

Fall Reading Bingo

Choose an activity square that sounds fun to you and do the activity. Do five activity squares in a row—across, up & down or diagonal—and achieve BINGO! The mushroom, acorn & leaf squares are freebies. You can color them if you like.

	Read an alphabet book.	Visit your local library and check out three or more books.	Read a book about leaves falling or changing colors.
Draw your favorite storybook character as best you can.	Read a story that takes place underground.	Read a book about giving thanks, gratitude or helping people.	Wear a costume and read a Halloween story.	Read a non-fiction book about an animal that hibernates.
Read the book It's Halloween, Chloe Zoe!	Share a spooky book with the bravest person you know.		Read a book about apples, pumpkins or another favorite fall fruit or veg.	Draw a comic about the first day of school. Share it with someone you love.
Read a non-fiction book about spiders, bats or creepy crawlies.	Act out your favorite part in your favorite story with costumes & props.	Read a book about the fall holiday you'd most like to celebrate.	Read the book Miss Meow.	Read a counting or numbers book.
	Read a silly story out loud to a stuffed animal friend, doll or blanket.	Read a book outside under a tree.	Ask a friend or loved one what their fav picture book is. Then read it!

Story Starter

1) Finish drawing this haunted house. Can you add windows & doors? What shapes would look like nice—circles, squares or something else? You could add spider webs or skeletons. Who do you think lives here? Maybe add some ghosts. They could be friendly or silly or spooky.

2) Now that you've completed your haunted house, can you finish the story below? It takes place at your haunted house! What will happen next?

Halloween is almost here! The creatures that haunt the house on the hill are getting excited. They hang decorations and plan tricks and treats.

But when October 31st. arrives, it isn't trick-or-treaters who come to the house. Instead, a new family moves in!
