

Anna Khan

Anna Khan is a General Partner at Charles River Ventures (CRV). Prior to CRV, Anna spent five years at Bessemer Venture Partners in both the New York and San Francisco offices, investing across the software ecosystem. She sourced and co-led investments in Intercom, NewVoiceMedia (acquired by Vonage for $350M), and Zylo - and was involved with Adaptive Insights (acquired by Workday for $1.5B), Intacct (acquired by SAGE for $850M), and SendGrid (acquired by Twilio for $3B). Anna is also the Founder and CEO of Launch X, an accelerator that helps female founders learn how to raise capital for their business. Launch X has been featured in the Harvard Alumni Magazine and on Bloomberg Business.

Anna was named a Forbes 30 under 30 Venture Capital Winner in 2017. She was also the author of several industry-leading papers on the cloud ecosystem - namely the State of the Cloud which reaches over 100k people. Anna started her career as a former operator, serving as the Chief of Staff at 4INFO (Acq. by Cadent) - where she helped build mobile ad products for the rapidly growing smartphone ecosystem in 2010. Prior to 4INFO, Anna worked as an investment manager at both Goldman Sachs and Morgan Stanley in the midst of the financial crisis in the summers of 2008 and 2009.

Anna graduated with Honors from Stanford University and received her MBA with Distinction from Harvard Business School where she was an Arthur Rock Fellow and a World Economic Forum Global Shaper. At Stanford University, Anna was elected to the Cap & Gown Academic Honor Society and was President of the largest undergraduate women's organization on campus - Stanford Women in Business.