Osman Khan, APF Fellows Program Coordinator

Osman Khan is a Senior Enterprise Customer Success Manager at Udacity where he is focused on enabling corporations to upskill their workforce in critical tech skills and careers of the future. He has served pro bono on leadership teams for organizations such as Net Impact, Teach the World Foundation, and Pakathon. He is the co-founder and program coordinator of the APF Fellows Program. You can find him discussing global affairs and history, brainstorming ideas for a new startup, or serving as an unofficial tour guide around NYC.