This is a time of change for Kulu Mele, and for all of us.

Kulu Mele Launches Online Dance Classes!

Dear Community,

Last week, we announced big changes. We are reimagining Kulu Mele to ensure we last another 50 years. As the pandemic continues, and we all are forced to cope with this new "normal," Kulu Mele would like to provide an outlet for everyone, adults and children. We are moving into the future and inviting people to be part of it. It is essential that we stay connected and support each other.

This week we are going online with virtual zoom classes: Afro-Cuban dance class for all ages, and West African dance class for children. For the month of May, these classes are free of charge. I believe this experience is a recipe for lifting spirits! These classes are history, culture, dance, music and exercise all in one. This combination of activities supports physical and mental health and allows us to create a beautiful virtual environment. Although these classes are freely given, we encourage donations and hope people will support our KM+50 campaign for the future.

More class information is on our website at www.kulumele.org. See you in class!

Meanwhile, check out this short video of KM Love.

Very sincerely yours,

Fasina Wilkie
