We are blessed to have a home filled with everything we need, but if you would like to give us a gift we would be grateful for a small donation to our honeymoon

Although it is your presence and not your presents that we really want, if you would like to still give a wedding gift, we would be most grateful for a contribution towards our

To celebrate our wedding we're going on a honeymoon which will give us memories we will treasure forever. If you'd like to buy a gift, we'd be grateful for a small contribution to this once-in-a-lifetime trip.

Children

We are very sorry, but due to restrictions at our venue, we cannot accommodate children. Only children of close family members and those travelling from overseas can be accommodated.

In order to allow all guests, including parents, an evening of relaxation we have chosen for our wedding day to be an adult-only occasion. We hope this advance notice means you are still able to share our big day and will enjoy having the evening off!

We would love to give all our guests the opportunity to let their hair down and have a good time without having to worry about little eyes and ears so we politely request no children.

RSVP Date

Remember to give yourself plenty of time to collate your RSVP's and send out any second wave invitations ahead of your wedding. 8 weeks should give you enough time to confirm numbers for your venue, caterers and any transport you have booked.
