roof replacement and air conditioning installation work. The work commenced in September 2023 and, weather permitting, is due to be completed by 1 March 2024.

Roof

Chapter determined that the slate tiled roof and wooden supports needed replacement as the lifespan of the tiles is 100 years, and the roof is older than this. The cathedral fabric committee worked with the builders, who are familiar with the building, to produce a program of work.

The slates for the roof were imported from Wales and arrived in June 2023, installation commenced in September 2023. All roof battens and sarking was replaced and new galvanised ridge capping installed along with stainless steel box guttering and downpipes.

Work is being carried out in accordance with heritage requirements.

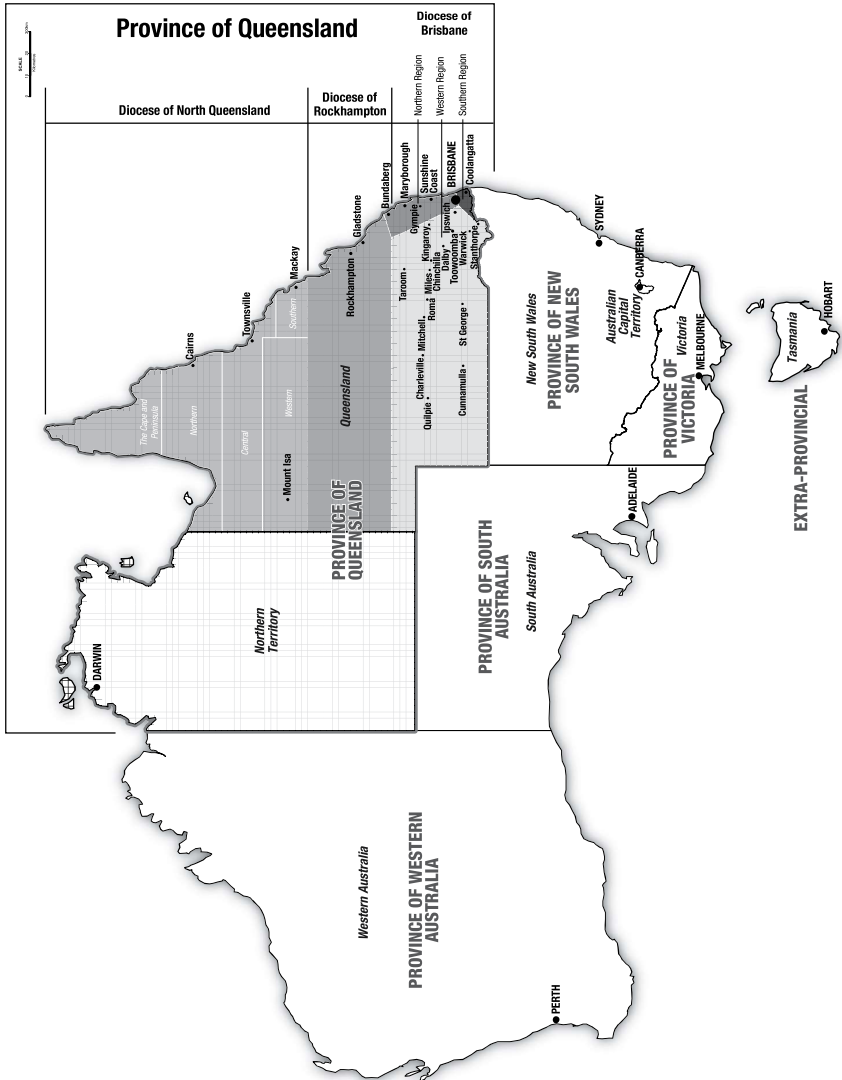

Air conditioning

Work to replace the air conditioning system commenced in late 2023, as the previous system was unreliable and it was difficult to get replacement parts. It will be replaced with a more reliable Daiken system, with a lower carbon imprint and energy consumption. The system allows for spaces to be isolated, and insulating the roof and walls will be investigated.

Installation of the Right Reverend Jeremy Greaves as Archbishop of Brisbane and Metropolitan of the Province of Queensland

Archbishop Jeremy's installation was held on 16 December 2023 in the cathedral, and was a joyous celebration. Clergy and lay from all over Australia joined in prayer for Jeremy's ministry and to wish him and his family well.

Role of Regional Bishops, Archdeacons & Area Deans

Gifts are given ... to equip the saints, for the work of ministry, for building up the Body of Christ.

Ephesians 4.12

The role descriptions below outline some of the expectations of Area Deans, Archdeacons and Regional Bishops. These expectations are not exhaustive, and each person is able to shape further the role they hold.

Area Deans, Archdeacons and Regional Bishops work with the Archbishop in encouraging, serving and building up the People of God. They extend pastoral care to the clergy of the diocese and work with all to realise our vision of 'Going for Growth in Christ'.

The Role of Area Deans

Area Deans draw the clergy and laity in the deanery together for mutual consultation, support and action to encourage effective ministry in the Church and in the wider community.

In particular, Area Deans:

- convene meetings of clergy in the Area Deanery for peer support, mutual encouragement and further education. Area Deaneries should meet at least four times a year.
- offer counsel and pastoral support to all clergy in the Area Deanery and foster fellowship for them and their families, taking care to include retired clergy, chaplains, locums, clergy widows, etc.
- oversee arrangements for commissioning services of new parish priests and chaplains in collaboration with parish lay leaders and submit the draft order of service for the Regional Bishop's approval in good time.

Area Deans are usually priests of busy parishes, so expectations of the time they have available need to be realistic.

The Role of Archdeacons

Archdeacons work with their Regional Bishop to support the Area Deans, clergy, parishes and other ministry agencies to enable the diocesan vision of 'Going for Growth in Christ' to be fulfilled.

Archdeaconries are usually defined geographically, although from time to time the Archbishop might create an Archdeacon with a particular ministry portfolio.

In particular, Archdeacons:

- are part of the ordained leadership team in the diocese and within the region. The Archdeacon is a channel of communication between diocesan officials, the Regional Bishop, Area Deans and clergy.
- are responsible for the Parish Review, at least every five years as prescribed by the relevant regulation, or when a parish becomes vacant.
- inspect church property, including rectories (by negotiation with the Parish Priest) every five years, and consult with Church Wardens about required repairs and refurbishments.
- consult with parishes about plans for new buildings or alterations to existing buildings, and indicate agreement or otherwise report on the prescribed form seeking building approval.
- receive from clergy, on the prescribed form, notification regarding leave or other absences and arrangements for the continuance of pastoral and liturgical ministries; and convey such arrangements to their Regional Bishop.
- welcome locum clergy during a parish interregnum and keep in touch with them during the length of their locum.
- consult with the Regional Bishop in finding pathways for the resolution of any parish conflict.
- work with the Regional Bishop and others in the development of strategies for church growth in the Archdeaconry, and in the implementation of good management procedures in parishes and other ministry agencies, such as record keeping, accounts, policies, etc.
- participate in the Archbishop's regular meeting with the Bishops, Archdeacons and Dean of the cathedral.

Archdeacons are also usually priests of busy parishes, so (as with Area Deans) expectations of the time they have available need to be realistic. Recognising the additional workload and responsibilities of Archdeacons, an annual allowance equal to 10% of the Minimum Rate of Stipend (MRS) will be paid by the diocese to the Archdeacon at the end of the year, (or for those who have not served a full year in the role a pro rata amount).

Provision is also made for a contribution to an Archdeacon's parish for expenses incurred by the parish because of the Archdeacon's ministry. Payments will be made annually to the parish as follows:

Archdeaconry	Percentage of MRS
West	8%
Cunningham, The Downs, Sunshine Coast, Burnett	6%
Brisbane, Lilley, Oxley, Moreton, Gold Coast	4%

The Role of Regional Bishops

The Regional Bishops form, with the Archbishop, an episcopal team serving the Diocese. Assistant Bishops undertake functions or roles requested or authorised by the Archbishop. This might include serving on one or more commissions from time to time.

Except for the responsibilities of decision and appointment that are specifically the Archbishop's, they carry out the role of a Bishop to the clergy and people in the episcopal region they serve. This is often a pastoral responsibility and will involve them closely in consultation with the clergy and people of the parishes. As "shepherds of the shepherds" they seek to encourage the development of ministry and the witness of clergy and laity in their region. They teach and defend the faith, encourage all Christians and foster hope for the future as we 'Go for Growth in Christ'.

The Bishops realise it is fundamental that they pray and plan together. For this purpose they meet together with the Archbishop each week.

Other roles and responsibilities of the Regional Bishops include:

- visiting parishes and other mission agencies regularly and spending time with clergy and people, for it is in the parishes and other mission agencies that the fundamental and continuing life and witness of the Church takes place.
- chairing, at the Archbishop's request, meetings of the Presentation Board.
- regular consultation with the region's Archdeacons and Area Deans, especially in relation to new appointments, strategies that might grow the church in faith, service, generosity and numbers, and to pastoral care especially of the clergy.

- keeping in touch with clergy who have recently accepted an appointment to a parish within the region and particularly with clergy in their first charge.
- responsibility for ecumenical relationships at the regional level, and the exploration, where appropriate, of possible co-operative ventures.
- responsibility for the making of locum tenens arrangements in the case of vacancies.
- being available to clergy and laity who seek an appointment and attentive to their needs and issues.

Therefore ... let us run with perseverance the race that is before us, looking to Jesus the pioneer and perfecter of our faith.

Compassion for refugees and people seeking asylum

The Rev'd Nicholas Whereat moved, The Very Rev'd Dr Peter Catt seconding:

That this Synod:

1. Commends the Federal Government for:
 - a) providing pathways to a permanent Resolution of Status (RoS) Visa for 19,000 refugees on a Temporary Protection Visa and Safe Haven Enterprise Visa, once their need for refugee protection is determined; and
 - b) implementing promptly this policy, announced in February 2023, already enabling refugees who have been contributing to Australian society for more than a decade to feel finally that this country is their home
2. In light of the 4th Anglican Mark of Mission, to seek to transform unjust structures of society, to challenge violence of every kind and to pursue peace and reconciliation, calls on the Federal Government to:
 - a) extend this provision to approximately 10,000 refugees and people seeking asylum rejected under the previous Federal Government's "Fast Track" process which

- include people from countries where the risk of persecution has become more acute in recent years, particularly Afghanistan, Myanmar and Iran;
- b) allow family reunification through the Split Family Provisions and Global Special Humanitarian Program of the Refugee and Humanitarian Visa Program, for family members of those on a permanent RoS Visa
 - c) provide a safety net for people seeking asylum by restoring basic social support which was cut by nearly 95% between 2016-2022, and ensure people have the right to work and study.
3. Expresses concern that offshore processing is budgeted to cost $1.5 billion over the forward estimates to 2026-27, despite only approximately 30 people remaining on Nauru and the Government’s commitment to resettle all people to third countries, and calls for their evacuation as soon as is practicable.

requests the Diocesan Council to research rising property risks, along with our property profiles (in particular our heritage buildings); to generate a range of potential options, central funds and strategies going forward for our Diocese to more sustainably address this insurance crisis and that a full response to this proposal be provided to the next meeting of Synod in 2024.

1. explore the theological bases for peacemaking;
2. make recommendations on how to lead and facilitate public discourse about what peacemaking means and how it is practiced, including consideration of the complexity of war and conflict; the impact of deaths, trauma, and physical and moral injuries on the community at large; the role and care of serving and former members of defence services; and the essential spiritual care provided by defence force chaplains;
3. make recommendations on how to disagree well, how to build peace at all times, and be willing to lead true reconciliation with an enemy (Luke 6.27);
4. produce by Synod 2024, a practical study guide to engage Diocesan parishes, agencies and schools, exploring peacemaking and working actively for peace; and
5. report back to Synod and Archbishop-in-Council on the progress of the Church’s position on active peacemaking and non-violent resistance in our Church’s response to the noise of war and violence annually.

Carried

Policy review

The Rev’d Dr Margaret Wesley moved, The Rev’d Dr Ann Edwards seconding:

That this Synod:

1. expresses appreciation for the work of the Diocesan staff and leadership team in creating, disseminating, and maintaining policies to help parishes remain safe, healthy, and compliant with legislation;
2. acknowledges that parishes sometimes need policy support but find such support unavailable or inaccessible, with the result that clergy and Parish Councils must develop their own policies and procedures;
3. acknowledges that ad hoc policy development can result in:
 - a) different standards being applied to policies and practices across the Diocese,
 - b) time wasted in redundancy when parishes are not aware of policy work done in other places, or time wasted when a diocesan policy does exist but cannot be found,
 - c) an unnecessarily heavy load of legal responsibility being carried by parishes and clergy;
4. therefore, requests that the General Manager and Diocesan Council undertake a review process to ensure that parishes have the capacity to access policy support in a timely fashion, with such a review being informed by a survey of parish leadership (paragraph 5);
5. recommends that Diocesan Council establishes a small task force comprising of clergy and lay leaders to create a survey to hear from parishes about:
 - a) What clergy and lay leaders perceive to be the strengths and weaknesses of current diocesan policy infrastructure,
 - b) Suggestions for improvement,
 - c) Examples of situations where parishes have needed policy support that has not been forthcoming, and
 - d) Any policies parishes have developed in-house that could be shared across the Diocese;
6. requests that this task force report findings to Diocesan Council and to 2024 Synod.

Carried

Settlement support package

Kim Kimber moved, Peta Tierney seconding:

That this Synod requests Diocesan Council to appoint a Working Group (in consultation with the FDSC) to be tasked with the exploration of how best to recruit, select and onboard clergy sourced internationally. Support also needs to be extended to the family of the clergy person.

Carried

Review process for the discernment of Clergy

Kim Kimber moved, Peta Tierney seconding:

That the Diocesan Council be requested to undertake a review of the process for the discernment of clergy for parishes including the role of the presentation board and parish nominators and report during the life of the next Synod.

Carried

The crisis of homelessness

The Ven Bronwyn Pagram moved, The Very Rev'd Dr Peter Catt seconding:

In Matthew 25, Jesus calls his followers to share hospitality particularly with those who are most vulnerable. This motion is focused on the homelessness crisis in this country and in our Diocese. That this Synod:

1. commends those Parishes, Schools, Anglicare, and other diocesan agencies actively contributing to human flourishing by advocating for affordable housing, providing affordable housing or homelessness services, and caring for people experiencing homelessness in various contexts; and
2. recognises that there is a homelessness and housing crisis across the nation, particularly in Queensland where homelessness has increased by 22%, almost three times the national increase, in the last twelve months and that it is a complex issue which requires collaboration across government, community, faith, and corporate sectors to address; and
3. notes that the Queensland Government undertook to deliver a range of social and affordable housing programs and encourages the Government to complete current undertakings promptly; and
4. requests the Social Responsibility Committee through Diocesan Council to engage across the Diocese in a collaborative process to evaluate what resources this Diocese may be in a position to offer towards further tangible alleviation of homelessness – directly or in partnership with other stakeholders; and
5. requests the SRC to report findings to Synod in 2024.

Carried

Uganda

The Very Rev'd Dr Peter Catt moved, The Rev'd Deborah Bird seconding:

That this Synod:

1. Noting that:
 - a) the Anglican Church in Uganda actively supported the passing of the Homosexuality Act which legislates for penalties that include life imprisonment and death¹;
 - b) the Archbishop of Canterbury, in a statement issued on 9th June 2023²:
 - i. reaffirmed the Anglican Communion's Commitment to honouring the dignity of every human,
 - ii. stated that the criminalisation of homosexuality is not consistent with honouring that dignity,

- iii. called on the Anglican Church in Uganda ‘to reconsider their support for [the] legislation and reject the criminalisation of LGBTQ people’;
 - iv. called on ‘the leadership of GAFCON and Global South Fellowship of Anglican Churches (GSFA), to make explicitly and publicly clear that the criminalisation of LGBTQ people is something that no Anglican province can support’;
 - c) in 2022 The General Synod of the Anglican Church of Australia issued an apology to LGBTQIA+ people for past treatment of them, and
 - d) this Synod, at its session in 2022, initiated a process to prepare its own apology to LGBTQIA+ people;
2. affirms and echoes The Archbishop of Canterbury’s Statement of 9th June 2023 and the calls to the church in Uganda, GAFCON and GSFA it contains;
 3. calls on the Primate of The Anglican Church of Australia, The Bishops of the Anglican Church of Australia, and Diocesan Synods to publicly affirm their support for the Archbishop of Canterbury and to publicly affirm and echo his statement of 9th June 2023;
 4. requests the Bishop Administrator to convey the text of this motion to the Primate of The Anglican Church of Australia, The Bishops of the Anglican Church of Australia, and Diocesan Registrars.
