THE GLOBAL JOB TASK ANALYSIS SURVEY

We are looking for volunteers!

IFLA in conjunction with CLARB, is developing the Global Job Task Analysis Survey, an international survey to be administered to Landscape Architects around the world.

The project intends to develop an understanding of the practice of landscape architecture worldwide and its vital impact to the health, safety and well-being of the world's people, places, and environment.

SEND YOUR APPLICATION TO

Are you a practicing Landscape Architect?

We are looking for you to help us understand the practice globally, regionally and by country.

Geographical representation in both the development of and the completion of the survey is vital to the success of this groundbreaking research.

The task force will be integrated by two members from each IFLA Region.

If interested, fill in the form and send it to chair.cer@iflaworld.org with CC to admin@iflaworld.org
