Exercise #2: Ask people to help you get a job.

All of us have friends that we trust, and that know and trust us enough to recommend us for a job. These friends know what we want to do, can do, and understand how we can do it. Who are they in your life? These friends are known as your “network”.

You can use pictures or make a list.

__Parents
__Brother
__Sister

__Friends from school
who work

__Friends from church

__Parents’ friends
People you know from where you go in your community

People you know where you volunteer

These is just a few suggestions for people to contact. You probably have your own ideas about who knows you. Recommend you to the employer. Introduce you to someone who will try you on a job.
