State Senators are limited to two four-year terms. Partial terms (elected or appointed) that last for more than one half of a term are considered one term for the purpose of term limits. (Michigan Constitution Article IV, Section 54)

Governor Snyder chose to conduct the State Senate District 2 special election simultaneously with the regular election.
Article IV of Michigan’s State Constitution outlines the roles and responsibilities of the Legislative Branch of our government.

The Senate consists of 38 members from across the state who are elected for four-year terms during the same election period as the Governor. (Article IV, Section 2) Each senator represents between 212,400 and 263,500 residents.

Each senator must be a citizen of the United States, at least 21 years old, and a voting resident of the district he or she represents.

Senators are primarily responsible for proposing new laws and, through the appropriations process, deciding how our tax dollars get spent and prioritized in the state budget. Senators on the Appropriations committee can decide to further fund or completely cut programs like workforce apprenticeships, road funding projects, or low-income health care services.

The state constitution also highlights certain issues as critical to the public interest, and outlines them as duties of the legislature. Notable examples are:

- Protection of the air, water, and other natural resources of the state from pollution, impairment, and destruction
- Protection and promotion of public health
- Resolution of disputes concerning public employees, except those in the state classified civil service

The Senate approves Gubernatorial appointees. (Article V, Section 3 & 6)

Senators investigate and vote on impeachment cases brought against public officials that are initiated by the House of Representatives. A two-thirds vote of the full Senate is required to convict. (Article XI, Section 7)

DETROIT & VICINITY

REDISTRICTING
Every 10 years, after the Federal Census issues its population estimates for the State of Michigan, the legislature begins the process of redrawing State House and State Senate districts.

Currently, the State Constitution prescribes an eight-member body to apportion our State’s legislative districts. All eight members are chosen from the top two state political party organizations that received the highest votes in the last Gubernatorial general election.

Voters Not Politicians’ proposal aims to reduce partisan favor in the drawing of legislative districts by amending the State Constitution to create a 13-member redistricting committee with four Democrats, four Republicans and five members who are supposed to be “non-affiliated” and independent. For more information about their proposal, visit: https://www.votersnotpoliticians.com.

ON JUNE 7, 2018, the Michigan Court of Appeals ruled in favor of Voters Not Politicians, rejecting a lawsuit by Citizens Protecting Michigan’s Constitution (CPMC) to keep it off the November ballot. CPMC argues the ballot proposal is too broad and wide-reaching to be just an amendment, and has appealed the ruling to the Michigan Supreme Court. To see CPMC’s legal filing against Voters Not Politicians, visit http://bit.ly/CPMCvSOS.

AS OF JUNE 20, 2018, the State Supreme Court has denied the motion to stay the Appeals Court ruling, and the proposal is currently slated to be on the November ballot. However, the State Supreme Court has until September 7 to decide rule on the rest of the appeal, and could still take Voters Not Politicians’ proposal off the ballot.

CANDIDATE QUESTIONS

1. What is your number one legislative priority?

2. Should your political party not be the Majority party in the State Senate, on what issues would you be willing to compromise with the opposing party in order to get legislation to be signed into law?

3. What bill or piece of State legislation do you applaud, and for what reason?

4. Why do you believe you’re the best person to represent Detroit in the Michigan State Senate?

5. Who in the State Legislature do you look up to, and who will you seek out for work guidance in Lansing?

6. What, if anything, needs to be done to change the culture among state leaders in the Legislature and the Executive Branch?

OTHER TOPICS OF INTEREST FOR SENATE:

Will state legislators reform auto insurance to lower rates?

Should Michigan charge a fee for bottling water?

Does Michigan spend enough on K-12 education?
APPROPRIATIONS: SPENDING TAX DOLLARS

During the annual Appropriations process, our state legislators decide how to spend tax dollars. The Senate Appropriations Committee, currently made up of 17 Senators from across the state, determines spending increases or cuts to State agencies and their respective programs. For example, the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services (MDHHS) has jurisdiction over state-administered public benefits, such as food and cash assistance. The Michigan Department of Environmental Quality administers programs that monitor the safety of our drinking water. And the State Court Fund allocates money to programs that provide public defenders for the indigent. The Appropriations Committee members can make the decision to put more money into those programs or make cuts to them. The interests of the Senators and their districts are varied and competing.

Another element of the Appropriations process is that legislators often make the effort to “bring home the bacon” by securing funding for specific projects that benefit their district. This can take the shape of securing increased arts and culture grant funding to a local museum within the district, a road or bridge repair through the Michigan Department of Transportation, or even a spending increase to rehab buildings at a local community recreation center.

A strong legislator can advocate for the needs of the community he or she represents, and have their priorities reflected in the budget.

AUTO INSURANCE

Auto insurance is regulated by state law. Efforts to lower auto insurance rates have been stymied by disagreement over whether to keep or scrap mandatory personal injury protection (the most generous and expensive coverage in the nation), and whether insurance companies should be more strictly regulated or health providers and trial attorneys should be.

There are currently 15 insurance reform bills introduced in the Senate for the two-year legislative session that ends January 2, 2019. There may be more movement on bills during the lame duck period after the November election. All bills expire at the end of the legislative session, and any reform bills will have to be re-introduced by the new Senate and House for the next legislative session that begins January 3, 2019.

For CitizenDetroit’s auto insurance materials, visit www.citizendetroit.org/events.
EDUCATION

Michigan’s constitution reads “The Legislature shall maintain and support a system of free public elementary and secondary schools as defined by law.” The State legislature adopts, amends and repeals laws that govern our public school districts - traditional and charter. These laws range from testing requirements to budget allocations to school safety to charter regulation.

Recent laws passed by the Michigan legislature include a package of bills to increase protections against sexual assault within schools, the state education budget, mandatory “mental health first aid” training for teachers, and a requirement that regional public school “enhancement” millage revenues be shared with charter schools. Recently introduced bills include increased school safety measures, a Democratic Senate package of bills for teacher incentives, and requiring that voter education be taught in public schools. All bills that are not voted on expire at the end of the legislative session January 2, 2019.

WATER

Water policy is an issue that is critical to the public health, safety, and pocketbooks of Michiganders. Michigan is home to four of the five Great Lakes, which is 21% of the world’s freshwater supply. Responsibility falls on our legislators, through oversight and adequate levels of regulation, to provide clean potable water while preserving the ecology, natural resources, and economy of the state.

Water issues that have come before the legislature include:

• Finding the appropriate amount of funding for stormwater & sewage system upgrades.
• Nestle’s soliciting a permit to pump water from Michigan water sources.
• Whether or not to shut down “Enbridge Line 5,” the oil pipeline running through the Great Lakes.
• Appropriating funds for bottled water distribution, lead testing and water infrastructure improvements following the Flint Water Crisis
• Creating public assistance programs to help pay water debt in the wake of mass water shut offs in Detroit
• Ballast water regulations designed to prevent commercial ships from accidentally bringing invasive species into our waterways that destroy our ecosystems.

ALPHA KAPPA ALPHA (AKA)

The small group of women who founded Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority at the turn of the last century were conscious of their privileged position as college-trained women of color just one generation removed from slavery. But at the same time, they were sensitive to the needs and struggles of the less fortunate in undeserved communities in their hometowns and in other environs beyond their travels who were in need of goods, services and opportunities beyond their reach. The young collegians’ commitment to scholarship, leadership, civic engagement and public service, woven together by the bonds of lifelong sisterhood, formed the bedrock of the rich legacy of servant-leadership that epitomizes the sorority to this day.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

The League of Women Voters was founded by Carrie Chapman Catt in 1920 during the convention of the National American Woman Suffrage Association. The convention was held just six months before the 19th amendment to the U.S. Constitution was ratified, giving women the right to vote after a 72-year struggle. The League is proud to be nonpartisan, neither supporting nor opposing candidates or political parties at any level of government, but always working on vital issues of concern to members and the public.
