"AMERICAN PSYCHO"

INT. 'PASTELS' RESTAURANT - NIGHT

An insanely expensive restaurant on the Upper East Side. The decor is a mixture of chi-chi and rustic, with swagged silk curtains, hand written menus and pale pink tablecloths decorated with arrangements of moss, twigs and hideous exotic flowers. The clientele is young, wealthy and confident, dressed in the height of late-eighties style: poufy Lacroix dresses, slinky Alaïa, Armani power suits.

CLOSE on a WAITER reading out the specials.

WAITER

...with goat cheese profiteroles and I also have an arugula Caesar salad. For entrees tonight I have a swordfish meatloaf with onion marmalade, a rare-roasted partridge breast in raspberry coulis with a sorrel timbale...

Huge white porcelain plates descend on very pale pink linen table cloths. Each entree is a rectangle about four inches square and looks exactly alike.

CLOSE on various diners as we hear fragments of conversation. "Is that Charley Sheen over there?" "Excuse me? I ordered cactus pear sorbet."

WAITER

...and grilled free range rabbit with herbed french fries. Our pasta tonight is a squid ravioli in a lemon grass broth...

CLOSE on porcelain plates containing elaborate perpendicular desserts descending on another table.

PATRICK BATEMAN, TIMOTHY PRICE, CRAIG McDERMOTT and DAVID VAN PATTEN are at a table set for four. They are all wearing expensively cut suits, suspenders, slicked back hair. Van Patten wears horn rimmed glasses. The camera moves in on Bateman as his narration begins:

BATEMAN V/O

We're sitting in Pastels, this nouvelle Northern California place on the Upper East side.

The waiter sets down plates containing tiny, elaborately decorated starters. As he does so we hear Bateman's description of each of the men at the table.

BATEMAN V/O
You'll notice that my friends and I all look and behave in a remarkably similar fashion but there are subtle differences between us. McDermott is the biggest asshole. Van Patten is the yes man.
Price is the most wired. I'm the best looking. We all have light tans. Right now I'm in a bad mood because this is not a good table, and Van Patten keeps asking dumb, obvious questions about how to dress...

VAN PATTEN
What are the rules for a sweater vest?

MCDERMOTT
What do you mean?

PRICE
Yes. Clarify.

MCDERMOTT
Well, is it strictly informal-

BATEMAN
Or can it be worn with a suit?

MCDERMOTT
(smiling) Exactly.

BATEMAN
With discreet pinstripes you should wear a subdued blue or charcoal gray vest. A plaid suit would call for a bolder vest.

MCDERMOTT
But avoid matching the vest's pattern with your socks or tie. Wearing argyle socks with an argyle vest will look too studied.

VAN PATTEN
You think so?

PRICE
You'll look like you consciously worked for the look.

VAN PATTEN
Good point. Excuse me, gentlemen.

Van Patten leaves the table. As he does so a BUS BOY discreetly removes their largely untouched plates.

BATEMAN
Van Patten looks puffy. Has he stopped working out?

PRICE
It looks that way, doesn't it?

MCDERMOTT
(staring at retreating waiter)
Did he just take our plates away?

PRICE
He took them away because the portions are so small he probably thought we were finished. God I hate this place. This is a chick's restaurant. Why aren't we at Dorsia?

MCDERMOTT
Because Bateman won't give the maitre d' head.
(he guffaws)

Bateman throws a swizzle stick at him.

McDermott scans the room, settling on a handsome young man with slicked back hair and horn-rimmed glasses.

MCDERMOTT
Is that Reed Robinson over there?

PRICE
Are you freebasing or what? That's not Robinson.

MCDERMOTT
Who is it then?

PRICE
That's Paul Owen.

BATEMAN
That's not Paul Owen. Paul Owen's on the other side of the room. Over there.

He points to another handsome young man with slicked back hair and horn-rimmed glasses.

CONTINUED: (3)

MCDERMOTT
Who is he with?

PRICE
(distracted by the waitress's cleavage as she bends over to uncork a bottle of wine -- the waitress glares at him.)
Some weasel from Kicker Peabody.

Van Patten returns.

VAN PATTEN
They don't have a good bathroom to do coke in.

MCDERMOTT
Are you sure that's Paul Owen over there?

PRICE
Yes, McDufus, I am.

MCDERMOTT
He's handling the Fisher account.

PRICE
Lucky bastard.

MCDERMOTT
Lucky Jew bastard.

BATEMAN
Oh Jesus, McDermott, what does that have to do with anything?

MCDERMOTT
Listen, I've seen the bastard sitting in his office on the phone with CEO's, spinning a fucking menorah. The bastard brought a Hanukkah bush into the office last December.

BATEMAN
You spin a dreidel, McDermott, not a menorah. You spin a dreidel.

MCDERMOTT
Oh my god Bateman, do you want me to fry you up some fucking potato pancakes? Some latkes?

((CONTINUED)
CONTINUED: (4)

BATEMAN:
No. Just cool it with the anti-Semitic remarks.

MCDERMOTT
Oh I forgot. Bateman's dating someone from the ACLU.

Price leans over and pats Bateman on the back.

PRICE
The voice of reason. The boy next door. And speaking of reasonable...

He shows McDermott the bill for the meal.

MCDERMOTT
Only $470.

VAN PATTEN
(without irony)
Not bad.

The others murmur agreement. Four platinum AMEX cards slap down on the table.

INT. LIMOUSINE - NIGHT

Bateman is pouring vintage champagne into flutes. Price is lighting up a cigar.

MCDERMOTT
Last week I picked up this Vassar chick --

VAN PATTEN
Oh god, I was there. I don't need to hear this story again.

MCDERMOTT
But I never told you what happened afterwards. So okay, I pick up this Vassar chick at Tunnel -- hot number, big tits, great legs, this chick was a little hardbody -- and so I buy her a couple of champagne kirs and she's in the city on spring break and she's practically blowing me in the Chandelier Room and so I take her back to my place --

BATEMAN
Whoa, wait. May I ask where Pamela is during all this?

(CONTINUED)
CONTINUED:

MCDERMOTT
Oh fuck you. I want a blow-job, Bate-man.
I want a chick who's gonna let me --

VAN PATTEN
(putting his hands over his ears)
I don't want to hear this. He's going to say something disgusting.

MCDERMOTT
You prude. Listen, we're not gonna invest in a co-op together or jet down to Saint Bart's. I just want some chick whose face I can sit on for thirty, forty minutes.

Price throws a cigar at McDermott, who catches it.

MCDERMOTT
Anyway, so we're back at my place and listen to this. She's had enough champagne by now to get a fucking rhino tipsy, and get this --

VAN PATTEN
She let you fuck her without a condom?

MCDERMOTT
This is a Vassar girl. She's not from Queens. She would only -- are you ready? (dramatic pause)
She would only give me a hand job, and get this...she kept her glove on.

The men sit in shocked, horrified silence.

IN UNISON
Never date a Vassar girl.

EXT. 'TUNNEL' NIGHTCLUB - NIGHT
The limo pulls up to the sidewalk outside Tunnel. MCDERMOTT holds the door open for a passing homeless man, who looks confused.

MCDERMOTT
I suppose he doesn't want the car.
Price, ask him if he takes American Express.

(CONTINUED)
PRICE (offering card)
You take AmEx, dude?

The man stumbles away. The club DOORMAN, seeing the limousine, unhooks the velvet rope and welcomes them inside.

INT. LADIES ROOM, TUNNEL - NIGHT

Brilliant white light, a bemused ELDERLY FEMALE ATTENDANT in a black and white maid's uniform trying to give out paper towels. MUSIC thuds through an open doorway. Trashed looking girls stare into mirrors repairing their eye make-up or sit on the counter chatting to friends. There are almost as many men as women in the room. Couples stand in line, twitching as they wait to do coke. As soon as one bathroom door opens, a couple lurches out rubbing their noses while another couple rushes past them and slams the door.

PRICE
There's this theory out now that if you can catch the AIDS virus through having sex with someone who is infected then you can also catch anything -- Alzheimer's, muscular dystrophy, hemophilia, leukemia, diabètes, dyslexia, for Christ's sake -- you can get dyslexia from pussy --

BATEMAN:
I'm not sure, guy, but I don't think dyslexia is a virus.

PRICE:
Oh, who knows? They don't know that. Prove it.

Price and Bateman finally get a stall and rush in. Price is sweating.

PRICE
I'm shaking. You open it.

Bateman opens a tiny packet of coke.

PRICE
Jeez. That's not a helluva a lot, is it?

BATEMAN
Maybe it's just the light.

PRICE
Is he fucking selling it by the milligram?

(MORE)

PRICE (cont'd)
(he dips the corner of his Amex card in the packet and takes a snort)
Oh my god...

BATEMAN

What?

PRICE
It's a fucking milligram of Sweet 'n'
Low!

Bateman dips his AMEX in the envelope and snorts.

BATEMAN
It's definitely weak but I have a feeling if we do enough of it we'll be okay.

PRICE
I want to get high off this, Bateman, not sprinkle it on my fucking All-Bran.

The GUY IN STALL next door yells at them in an effeminate voice:

GUY IN STALL
Could you keep it down, I'm trying to do drugs!

Price pounds his fist against the stall.

PRICE
(screaming) SHUT UP!

BATEMAN
Calm down. Let's do it anyway.

PRICE
I guess you're right...
(raising his voice)
THAT IS, IF THE FAGGOT IN THE NEXT STALL THINKS IT'S OKAY!

GUY IN STALL
Fuck you!

PRICE (trying to climb up against the aluminum divider)
No, FUCK YOU!! (He collapses panting against the stall door.) Sorry, dude.
Steroids... Okay, lets do it.

CONTINUED: (2)

BATEMAN
That's the spirit.

They both dig their platinum Amex cards into the envelope of white powder, shoveling it up their noses, then sticking their fingers in to catch the residue and rubbing it into their gums.

INT. NIGHTCLUB - NIGHT

Bateman saunters towards the bar as 'PUMP UP THE VOLUME' plays in the background.

BATEMAN
(to BAR GIRL)
Two Stoli on the rocks.

He hands her two drink tickets.

BARGIRL
It's after eleven. Those aren't good any more. It's a cash bar. That'll be twenty five dollars.

Bateman pulls out an expensive looking wallet and hands her a fifty.

She turns her back and searches the cash register for change.

BATEMAN
You are a fucking ugly bitch I want to stab to death and then play around with your blood.

The music muffles his voice. She turns round. He is smiling at her. She gives him his change impassively.

INT. BATEMAN'S APARTMENT - MORNING

Tableaux of BATEMAN's apartment in the early morning light. A huge white living room with floor to ceiling windows looking out over Manhattan, decorated in expensive, minimalist high style: bleached oak floors, a huge white sofa, a large Baselitz painting (hung upside down) and much expensive electronic equipment. The room is impeccably neat, and oddly impersonal -- as if it had sprung straight from the pages of a design magazine.

BATEMAN V/O
My name is Patrick Bateman. I am twenty six years old. I live in the American Garden buildings on West 81st St., on the (MORE) eleventh floor. Tom Cruise lives in the penthouse.

Bateman walks into his bathroom, urinates while trying to see his reflection in a poster for 'Les Miserables' above his toilet.

BATEMAN V/O
I believe in taking care of myself, in a balanced diet, in a rigorous exercise routine. In the morning, if my face is a little puffy, I'll put on an ice pack while doing my stomach crunches. I can do a thousand now.

Bateman ties a plastic ice pack around his face

Bateman does his morning stretching exercises in the living room wearing the ice pack

CUT TO

A mirror lined bathroom. BATEMAN is luxuriating in the shower steam, scrubbing his body, admiring his muscles.

BATEMAN V/O:
After I remove the ice-pack I use a deep pore cleanser lotion. In the shower I use a water activated gel cleanser, then a honey-almond body scrub, and on the face an exfoliating gel scrub.

Bateman stands in front of a massive marble sink applying a gel facial masque.

BATEMAN V/O:
Then I apply a herb mint facial masque which I leave on for ten minutes while I prepare the rest of my routine.

Bateman opens the door of a mirrored cabinet, which is stocked with immaculate rows of skin care products. He begins selecting bottles, jars and brushes, laying them in readiness on the marble counter.

BATEMAN V/O
I always use an after-shave lotion with little or no alcohol because alcohol dries your face out and makes you look older. Then moisturizer, then an anti-aging eye balm, followed by a final moisturizing "protective" lotion...

(CONTINUED)
Bateman stares into the mirror. The masque has dried, giving his face a strange distorted look as if it has been wrapped in plastic. He begins slowly peeling the gel masque off his face.

BATEMAN V/O
There is an idea of a Patrick Bateman, some kind of abstraction, but there is no real me, only an entity, something illusory, and though I can hide my cold gaze and you can shake my hand and feel flesh gripping yours and maybe you can even sense our lifestyles are probably comparable: I simply am not there.

INT. BATEMAN BEDROOM - MORNING

Another huge white room, equally minimal: a futon, rumpled white sheets, a bedside lamp with a halogen bulb, and a large expensive painting (Eric Fischl or David Salle) chosen by Bateman’s interior decorator.

Dressed in silk boxer shorts, Bateman stands in front of a huge walk-in closet, filled with rows of expensive shirts, shoes and designer suits, organized according to color and tone.

BATEMAN V/O
It is hard for me to make sense on any given level. Myself is fabricated, an aberration. My personality is sketchy and unformed, my heartlessness goes deep and is persistent.

Fully dressed in Armani, Bateman stands in front of a full length mirror in the middle of his vast bedroom, adjusting his cuff links.

BATEMAN V/O
My conscience, my pity, my hopes disappeared a long time ago, if they ever did exist.

He gives a last look at the mirror and likes what he sees. He gives his reflection a smile.

INT. OFFICES OF PIERCE & PIERCE – DAY

As Bateman walks down the corridor, he passes another man who looks just like him.

CONTINUED:

MAN
Morning, Hamilton. Nice tan.

Bateman walks past the desk of Jean, his secretary, pulling his Walkman from around his neck. Jean is attractive, wholesome, earnest. She smiles shyly. She loves him.

JEAN Late?

BATEMAN
Aerobics class. Sorry. Any messages?

JEAN
Ricky Hendricks has to cancel today. He didn't say what he was canceling or why.

BATEMAN
I occasionally box with Ricky at the Harvard Club. Anyone else?

JEAN
And... Spencer wants to meet you for a drink at Fluties Pier 17.

When?

BATEMAN

JEAN
After six.

BATEMAN
Negative. Cancel it.

Jean follows him into his office.

JEAN
Oh? And what should I say?

BATEMAN
Just...say...no.

JEAN
Just say no?

Jean stands at his desk, waiting for instructions.

BATEMAN
Okay, Jean. I need reservations for three at Camols at twelve-thirty, and if not there, try Crayons. All right?

CONTINUED: (2)

JEAN (playfully)
Yes sir.

She turns to leave.

BATEMAN
Oh wait. And I need reservations for two at Arcadia at eight tonight.

Jean turns around.

JEAN
Oh, something...romantic?

BATEMAN
No, silly. Forget it. I'll make them. Thanks.

JEAN
I'll do it.

BATEMAN
No. No. Be a doll and just get me a Perrier, okay?

JEAN
You look nice today.

Jean exits. Bateman straightens some magazines in his office, lifts a painting off the wall and puts it back at a slightly different angle. He fiddles with some pencils in a beer stein. He puts on some MUSIC and flips through a Sports Illustrated. He buzzes Jean. She comes in a moment later with the Perrier and a file.

JEAN
Yes?

BATEMAN
Is that the Ransom file? Thanks. Don't wear that outfit again.

JEAN
Ummm... what? I didn't hear you.

BATEMAN
I said 'Do not wear that outfit again'. Wear a dress. A skirt or something.

Jean stands there, then looks down at herself.

JEAN
(smiling bravely)
You don't like this, I take it?

BATEMAN
Come on, you're prettier than that.

JEAN
(sarcastically)
Thanks, Patrick.

The phone rings and Jean turns to leave.

BATEMAN
I'm not here. And high heels. I like high heels.

As Jean leaves, Bateman clicks on the TV set in one corner of the room and starts watching Jeopardy!

INT. TAXI - EVENING

EVELYN WILLIAMS, Patrick Bateman's fiancée, is making notes with a gold Cross pen and sipping a bottle of mineral water. Evelyn is blonde, classically beautiful, expensively educated, and utterly pleased with herself. She usually addresses Patrick as if he were a small child.

EVELYN
I'd want a zydeco band, Patrick. That's what I'd want, a zydeco band. Or mariachi. Or reggae. Something ethnic to shock daddy. Oh, I can't decide... And lots of chocolate truffles. Godiva. And oysters on the half-shell.

CLOSE on Bateman, who is wearing a Walkman and staring out the window.

BATEMAN V/O
I'm trying to listen to the new George Michael tape but Evelyn -- my supposed fiancée -- keeps buzzing in my ear.

Evelyn continues to make notes.

EVELYN
Marzipan. Pink tents. Hundreds, thousands of roses. Photographers. Annie Leibovitz. We'll get Annie Liebowitz. And we'll hire someone to videotape. Patrick, we should do it.

BATEMAN
(removing his Walkman)
Do....what.

EVELYN
Get married. Have a wedding.

BATEMAN
Evelyn?

EVELYN
Yes, darling?

BATEMAN
Is your Evian spiked?

EVELYN
We should do it.

BATEMAN
No -- I can't take the time off work.

EVELYN
Your father practically owns the company. You can do anything you like, silly.

BATEMAN
I don't want to talk about it.

EVELYN
Well you hate that job anyway. Why don't you just quit? You don't have to work.

BATEMAN
Because I...want...to...fit...in.

The taxi bumps to a halt.

INT. ESPACE RESTAURANT - NIGHT

A cavernous garage, harshly spot lit, decorated in self-conscious brutalist chic. Iron girders, walls of waxed plaster featuring exposed rusted pipes, a huge Schnabel smashed plate painting on one wall. The tables and chairs are made of extremely uncomfortable bolted steel.

BATEMAN V/O
I'm on the verge of tears by the time we arrive at Espace since I'm positive we won't have a decent table, but we do, and relief washes over me in an awesome wave.
CONTINUED:

Tim Price and two downtown types, STASH and VANDEN are already seated. Vanden is about twenty, pretty and sullen, with green streaks in her black hair. Stash is pale, with ragged black hair and bad skin.

They are all trying to read large stainless steel menus that look like minimalist art.

PRICE
The menu's in braille.

He gets up to greet them, giving Evelyn a suspiciously long kiss.

PRICE
I have to talk to you.

He drags her away, half giggling and protesting.

EVELYN
(over her shoulder)
Pat, this my cousin Vanden and her boyfriend Stash. He's an artist.

BATEMAN
(after smiling at his own reflection in the mirror and checking his hair)
Hi. Pat Bateman.

Vanden takes his hand reluctantly, says nothing.

BATEMAN
Let me guess - you live in the East Village?

Pause.

STASH Soho.

COURTNEY RAWLINSON and LUIS CARRUTHERS arrive at the table. Courtney is blonde, classically beautiful and from precisely the same social background as Evelyn, but she is considerably more fragile and neurotic. Luis is half-English, half-Argentinean, slightly overweight (a rarity in this crowd), puppyish and eager to please. He wears the same type of designer clothes as Price and Bateman, but with foppish tendencies: velvet jackets, bowties, boldly patterned vests. They exchange air kisses. As soon as Luis turns his back, Bateman sneaks a kiss on Courtney's neck.
CONTINUED: (2)

COURTNEY
(whispering)
Stop it!

Stash and Vandlen watch them in silence.

LATER:

Price is whispering in Evelyn's ear. Everyone else is quietly eating, except Bateman, who is drinking and watching Evelyn and Price.

BATEMAN V/O
I am fairly sure that Timothy and Evelyn are having an affair. Timothy is the only interesting person I know. Courtney is almost perfect looking. She's usually operating on one or more psychiatric drugs. Tonight I believe it's Xanax. More disturbing than her drug use, though, is the fact that she's engaged to Luis Carruthers, the biggest dufus in the business.

Courtney rouses herself from her drug haze.

COURTNEY
Tell me, Stash...do you think Soho is becoming too...commercial?

CARRUTERS
Yes, I read that.

PRICE
Oh, who gives a rat's ass?

VANDEN
Hey. That affects us.

PRICE
(wired on coke)
Oh ho ho. That affects us? What about the massacres in Sri Lanka, honey? Doesn't that affect us, too? I mean don't you know anything about Sri Lanka? About how the Sikhs are killing like tons of Israelis there? Doesn't that affect us?

BATEMAN
Oh come on, Price. There are a lot more important problems than Sri Lanka to worry about. Sure our foreign policy is important, but there are more pressing problems at hand.

(MORE)

PRICE
Like what?

BATEMAN
Well, we have to end apartheid for one. And slow down the nuclear arms race, stop terrorism and world hunger. But we can't ignore our social needs, either. We have to stop people from abusing the welfare system. We have to provide food and shelter for the homeless and oppose racial discrimination and promote civil rights while also promoting equal rights for women but change the abortion laws to protect the right to life yet still somehow maintain women's freedom of choice.

The table stares at Bateman uncomfortably.

BATEMAN
We also have to control the influx of illegal immigrants. We have to encourage a return to traditional moral values and curb graphic sex and violence on TV, in movies, in pop music, everywhere. Most importantly we have to promote general social concern and less materialism in young people.

Price chokes on his drink. Everyone is silent and mystified.

CARRUTHERS
Patrick, how thought provoking.

INT. EVELYN'S BEDROOM - LATER THE SAME EVENING
Bateman and Evelyn are lying on her bed watching television.

BATEMAN
Why don't you just go for Price?

EVELYN
Oh god Patrick. Why Price? Price?

BATEMAN
He's rich.

EVELYN
Everybody's rich.

BATEMAN
He's good-looking.

EVELYN
Everybody's good looking, Patrick.

BATEMAN
He has a great body.

EVELYN
Everybody has a great body now.

Bateman unbuttons his shirt and makes advances to get Evelyn to have sex with him. She ignores him, watching the Home Shopping Channel with the remote in her hand. Finally, he straddles her, penis close to her face. She tries to look around him at the TV, then takes notice.

EVELYN
What do you want me to do with that, floss with it?

Bateman flops back down beside her and stares at the television.

EVELYN
Are you using minoxidil?

BATEMAN
No. I'm not. Why should I?

EVELYN
Your hairline looks like it's receding.

BATEMAN
It's not.

EXT. STREET - LATER THAT NIGHT

It is 3 am. Bateman is standing at an ATM, listening to the comforting sound of fresh bills thudding out of the machine. Bateman turns round and watches a solitary YOUNG WOMAN walk past him. He collects his money, placing it carefully in his wallet, and then walks toward her, whistling. He catches up to her as she pauses at a red light.

BATEMAN
Hello.

The woman looks suspicious for a moment and then, seeing his smile, smiles back.
INT. DRY CLEANERS - DAY

Bateman, dressed in an Armani suit with an unlit cigar between his teeth is standing in a dry cleaners, arguing with the CHINESE WOMAN behind the counter.

BATEMAN
Listen, wait. You're not...shhh wait... you're not giving me valid reasons.

The woman continues to speak to him in another language, grabbing at the sleeve of the jacket.

BATEMAN
What are you trying to say to me?

Her HUSBAND has taken Bateman's horribly bloodstained sheets out of the bag and is staring at them.

BATEMAN

She keeps pointing to the jacket and talking.

BATEMAN
(talking over her)
Two things. One. You can't bleach a Soprani. Out of the question. Two - (louder) two, I can only get these sheets in Santa Fe. These are very expensive sheets and I really need them clean.

She keeps talking and Bateman leans into her.

BATEMAN
If you don't shut your fucking mouth I will kill you, are you understanding me?

She talks faster.

BATEMAN
Now listen - I have a very important lunch meeting at Hubert's in thirty minutes, and I need those... no wait, twenty minutes. I have a lunch meeting at Hubert's in twenty minutes with Ronald Harrison and I need those sheets cleaned by this afternoon.
(checks Rolex)

She keeps talking.

BATEMAN

Listen. I cannot understand you.

Bateman starts laughing, slaps his hand down on the counter.

BATEMAN

This is crazy. You're a fool. I can't cope with this.

Bateman is on the verge of tears.

BATEMAN

Stupid bitchee! Understand? Oh Christ!

Someone enters the store behind him. It's VICTORIA, late twenties, attractive but a little overweight, wearing a tailored business suit with white sneakers and sports socks.

VICTORIA

Patrick?

She takes off her sunglasses.

VICTORIA

Hi, Patrick. I thought that was you.

BATEMAN

Hello

(mumbles a incomprehensible name)

Awkward pause.

BATEMAN

Well.

VICTORIA

Isn't it ridiculous? Coming all the way up here, but you know, they really are the best.

BATEMAN

Then why can't they get these stains out? I mean can you talk to these people or something? I'm not getting anywhere.

Victoria moves toward the sheet that the old man is holding up. She touches it and the woman behind that counter begins talking again.

VICTORIA
Oh my, I see. What are those? Oh my.

BATEMAN
Um, well... it's cranberry juice. Cranapple.

VICTORIA
(skeptically) Really?

BATEMAN
Well, I mean, um, it's really ... Bcso. You know, like...like a Dove Bar. It's a Dove Bar... Hershey's Syrup?

VICTORIA
(as if sharing a secret joke)
Oh yeah. Oh I get it. Fun with chocolate.

BATEMAN
Listen, if you could talk to them (he yanks the sheet out of the man's hand) I would really appreciate it. I'm really late. I have a lunch appointment at Hubert's in fifteen minutes.

Bateman turns to leave.

VICTORIA
Hubert's? Oh really? It moved uptown, right?

BATEMAN
Yeah, well, oh boy, listen, I've got to go. Thank you, uh...Victoria?

VICTORIA
Maybe we could have lunch one day next week? You know, I'm downtown near Wall Street quite often.

BATEMAN
Oh, I don't know, Victoria. I'm at work all the time.

VICTORIA
Well what about, oh, you know, maybe a Saturday?

(continues)
CONTINUED: (3)

BATEMAN
(checking his watch)
Next Saturday?

VICTORIA
(shrugging) Yeah.

BATEMAN
Oh, can't, I'm afraid. Matinee of Les Miserables. Listen, I've really got to go. I'll... Oh Christ... I'll call you.

VICTORIA
Okay. Do.

Bateman glares at the woman behind the counter and rushes out the door. Victoria stares after him as we hear the sound of the bell on the door.

INT. BATEMAN'S APARTMENT - DAY

Bateman is sitting on the sofa watching a video, talking to Courtney on a portable phone. He's holding a video box in one hand, perusing the title: 'Inside Lydia's Ass'. Off screen we hear the sounds of the porn movie as he talks.

BATEMAN
Listen, what are you doing tonight?

COURTNEY
What? Oh, I'm... busy.

BATEMAN
Listen, you're dating Luis, he's in Arizona. You're fucking me, and we haven't made plans. What could you possibly be up to tonight?

COURTNEY
Stop it. I'm...

BATEMAN
On a lot of Lithium?

COURTNEY
Waiting for Luis to call me. He said he'd call tonight. Oh don't be difficult, Patrick.

BATEMAN
You should come have dinner with me.

COURTNEY
But - when?

BATEMAN
Am I confused or were we talking about tonight?

COURTNEY
Ummm... yeah. Luis is calling me tonight. I need to be home for that.

BATEMAN Pumpkin?

COURTNEY Yes?

BATEMAN
Pumpkin you're dating an asshole.

COURTNEY
Uh huh.

BATEMAN
Pumpkin you're dating the biggest dickweed in New York.

COURTNEY
I know. Stop it.

BATEMAN
Pumpkin, you're dating a tumbling, tumbling dickweed.

COURTNEY
Patrick don't call me pumpkin anymore, okay? I have to go.

BATEMAN
Courtney? Dinner?

COURTNEY
I can't.

BATEMAN
I'm thinking Dorsia.

COURTNEY
Dorsia's nice.

BATEMAN Nice?

(Continued)
COURTNEY
You like it there, don't you?

BATeman
The question is, do you like it Courtney? And will you blow off a fucking phone call from your sad excuse for a boyfriend to eat there tonight.

COURTNEY
Okay. Yeah. What time?

BATeman
Eight?

COURTNEY
Pick me up?

BATeman
Sounds like I'll have to. Don't fall asleep, okay? Wear something fabulous. Dorsia, remember?

Bateman hangs up, opens up the Zagat's guide and dials the number for Dorsia with trembling fingers. It's busy and so he puts it on speaker phone, constant redial. He waits with his head in his hands, sweating with anxiety, until there is finally an answer.

MAITRE D'
Dorsia. Please hold.

He is on hold for a long time, getting very tense.

MAITRE D' Dorsia.

BATeman
(both of his eyes are closed)
Umm...yes... I know it's a little late but is it possible to reserve a table for two at eight or eight-thirty perhaps?

Long pause. The MAITRE D' starts giggling quietly and then more loudly until the laughter is almost hysterical and hangs up the phone.

INT. TAXI- NIGHT

Bateman and Courtney are in the back of a cab. Courtney is heavily medicated.

BATEMAN
Is that Donald Trump's car?

COURTNEY
(thickly) Oh god, Patrick. Shut up.

BATEMAN
You know, Courtney, you should take some more lithium. Or have a Diet Coke. Some caffeine might get you out of this slump.

COURTNEY
I just want to have a child. Just...two...perfect...children...
(her voice trails away as she descends back into a drug haze)

The cab draws up outside a restaurant. The awning reads 'Barcadia'.

INTERIOR/BARCADIA/EVENING

An insanely expensive nouvelle Italian restaurant, all polished natural brick, spotless white table cloths, minimalist flower arrangements, discreet lighting.

A WAITER has come to take their drink orders.

BATEMAN
J&B. Straight.

COURTNEY
Champagne on the rocks. Oh - could I have that with a twist?

She starts to sink back in her chair and Bateman leans over and pulls her back up.

COURTNEY
Are we here?

BATEMAN
Yes.

COURTNEY
This is Dorsia?

BATEMAN
(examining a menu that says "Barcadia" in large script)
Yes dear.

Courtney almost falls asleep while looking at her menu, and starts to slide off of her chair. Bateman grabs her by both shoulders and props her up.

BATEMAN
Courtney, you're going to have the peanut butter soup with smoked duck and mashed squash. NY Magazine called it a "playful but mysterious little dish." You'll love it. And then... the red snapper with violets and pine nuts. I think that'll follow nicely.

COURTNEY
Mmm... thanks, Patrick.

She falls asleep at the table.

INT. COURTNEY'S BEDROOM - NIGHT

Bateman and Courtney are in Courtney's bed. Bateman is on top of her, reaching for a condom in the ashtray. He tears it open with his teeth, puts it on.

COURTNEY
(dazed on Lithium)
I want you to fuck me.

Bateman gets on top of her, starts to fuck her.

COURTNEY
Luis is a despicable twit.

BATEMAN
Yes, Luis is a despicable twit. I hate him.

He keeps fucking her.

COURTNEY
No, you idiot. I said 'Is it a receptacle tip?' Not is Luis a despicable twit. Is it a receptacle tip? Get off me.

COURTNEY

BATEMAN

What do you want, Courtney?

She pushes him away from her.

BATEMAN
It's a plain end. I think.

COURTNEY
Turn the light on.

She tries to sit up.

BATEMAN
Oh Jesus. I'm going home.

COURTNEY
Patrick. Turn on the light.

He turns on the light.

BATEMAN
It's a plain end, see? So?

COURTNEY
Take it off.

BATEMAN
Why?

COURTNEY
Because you have to leave half an inch at the tip—
(She covers herself with her comforter.)

BATEMAN
I'm getting out of here. Where's your lithium?

Courtney throws a pillow over her head and starts crying.

COURTNEY
(screaming)
Do you think you're turning me on by having unsafe sex?

Bateman pulls the pillow off her and slaps her face.

BATEMAN
Oh Christ, this really isn't worth it.
And see, Courtney, it's there for what?
Huh? Tell us.

(he slaps her again lightly)
Why is it pulled down half an inch? So it can catch the force of the ejaculate!

COURTNEY
(choking, crying)
Well, it's not a turn-on for me. I have a promotion coming to me. I don't want to get AIDS.

Bateman grabs her head and makes her look at the condom.

BATEMAN
See? Happy? You dumb bitch? Are you happy you dumb bitch?

COURTNEY
Oh god just get it over with.

He fucks her quickly until he has a mediocre orgasm and falls down next to her. They lie side by side with their bodies not touching, eyes open, staring at the ceiling.

INT. CONFERENCE ROOM, PIERCE & PIERCE - DAY

Bateman and Luis Carruthers are seated at a long table in the conference room at Pierce & Pierce, which looks out onto a spectacular view of Manhattan.

CARRUTHERS
Patrick, thanks so much for looking after Courtney. Dorsia, how impressive! How on earth did you get a reservation there?

BATEMAN
Lucky, I guess.

CARRUTHERS
That's a wonderful jacket. Let me guess, Valentina Couture?

BATEMAN
Uh huh.

CARRUTHERS
(reaching out to touch it)
It looks so soft.

BATEMAN
(catching Luis' hand)
Your compliment was sufficient, Luis.

Carruthers is distracted by a question from the colleague on his left.

PAUL OWEN enters, carrying the Wall St. Journal under his arm. He is handsome, supremely confident and self-satisfied; he seems himself as a leader among men.

OWEN
(to Bateman)
Hello Halberstam. Nice tie. How the hell are you?

BATEMAN
I've been great. And you?

Their conversation FADES DOWN as we hear Bateman's thoughts.

BATMAN V/O
Owen has mistaken me for this dickhead Marcus Halberstam. It seems logical because Marcus also works at P&P and in fact does the same exact thing I do and he also has a penchant for Valentino suits and Oliver Peoples glasses. Marcus and I even go to the same barber, although I have a slightly better haircut.

During this voice-over the CAMERA WANDERS over to MARCUS HALBERSTAM, who is conferring with a colleague in the opposite corner of the room. He bears a superficial resemblance to Bateman.

OWEN
How's the Ransom account going, Marcus?

BATEMAN

It's...it's...all right.

OWEN
Really? That's interesting.
(he stares at Bateman, smiling)
Not great?

BATEMAN
Oh well, you know.

OWEN
And how's Cecilia? She's a great girl.

BATEMAN
Oh yes. I'm very lucky.

McDermott and Price enter.

MCDERMOTT
Hey Owen! Congratulations on the Fisher account.

OWEN
Thank you, Baxter.

PRICE
Listen, Paul. Squash?

OWEN
Call me.
(hands him a business card)

PRICE
How about Friday?

OWEN
No can do. Got a res at 8:30 at Dorsia.
Great sea urchin ceviche.

There is a stunned silence as he walks away and sits in a corner of the room, ostentatiously studying papers.

CLOSE on Bateman's face, cold with hatred.

PRICE

Jesus. Doria? On a Friday night? How'd he swing that?

Bateman takes out his wallet and pulls out a card.

PRICE
(suddenly enthused)
What's that, a gram?

BATEMAN
New card. What do you think?

Mcdermott lifts it up and examines the lettering carefully.

MCDERMOTT
Whoa. Very nice. Take a look.

He hands it to Van Patten.

BATEMAN
Picked them up from the printer's yesterday.

VAN PATTEN
Good coloring.

BATEMAN
That's bone. And the lettering is something called Silian Rail.

MCDERMOTT
(envious) Silian Rail?

VAN PATTEN
It is very cool, Bateman. But that's nothing.

He pulls a card out of his wallet and slaps it on the table.

VAN PATTEN
Look at this.

They all lean forward to inspect it.

PRICE
That's really nice.

Bateman clenches his fists beneath the table, trying to control his anxiety.

Jesus. This is really super. How'd a nitwit like you get so tasteful?

Bateman stares at his own card and then enviously at McDermott's.

BATEMAN V/O
I can't believe that Price prefers McDermott's card to mine.

PRICE
But wait. You ain't seen nothin' yet.

He holds up his own card.

PRICE
Raised lettering, pale nimbus white...

BATEMAN
(choking with anxiety)
Impressive. Very nice. Let's see Paul Owen's card.

Price pulls a card from an inside coat pocket and holds it up for their inspection:"PAUL OWEN, PIERCE & PIERCE, MERGERS AND ACQUISITIONS". Bateman swallows, speechless. The SOUND IN THE ROOM DIES DOWN and all we hear is a faint heartbeat as Bateman stares at the magnificent card.

BATEMAN V/O
Look at that subtle off-white coloring.
The tasteful thickness of it. Oh my god, it even has a watermark...

His hand shaking, Bateman lifts up the card and stares at it until fills the screen.

He lets it fall. The sound returns to normal.

EXT. STREET - EVENING

The financial district. The streets are eerily deserted. Bateman stands at an ATM, enjoying the reassuring sound of $500 in fresh bills thudding from the machine. As he turns to leaves he notices someone across the street. A HOMELESS MAN is lying in a doorway on top of an open grate, surrounded by bags of garbage and a shopping cart. A cardboard sign is attached to the front of the cart: I AM HOMELESS AND HUNGRY PLEASE HELP ME. A small, thin dog lies next to him. He is black, dressed in a stained, torn lime green polyester pants suit with jeans worn over the pants.

BATEMAN
(offering his hand)
Hello. Pat Bateman.

The Homeless Man stares at Bateman, struggling to sit up.

BATEMAN
You want some money? Some... food?

The Homeless Man nods and starts to cry. Bateman reaches into his pocket and pulls out a $10 bill, then changes his mind and holds out a $5 instead.

BATEMAN
Is this what you need?

The Homeless Man nods, looks away, wipes his nose.

HOMELESS MAN
I'm so hungry.

BATEMAN
It's cold out, too, isn't it?

HOMELESS MAN
I'm so hungry.

BATEMAN
(holding the bill just out of the man's reach)
Why don't you get a job? If you're so hungry, why don't you get a job?

HOMELESS MAN
(shivering and sobbing)
I lost my job...

HOMELESS MAN

HOMELESS MAN
I'm so hungry.

The dog starts to whimper.

BATEMAN
Why don't you get another one? Why don't you get another job?

HOMELESS MAN

BATEMAN
You're not what? Qualified for anything else?

HOMELESS MAN

BATEMAN

HOMELESS MAN

HOMELESS MAN
You're so kind, mister. You're kind. You're a kind man. I can tell.

BATeman
(petting the dog)
Shhhh... it's okay.

HOMELESS MAN
(grabbing BATeman's wrist)
Please... I don't know what to do. I'm so cold.

BATeman
(stroking his face, whispering)
Do you know how bad you smell? The stench, my god.

HOMELESS MAN
I can't... I can't find a shelter.

BATeman
You reek. You reek of...shit. Do you know that? (shouting) Goddammit, Al - look at me and stop crying like some kind of faggot. Al... I'm sorry.

Bateman carefully puts the money back in his wallet.

BATeman
It's just that... I don't know. I don't have anything in common with you.

He opens his brief case and pulls out a long thin knife with a serrated edge. He pushes up the sleeve of his jacket to protect it.

BATeman

The dog barks wildly and Bateman stomps on it until it is silent.

LOW ANGLE shot of Bateman as he throws a quarter on the ground.

BATEMAN
There's a quarter. Go buy some gum.

Bateman walks calmly into the empty caverns of Wall Street. Cars drift past, their headlights momentarily illuminating the body left twitching on the ground.

INT. BEAUTY SALON - DAY

CLOSE ON Bateman's face and torso. His eyes are closed as a woman's hands rub cream into his face.

FACIALIST
What beautiful skin you have, Mr. Bateman. So fine, so smooth...

His eyes open to look up at the FACIALIST and then he closes them again.

BATEMAN V/O
I have all the characteristics of a human being - flesh, blood, skin, hair - but not a single clear, identifiable emotion except for greed and disgust. Something horrible is happening inside me and I don't know why.

BATEMAN
What an asshole.

MCDERMOTT
Why is Laurie Kennedy dating Price? He's a fucking drug addict. No self control.

VAN PATTEN
But Laurie Kennedy is a total hardbody. What do you think, Bateman?

BATEMAN
I know her. I knew her.

MCDERMOTT
Why do you say it like that? Why does he say it like that?

VAN PATTEN
Because he dated her.

BATEMAN
How did you guess?

VAN PATTEN
Girls dig Bateman. He's GQ. You're total GQ Bateman.

BATEMAN
Thanks guy, but...she's got a lousy personality.

MCDERMOTT
So what? It's all looks. Laurie Kennedy is a babe. Don't even pretend you were interested for any other reason.

VAN PATTEN
If they have a good personality then something is very wrong.

MCDERMOTT

BATEMAN
Well, lets just say hypothetically, okay?
What if they have a good personality?
(he smiles, giving up)
I know, I know --

ALL IN UNISON
There are no girls with good personalities!
(they laugh and high five each other)

VAN PATTEN
A good personality consists of a chick with a little hardbody who will satisfy all sexual demands without being too slutty about things and who will essentially keep her dumb fucking mouth shut.

MCDERMOTT
Listen, the only girls with good personalities who are smart or maybe funny or halfway intelligent or even talented - though God knows what the fuck that means- are ugly chicks.

VAN PATTEN Absolutely.

MCDERMOTT
And this is because they have to make up for how fucking unattractive they are.

Pause.

BATEMAN
Do you know what Ed Gein said about women?

VAN PATTEN
Ed Gein? Maitre d' at Canal Bar?

BATEMAN
No, serial killer, Wisconsin in the fifties. He was an interesting guy.

MCDERMOTT
So what did Ed say?

BATEMAN
He said, "When I see a pretty girl walking down the street I think two things. One part of me wants to take her out and talk to her and be real nice and sweet and treat her right."

Pauses, finishes his drink.

MCDERMOTT
What does the other part of him think?

BATEMAN
What her head would look like on a stick.

McDermott and Van Patten look at each other and then back at Bateman. Bateman starts to laugh, and the other two uneasily join in.

Luis Carruthers walks up to the table.

LUIS
(shyly)
Hi guys. I wanna get your opinion on something.

McDermott rolls his eyes at the rest of the table.

MCDERMOTT
If it's about the bowtie you're wearing, you know how we feel about it.

Luis laughs good naturedly.

LUIS
Yes, I do. No, it's my business card - I decided to get a new one too.

He pulls out something incredibly tasteful. Everyone compliments Luis except Bateman. The SOUND DROPS and all we hear is the BEATING OF HIS HEART as he stares at the card enviously. Luis plucks it from his hand and walks away, pleased with himself.

VAN PATTERN
Listen, what about dinner?

BATEMAN
(suddenly angry)
Is that all you ever have to contribute, Van Patten? 'What about fucking dinner'?

MCDERMOTT
Ah, cheer up, Bateman.
(slaps him on the back, massages his neck)
What's the matter? No shiatsu this morning?

BATEMAN
(watching Luis go into the men's room)
Keep touching me like that and you'll draw back a stump.

MCDERMOTT
Whoa, hold on there little buddy.

BATEMAN
Excuse me.

He gets up from the table. As Bateman walks away, Van Patten grabs a waiter.

VAN PATTEN
Is this tap water? I don't drink tap water. Bring me an Evian or something, okay?

INT. MEN'S ROOM - DAY

Bateman pulls on his gloves as he enters the men's room. Carruthers is standing in a stall with his back to Bateman. The sound of his urinating is heard until Bateman approaches, then abruptly stops. Slowly Bateman brings his hands up over the collar of Carruthers' cashmere jacket, circling his neck until both thumbs and index fingers meet. All we can hear is the sound of Bateman's heavy breathing. Slowly he starts to squeeze. Almost in slow motion, Carruthers turns around.

Carruthers looks down at Bateman's wrists as if lost in thought. Then he lowers his head and kisses Bateman's wrist. He looks back at Bateman with a shy, love struck expression, then reaches up and tenderly touches the side of his face.

CARRUTHERS
God Patrick. Why here?

He strokes BATEMAN's hair.

CARRUTHERS

Bateman takes a deep breath, closes his eyes and tries to lift his hands again, but abandons the attempt.

CARRUTHERS
You don't know how long I've wanted it.
Ever since that Christmas party at Arizona 206. You know the one, you were wearing that red striped paisley Armani tie.

Bateman looks down and sees that Carruthers' pants are still unzipped. He moves past him out of the stall and stands by the sink and pretends to wash his hand until he realizes he still has his gloves on. Carruthers comes up behind him.

CARRUTHERS
I want you. I want you .. too.

Bateman storms out of the men's room, bumping into a waiter and several customers and cursing. Noticing the MAITRE D' and another waiter conferring and looking at him strangely Bateman straightens up and smiles and waves cheerfully at them. Carruthers walks up behind him.

BATEMAN

CARRUTHERS
Where are you going?

BATEMAN

BATeman

CHRISTIE
You just haven't been looking.

BATeman
Would you like to see my apartment?

Bateman flips on the light inside the limo. He's wearing a tuxedo.

CHRISTIE

Bateman is holding out a hundred dollar bill, which Christie now notices, then takes.

BATeman
Do you want to come to my apartment or not?

CHRISTIE

But I can make an exception.

Long pause, in which Christie is luxuriating in the tub and Bateman is casually touching her breast.

BATEMAN

Christie reaches for a washcloth.

BATEMAN
No. From behind. Get on your knees.

Christie shrugs.

BATEMAN
I want to watch. You have a very nice body.

Bateman escorts her into the living room and brings her a glass of wine. Christie enters, sitting next to Sabrina on the couch, and Bateman sits across from them. There is a long silence.

BAITEMAN
So, don't you want to know what I do?

The two girls look at each other with uncomfortable smiles. Christie shrugs.

CHRISTIE

Bateman is visibly irritated, recrosses his legs.

BAITEMAN
Well, I work on Wall Street. At Pierce & Pierce.

BAITEMAN
Have you heard of it?

Another long pause. They shake their heads. Christie stands up and goes over to the CD collection.

Christie stares at the plate and shakes her head. Sabrina takes one.

BATeman
I don't want you to get drunk, but that's a very fine Chardonnay you're not drinking.

Bateman goes over to his CDs and scans his vast collection. He takes one out and examines it.

BATeman
Do you like Phil Collins? I've been a big Genesis fan ever since the release of their 1980 album, Duke. Before that I really didn't understand any of their work. It was too artsy, too intellectual. It was on Duke where Phil Collins' presence became more apparent.

He puts aside the CD and takes out another one.

BATeman
I think 'Invisible Touch' is the group's undisputed masterpiece.

He puts on the song and gestures them to follow him into the bedroom.

BATeman
It's an epic meditation on intangibility, at the same time it deepens and enriches the meaning of the preceding three albums. Christie, take off the robe.

Sabrina dances awkwardly. Christie sits on the bed.

BATEMAN
Take the lyrics to 'Land of Confusion'.
In this song, Phil Collins addresses the problem of abusive political authority.

Bateman knots a silk scarf around Christie's neck --rather menacingly -- then helps her into some suede gloves.

BATEMAN
'In Too Deep' is the most moving pop song of the 1980s about monogamy and commitment. The song is extremely uplifting. Their lyrics are as positive and affirmative as anything I've heard in rock.

He turns on the video camera.

BATEMAN
Christie, get down on your knees so
Sabrina can see your asshole.

Bateman looks through the viewfinder.

BATEMAN
Phil Collins' solo efforts seem to be more commercial and therefore more satisfying in a narrower way, especially songs like 'In the Air Tonight' and 'Against All Odds'. Sabrina, don't just

EVELYN
Mistletoe alert! Merry Xmas, Patrick! Merry Xmas, Harry!

Evelyn rushes up to them with mistletoe in her hand, raising it above their heads. She is wearing a sable jacket and green velvet pants by Ralph Lauren, and has a small Vietnamese potbellied pig in her arms. The pig is wearing a Santa hat. She tries to make Bateman kiss the pig.

Bateman has a glass in one hand and a dish of Waldorf salad in the other, and is unable to defend himself from Evelyn.

BATEMAN
Merry... Christmas.

EVELYN
You're late, honey.

BATEMAN
I'm not late.

EVELYN (singsong)
Oh yes you are.

BATEMAN
(still staring across the room at Courtney and Paul Owen)
I've been here the entire time. You just didn't see me.

EVELYN
Where did you get that awful scratch?

BATEMAN
I... uh... got my hand caught in the VCR.

EVELYN
(shoving the pig in his face)
Say hello to Snowball. Snowball says "Merry Christmas, Patrick".

BATEMAN
What... is... it?

CONTINUED: (2)

EVELYN
(talking to the pig)
It's a little baby piggy wiggy, isn't it?
It's a Vietnamese potbellied pig. They make darling pets. Don't you? Don't you?

Bateman is horrified.

EVELYN
Oh, stop scowling. You're such a Grinch.
(turning to Hamilton)
Did you know he's the Grinch?

HAMILTON
Well, we all know McCloy's the Grinch.
How ya doin', Mr. Grinch?

Evelyn puts the pig down and it runs away.

EVELYN
And what does Mr. Grinch want for Christmas? And don't tell me breast implants again.

A passing stranger comes up behind Bateman and puts paper antlers on his head, without him noticing.

Bateman walks away, and is bumped into by HUMPHREY RHINEBECK.

RHINEBECK
Hey, Bateman! When wearing a tuxedo, how do you keep the front of your shirt from riding up?

BATEMAN
You simply have a tab with a buttonhole sewn into the front of your shirt, which can then be attached by a button to your trousers. And Hamilton? Take those fucking antlers off your head - you look like a retard. Excuse me.

Bateman walks toward Paul Owen. Rhinebeck feels the top of his head.

RHINEBECK
Oh my god.

BATEMAN
Owen!

He grabs a martini off a passing tray.

OWEN
Marcus! Merry Christmas! How've you been? Workaholic, I suppose.

BATEMAN
Haven't seen you in a while.

OWEN
Well, just got back from the Knickerbocker Club.
(calling out to Hamilton across the room)
Hey, Hamilton - We're going to Nell's. Limo's out front.

Evelyn comes up behind them.

BATEMAN
We should have dinner.

OWEN
Maybe you could bring...

BATEMAN Cecelia?

OWEN
Yes, Cecelia.

BATEMAN
Oh, Cecelia would... adore it.

OWEN
Well, let's do it, Marcus.

EVELYN
(confused)
Patrick? Why is he calling you Marcus -

BATEMAN
Mistletoe alert!

He grabs Evelyn and kisses her on the mouth, stifling her words. Owen and his friends wander off. Evelyn melts.

EVELYN
Oh Patrick, you're so sweet.
INT. TEXARKANA RESTAURANT - NIGHT

An insanely expensive nouvelle Tex-Mex restaurant, with an ironic Southwestern decor: Santa Fe colors, Navajo blankets, naive cowboy art, rawhide banquettes. Bateman bursts in the door, late, and approaches the MAITRE D'.

BATEMAN
Marcus Halberstam. For two at eight?

MAITRE D'
Your friend has already been seated. Follow me. Mr. Halberstam.

Paul Owen is seated at a table underneath an enormous pair of ram's horns. He is arguing with the WAITER.

OWEN
No, I want to know. I came here for the cilantro crawfish gumbo, which is after all the only excuse one could have for being in this restaurant, which is by the way, almost complete empty. Am I to believe that all ten people in this restaurant have eaten your entire supply of cilantro crawfish gumbo?

WAITER
I'm very sorry, sir. There was a fire in the kitchen earlier today, and-

BATEMAN
J&B, straight. And a Dixie beer.

WAITER
Would you like to hear-

OWEN
Double Absolut martini.

WAITER
Yes sir. Would you like to hear the specials?

BATEMAN
Not if you want to keep your spleen.

The waiter leaves.

OWEN
This is a real beehive of, uh, activity, Halberstam. This place is hot, very hot.

CONTINUED:

BATEMAN
Listen the mud soup and the charcoal arugula are outrageous here.

OWEN
Yeah, well, you're late.

BATEMAN V/O
Hey, I'm a child of divorce. Give me a break.
(studying the menu; he's in a surprisingly good mood)
Hmmm, I see they've omitted the pork loin with lime jello.

OWEN
We should've gone to Dorsia. I could've gotten us a table.

BATEMAN
Nobody goes there anymore.

There is a long disgruntled silence.

BATEMAN
Is that Ivana Trump over there? (laughs) Jeez, Patrick, I mean Marcus, what are you thinking? Why would Ivana be at Texarkana?

Another pause.

BATEMAN
So, wasn't Rothschild originally handling the Fisher account? How did you get it?

OWEN
I could tell you that, Halberstam, but then I'd have to kill you.

He guffaws. Bateman laughs politely.

LATER:

Paul Owen is very drunk. Bateman cold sober.

BATEMAN
I like to dissect girls. Did you know I'm utterly insane?

Owen continues laughing and motions to the waiter for another drink.

CONTINUED:

OWEN
Great tan, Marcus. Really impressive. Where do you tan?

BATEMAN
Salon.

OWEN
I've got a tanning bed at home. You should look into it.

Bateman nods, agitated.

OWEN
And Cecelia, how is she? Where is she tonight?

BATEMAN
Cecelia is, well... you know Cecelia. I think she's having dinner with... Evelyn Williams.

OWEN

BATEMAN
Another martini, Paul?

Owen nods drunkenly.

LATER:

The end of the meal. Owen is squeezing a lime onto the table, missing his beer, incredibly drunk. The check is laid down.

BATEMAN
(talking to Owen like a child)
Paul, give me your Amex card. Good boy

Bateman slaps the card down, looks at the check.

BATEMAN
Two hundred and fifty. Very reasonable. Let's leave a big tip, shall we? My place for a night cap?

OWEN
No, man. I'm gonna bail.

BATEMAN
Come on, you dumb son of a bitch. (helping him into his jacket) (MORE)

BATMAN (cont'd)
I've got a preview of the Barney's catalogue and a bottle of Absolut waiting for us.

INT. BATMAN'S APT - NIGHT

The living room floor has been meticulously covered with newspaper.

Owen is slumped drunkenly in a white Eames chair, a glass in his hand. Bateman is looking through his CDs.

BATMAN
You like Huey Lewis and the News?

OWEN
They're okay.

BATMAN
Their early work was a little too New Wave for my taste. But when Sports came out in 1983, I think they really came into their own, commercially and artistically.

Bateman walks to his bathroom, taking a large ax out of the shower. He takes two Valium.

BATMAN
(said partially from the bathroom)
The whole album has a clear, crisp sound and a new sheen of consummate professionalism that gives the songs a big boost.

Bateman comes back out and leans the ax against the wall. He walks to the foyer and puts on a raincoat, watching Owen from behind all the time.

BATMAN
He's been compared to Elvis Costello but I think Huey has a more bitter, cynical sense of humor.

Owen is absentmindedly leafing through the Barney's catalogue.

OWEN
Hey Halberstam?

BATMAN
Yes, Owen?

CONTINUED:

OWEN
Why are their copies of the Style section all over the place? Do you have a dog? A chow or something?

BATEMAN
No, Owen.

OWEN
(confused)
Is that a raincoat?

BATEMAN
Yes it is.

Bateman moves to the CD player. He takes a CD out of its case and slides it in the machine.

BATEMAN
In 1987 Huey released this, Four, their most accomplished album. I think their undisputed masterpiece is 'Hip To Be Square', a song so catchy that most people probably don't listen to the lyrics. But they should because it's not just about the pleasures of conformity and the importance of trends. It's also a personal statement about the band itself.

Bateman puts on 'Hip to Be Square'.

Bateman crosses the room and picks up the ax.

We follow Bateman from behind as he walks up to Owen, the ax raised over his head.

BATEMAN Hey Paul?

As Owen turns around, from Owen's POV we see Bateman swing the ax towards his face.

Blood sprays onto the white raincoat.

From behind Owen, we see Bateman as he yanks the ax out.

Owen drops to the floor. His body falls out of the frame. We stay on his legs twitching mechanically.

Blood pulses onto the newspaper covered floor.

CONTINUED: (2)

BATMAN
(raising the ax and screaming)
Try getting a reservation at Dorsia now you fucking stupid bastard!

LOW ANGLE ON BATMAN as he beats Owen with the back of the ax. OFF SCREEN, the sound of the ax hitting Owen.

BATMAN (panting)
Fucking bastard...

Bateman takes his raincoat off, still panting. He folds the coat carefully in half, bloody side in, and drapes it neatly over the back of a chair.

He sits back on the white sofa and surveys the scene. He checks his Rolex and lights a cigar.

OFF-SCREEN Paul Owen's last faint sighs are heard.

INT. LOBBY - NIGHT

Bateman drags a large, blood-soaked sleeping bag through the lobby, past the bored DOORMAN, who looks up from the Post for a moment.

EXT. STREET - NIGHT

Bateman is trying to hail a cab. Owen's body is at his feet.
Luis Carruthers and a JAPANESE GIRL walk up to him.

CARRUTHERS
Patrick? Is that you?

BATMAN
No Luis. It's not me. You're mistaken.

CARRUTHERS
This is Gwendolyn Ichiban. This is my very good friend Patrick Bateman. Where are you going? We're going to Nell's.
Gwendolyn's father's buying it.
(looking down at the body)
Where did you get your overnight bag?

BATMAN
Commes des Garcon.

A cab stops. Bateman opens the door and manages to get Owen's body into the backseat. Bateman gets in the cab.

CONTINUED:

LUIS
Call me please, Patrick.

BATEMAN
Satan lives, Luis.

INT. BATEMAN'S HELL'S KITCHEN APT - NIGHT

A bare room, lit by one light bulb. The walls are blank except for a Les Miserables poster. There is one ratty chair.

Bateman pours lime over Paul Owen's body, which is lying in a bathtub. He plays Huey Lewis, smokes a cigar, watches the body dissolve.

INT. PAUL OWEN'S APARTMENT - NIGHT

Bateman is letting himself into the apartment. It is very similar to Bateman's, but even more minimalist. The walls are white pigmented concrete with a large minimalist painting on the wall. One wall is covered in a trendy large scale scientific drawing above a long black leather couch.

BATEMAN
Where to send the bastard? Dallas?
Paris?

He throws some clothes into a suitcase, randomly grabbing toiletries and shoving them in.

BATEMAN
Singapore? London. I'll send the asshole to London.

He puts some MUSIC on to help muffle his voice, then leans over the answering machine. He does a passable imitation of Owen's speech.

BATEMAN
Hi, this is Paul. I've been called away to London for a few days. Meredith, I'll call you when I get back. Hasta La Vista, Baby.

INT. BATEMAN'S OFFICE - MORNING

Bateman is sitting at his desk, with the latest copy of Sports Illustrated in front of him and his Walkman playing Kenny G. We hear the music until Jean enters and he takes the Walkman off.

(CONTINUED)

BATeman
(faintly irritable)
What is it?

JEAN Patrick?

BATeman
(condescendingly) Ye-es Je-an?

JEAN
Patrick, a Mr. Donald Kimball is here to see you.

Who?

JEAN
Detective Donald Kimball?

Silence. Bateman stares out the window, then down at the drawing of a headless woman he's been doodling on the back cover of Sports Illustrated.

BATeman
Tell him I'm at lunch.

JEAN
(whispering)
Patrick, I think he knows you're here. It's only ten-thirty.

Silence.

BATeman
Send him in, I guess.

As she exits, he picks up the cordless phone and pretends to talk to someone at the other end.

BATeman
Now John, you've got to wear clothes in proportion to your physique. There are definite do's and don'ts, good buddy, of wearing a bold-striped shirt. A bold striped shirt calls for solid colored or discreetly patterned suits and ties...

The door to the office opens and he waves in DETECTIVE DONALD KIMBALL. Kimball is surprisingly young -- about Bateman's age -- and good looking, dressed in a crumpled linen Armani suit of the type Bateman and his friends might wear.

Kimball sits down and crosses his legs with a self-assurance that makes Bateman so nervous he forgets to carry on with his fake conversation. Kimball looks up at him curiously, noticing the silence.

BATEMAN
(realizing that KIMBALL is staring at him)
Right. And yes...always tip the stylist fifteen percent.

Bateman shrugs at the detective, rolling his eyes in exasperation. Kimball nods understandingly.

BATEMAN
Listen John, I've got to go. T. Boone Pickens just walked in...
(he laughs inanely)
Just joking... (pause) No don't tip the owner of the salon. Okay John, right, got it.
(he hangs up the phone and pushes the antenna in) Sorry about that.

KIMBALL
No, I'm sorry. I should've made an appointment.
(gesturing toward the phone)
Was that anything important?

BATEMAN
Oh that? Just mulling over business problems. Examining opportunities...Exchanging rumors...Spreading gossip.

They laugh politely.

KIMBALL
(holding out his hand)
Hi. I'm Donald Kimball.

BATEMAN
(shaking it firmly)
Hi. Pat Bateman. Nice to meet you.

KIMBALL
I'm sorry to barge in on you like this, but I was supposed to talk to Luis Carruthers and he wasn't in and...well, you're here, so...I know how busy you guys can get.

Kimball stares at the three open copies of Sports Illustrated and the Sony Walkman lying on Bateman's desk. Bateman sees the look and sweeps the magazines into the top drawer along with the Walkman, which is still running.

BATEMAN
(forcing himself to sound friendly and relaxed)
So, what's the topic of discussion?

KIMBALL
I've been hired by Meredith Powell to investigate the disappearance of Paul Owen.

BATEMAN
You're not with the FBI or anything, are you?

KIMBALL
Nothing like that. I'm just a private investigator.

BATEMAN
Ah, I see...Yes. Paul's disappearance....Yes.

KIMBALL
So it's nothing that official. I just have some basic questions. About Paul Owen. About yourself --

BATEMAN Coffee?

KIMBALL
No, I'm okay.

BATEMAN
Perrier? San Pellegrino?

KIMBALL
No, I'm okay.

Kimball takes out a small black notepad and the same gold Cross pen that Bateman and his friends all use. Bateman buzzes Jean.

JEAN (O/C)
Patrick?

BATEMAN
Can you bring Mr.....

CONTINUED: (4)

KIMBALL
Kimball.

BATEMAN
Mr. Kimball a bottle of San Pellegrino--

KIMBALL
Oh no, I'm okay.

BATEMAN
It's no problem.

Bateman watches intently as Kimball writes something down in his notebook, then crosses something out.

Jean enters and places the bottle of San Pellegrino and a Steuben etched glass on the table, shooting a concerned glance at Bateman. He glares at her. Kimball smiles and nods at Jean as she leaves.

BATEMAN
Well, what's the topic of discussion?

KIMBALL
The disappearance of Paul Owen.

BATEMAN
Oh right. Well, I haven't heard anything about the disappearance or anything...
   (trying to laugh)
Not on Page Six at least.

KIMBALL
I think his family want this kept quiet.

BATEMAN Understandable.
   (staring at the untouched bottle of San Pellegrino)
Lime?

KIMBALL
No, really. I'm okay.

BATEMAN
You sure? I can always get you a lime.

A pause.

KIMBALL
Just some preliminary questions that I need for my own files, okay?

CONTINUED: (5)

BATEMAN Shoot.

KIMBALL
How old are you?

BATEMAN
Twenty seven. I'll be twenty eight in October.

KIMBALL
(scribbling in his notebook)
Where did you go to school?

BATEMAN

KIMBALL
Your address?

BATEMAN
Fifty-five West Eighty-First Street. The American Gardens Building.

KIMBALL
(looking up, impressed)
Nice. Very nice.

BATEMAN
(flattered) Thanks.

A pause as Kimball studies his notebook. Bateman closes his eyes shut, as if in pain.

KIMBALL
Pardon me, but are you okay?

BATEMAN
Why do you ask?

KIMBALL
You seem...nervous.

Bateman reaches into his desk drawer and brings out a bottle of aspirin.

BATEMAN Nuprin?

KIMBALL
Uh...no, thanks.

Kimball takes out a pack of Marlborough and lays it on the desk.

BATEMAN
Bad habit.

KIMBALL
I know. I'm sorry.

A pause, as Bateman stares at the cigarettes.

KIMBALL
Would you rather I not smoke?

BATEMAN
No, I guess it's okay.

KIMBALL
You sure?

BATEMAN
No problem (buzzing Jean)

JEAN (O/C)
Yes, Patrick?

BATEMAN
Bring us an ashtray for Mr. Kimball, please.

She whisks in with a crystal ashtray as they sit in silence.

KIMBALL
What can you tell me about Paul Owen?

BATEMAN
Well...

He coughs, shakes two Nuprin into his hand and swallows them dry.

KIMBALL
How well did you know him?

BATEMAN
I'm... at a loss. He was part of that whole... Yale thing, you know.

KIMBALL
Yale thing?

A pause.

BATEMAN
Yeah...Yale thing.

KIMBALL
What do you mean ... Yale thing?

A pause.

BATEMAN
Well, I think for one that he was probably a closet homosexual. Who did a lot of cocaine... That Yale thing.

A silence during which the sound of the air conditioner becomes deafening.

KIMBALL
So...there's nothing you can tell me about Paul Owen?

BATEMAN
He led what I suppose was an orderly life. He ... ate a balanced diet.

KIMBALL
What kind of man was he? Besides ... (he hesitates, tries to smile) the information you've just given.

BATEMAN
I hope I'm not being cross-examined here.

KIMBALL
Do you feel that way?

BATEMAN
No. Not really.

KIMBALL
(as he writes, without looking up) Where did Paul hang out?

BATEMAN
Hang...out?

KIMBALL
Yeah. You know ... hang out.
CONTINUED: (8)

BATEMAN

KIMBALL
He had a yacht?

BATEMAN
No, he just hung out there.

KIMBALL
And where did he go to school?

A slight pause.

BATEMAN
Don't you know this?

KIMBALL
I just wanted to know if you know.

BATEMAN
Before Yale? If I remember correctly, Saint Paul's....Listen, I just .... I just want to help.

KIMBALL
I understand.

He makes another note.

KIMBALL
Anything else you can tell me about Owen?

BATEMAN
We were both seven in 1969.

KIMBALL (smiles)
So was I.

BATEMAN
Do you have any witnesses or fingerprints?

KIMBALL
Well, there's a message on his answering machine saying he went to London.

BATEMAN
Well, maybe he did, huh?

(CONTINUED)
KIMBALL
His girlfriend doesn't think so.

BATEMAN
But ... has anyone seen him in London?

KIMBALL Actually, yes.

BATEMAN
Hmmm.

KIMBALL
Well, I've had a hard time getting an actual verification. A Stephen Hughes says he saw him at a restaurant there, but I checked it out and what happened is, he mistook a Hubert Ainsworth for Paul, so...

BATEMAN
Oh.

KIMBALL
Was he involved at all, do you think, in occultism or Satan worship?

BATEMAN
What?

KIMBALL
I know it sounds like a lame question, but in New Jersey last month -- I don't know if you've heard about this, but a young stockbroker was recently arrested and charged with murdering a young Chicano girl and performing voodoo rituals with various body parts --

BATEMAN
Yikes! No. Paul wasn't into that. He followed a balanced diet and--

KIMBALL
Yeah, I know, and was into that whole Yale thing.

A pause - the longest so far.

BATEMAN
Have you consulted a psychic?
KIMBALL

No.

BATEMAN

Had his apartment been burglarized?

KIMBALL

No, it actually hadn't. Toiletries were missing. A suit was gone. So was some luggage. That's it.

BATEMAN

I mean no-one's dealing with the homicide squad yet or anything, right?

KIMBALL

No, not yet. As I said, we're not sure. But... basically no one has seen or heard anything.

BATEMAN

That's so typical, isn't it?

KIMBALL

It's just strange.

(he stares out the window, lost in thought.)

One day someone's walking around, going to work, alive, and then...

BATEMAN

Nothing.

KIMBALL

People just... disappear.

BATEMAN

The earth just opens up and swallows people.

(he checks his Rolex.)

KIMBALL

Eerie. Really eerie.

Silence.

BATEMAN

(standing up)

You'll have to excuse me. I have a lunch meeting with Cliff Huxtable at Four Seasons in twenty minutes.
CONTINUED: (11)

KIMBALL
Isn't the Four Seasons a little far uptown? I mean aren't you going to be late?

BATEMAN
Uh, no. There's one... down here.

KIMBALL
Oh really? I didn't know that.

Bateman leads him to the door.

BATEMAN
Yes. It's very good.

Kimball turns to face him.

KIMBALL
Listen, if anything occurs to you, any information at all...

BATEMAN
Absolutely, I'm 100% with you.

KIMBALL
Great, and thanks for your uh, time, Mr. Bateman.

Bateman closes the door firmly on Kimball. He closes his eyes and leans against the door, sweating.

INT. COURTNEY'S APT - NIGHT

Bateman is lying on top of Courtney in her bed, after sex. Still panting he rolls off her, onto his back. He feels something lumpy underneath him and pulls out a stuffed toy, a black cat with blue jewel eyes. There is silence.

COURTNEY
Will you call me before Thanksgiving?

BATEMAN Maybe.

Courtney sighs and reaches for a bottle of pills on her nightstand, swallowing several. Bateman gets up and begins to dress, admiring himself in the mirror. Courtney watches the TV at low volume.

COURTNEY
What are you doing tonight?

CONTINUED:

BATEMAN
Dinner at the River Cafe. Au Bar afterwards, maybe.

COURTNEY
That's nice.

BATEMAN
You and ... Luis?

COURTNEY
(lighting a cigarette)
We were supposed to have dinner at Tad and Maura's, but - you know how Luis is...

BATEMAN
I never knew you smoked.

COURTNEY
(smiling sadly)
You never noticed.

Bateman is making final adjustments to his tie.

COURTNEY
Listen... Patrick. Can we talk?

BATEMAN
You look marvelous. There's nothing to say. You're going to marry Luis. Next week, no less.

COURTNEY
(sarcastically)
Isn't that special?
(a pause)
Patrick?

BATEMAN
Yes, Courtney?

COURTNEY
If I don't see you before Thanksgiving, have a nice one, okay?

BATEMAN
(flatterly)
You too.

Courtney picks up the black cat and starts petting its head. Bateman heads down the hallway to the front door.

COURTNEY

Patrick?

BATEMAN

Yes?

COURTNEY

Nothing.

INT. VIDEO STORE - SAME NIGHT

We follow Bateman as he moves in a kind of trance past aisles and aisles of videos, under the lurid glare of the store’s florescent lights.

BATEMAN V/O

I'm wandering around Video Visions drinking a Diet Pepsi and listening to the new Christopher Cross tape on my Sony Walkman.

He stops by 'Comedy' and picks up a Woody Allen movie, then moves on to 'Horror'.

BATEMAN V/O

Suddenly I'm seized by a minor anxiety attack. There are too many fucking movies to choose from.

He surreptitiously pops several pills into his mouth.

CUT TO

Bateman waiting at the counter, impatient because he's not first in line. He is holding three films, one of which is Body Double. When he approaches the counter, the CASHIER rolls her eyes and gives a knowing glance to one of her co-workers. There is a silence as she rings up the tapes.

BATEMAN

I like the part where the woman gets drilled by the ... power driller in the movie ...the best.

(he starts shaking and getting very out of breath.)

And the blood starts pouring from the ceiling.

CASHIER

Sign here. Uh... you've rented this movie... this'll be 37 times.

CONTINUED:

BATEMAN signs and snatches the tape off the counter and walks away.

INT. NIGHTCLUB - NIGHT

A big 80's nightclub with a mixed crowd: hip hop kids, visitors from Jersey, downtown art people, yuppies.

Bateman makes his way through the crowd to the bar, and tries to attract the bartender's attention. He is wearing a suit and his tie is loosened. Kimball approaches him.

KIMBALL
Mr. Bateman?

Bateman gasps and recovers.

BATEMAN
Detective Kendall...uh Campbell?

KIMBALL
Kimball.
(Extending his hand)
Call me Don.

BATEMAN
Don.

KIMBALL
So... you hang out here a lot?

BATEMAN
Uh, yes... I mean... whenever necessary. You know.

Pause.

BATEMAN
How's the investigation going? Taken anyone in for "formal questioning"?
(He makes quotation marks in the air and laughs a not-so-relaxed laugh)

KIMBALL
Oh no. Informal conversations, mostly. What's that, Stoli?

BATEMAN
Yeah. No Finlandia, as usual. Fucking dump.

CONTINUED:

KIMBALL
(looking at his glass.)
Too true. You know, Bateman -- people tend to reveal so much more about themselves when they're in a relaxed setting, don't you think?

Bateman is nodding nervously, idiotically.

KIMBALL
Some people just can't help themselves.
Another Stoli?

Bateman shakes his head.

KIMBALL
I mean they want to get caught.

BATEMAN
Dan, great to see you again. Like I said, you need anything at all, I'm your man. I don't envy your job. I mean Owen was a... complex man.

Bateman wanders away.

He looks back uneasily at Kimball who is watching him from the bar. A GUY WITH DREADLOCKS walks by.

BATEMAN
(holding up his hand to high five) Rasta Man!

The man stares at him.

BATEMAN
I mean - Mon. We be jammin'...

The man walks by, shaking his head.

Bateman wanders into the next room, which is filled with a more familiar crowd: young men in designer suits, girls in black designer dresses. Across the room he spots McDermott and Price sitting with three models, all wearing black mini dresses. Price and McDermott are having a whispered argument.

PRICE
I have to talk to these girls? They're models.

(CONTINUED)
MCDERMOTT
Someone has to get the Bolivian marching powder. You went last time. Stay here.

McDermott waves gaily to the girls and disappears.

Bateman looks at the models. DAISY and CARON are staring into space, smoking. LIBBY is trying to work out how to unfold her napkin. Price signals to Bateman for help.

PRICE
(clapping his hands together)
Lets have a conversation. So... it was hot out today, no?

Silence.

LIBBY
Where did Craig go?

PRICE
Well Gorbachev is downstairs. McDermott is going to sign a peace treaty with him between the United States and Russia. McDermott's the one behind Glasnost, you know.

LIBBY
Well...yeah. But he told me he was in mergers and acquisitions.

PRICE
You're not confused, are you?

LIBBY
No, not really.

CARON
Gorbachev's not downstairs.

DAISY
(smiling)
Are you lying?

PRICE
Yes, Caron's right. Gorbachev's not downstairs. He's at Tunnel.

BATEMAN
(to Daisy)
Ask me a question.

DAISY
So, what do you do?

BATEMAN
What do you think I do?

DAISY
A model? An Actor?

BATEMAN
No. Flattering, but no.

DAISY
Well...

BATEMAN
I'm into, well, murders and executions mostly.

DAISY
(unfazed)
Do you like it?

BATEMAN
Well... it depends, why?

DAISY
Well most guys I know who work in mergers and acquisitions don't really like it.

Silence.

BATEMAN
So, where do you work out?

MUCH LATER IN THE EVENING:

The club is half-empty now. Price is leaning over a balcony, messed up on drugs. Bateman comes up behind him in a menacing way that suggests he might push him over the railing. Price turns around, wild-eyed, just as Bateman is reaching for him.

PRICE (shouting)
I'm leaving. I'm getting out.

BATEMAN Leaving what?

PRICE This.

(CONTINUED)
CONTINUED:

Bateman is confused, he thinks Price is referring to his drink.

BATEMAN
Don't, I'll drink it.

PRICE
(screaming)
Listen to me, Patrick. I'm leaving.

BATEMAN
Where to? Are you going to go get a gram?

PRICE
I'm leaving! I...am...leaving!

BATEMAN
Don't tell me... merchant banking?

PRICE
No you dumb son of a bitch. I'm serious. I'm disappearing.

BATEMAN
(laughing)
Where to? Morgan Stanley? Rehab? What?

Price looks away.

McDermott and Daisy walk up to them.

MCDERMOTT
Hey - don't worry, be happy.

Price lifts his arms up as if greeting the crowd and is shouting something that can't be heard, then:

PRICE
Goodbye! Fuckheads!

He climbs over the railing.

DAISY
What is he doing?

BATEMAN
Price! Come back!

Price leaps from the balcony. He disappears for a moment then resurfaces and runs off into the crowd.
EXT. CLUB - NIGHT

Bateman and Daisy are waiting for a cab.

DAISY
My ex-boyfriend, Fiddler, who was in there, he plays in this band that just opened for U2 -- he couldn't understand what I was doing with a yuppie.

BATEMAN
Oh really?

DAISY
He said... (she laughs) He said you gave him bad vibes.

BATEMAN
That's... that's too bad.

DAISY
You think I'm dumb, don't you?

BATEMAN
What?

DAISY
You think I'm dumb. You think all models are dumb.

BATEMAN
(insincerely)
No. I really don't.

DAISY
That's OK. I don't mind. There's something sweet about you.

She takes his hand as they get into a cab.

INT. DAISY'S HALLWAY - LATER THAT NIGHT

BATEMAN leaves Daisy's apartment carrying a suitcase. He pauses in the hallway and tucks some long blonde hair back inside the case.

INT. BATEMAN'S OFFICE - LATE AFTERNOON

Bateman sits at his desk wearing Wayfarers doing the New York Times crossword puzzle at dusk.

Jean knocks gently on the half-open door and walks in with a folder in her hand. Bateman ignores her.

(CONTINUED)

JEAN
Doin' the crossword?
Bateman nods without looking up.

JEAN
Need help?
Bateman doesn't respond. We see that every space on the puzzle has been filled in with the words MEAT or BONE. Jean drops the folder on his desk and then walks out.

BATEMAN
Jean?

JEAN (re-enters office)
Yes, Patrick?

BATEMAN
Would you like to accompany me to dinner.
He erases one of the M's on the crossword puzzle.

BATEMAN
That is... if you're not doing anything.

JEAN
Oh no. I have no plans.

BATEMAN
(lowering his Wayfarers)
Well, isn't this a coincidence.

A pause.

BATEMAN
Listen, where should we go?
He leans back and pulls a Zagat's from the desk drawer.

JEAN
Anywhere you want?

BATEMAN
Let's not think about what I want. How about anywhere you want.

JEAN
Oh Patrick, I can't make this decision.

BATEMAN
No, come on. Anywhere you want.

(continued)
JEAN
Oh, I can't. (sighs) I don't know.

BATeman
Come on. Where do you want to go?
Anywhere you want. Just say it. I can get us in anywhere.

A long pause.

JEAN
What about... Dorsia?

Bateman stops looking through the Zagat guide and smiles at her.

BATeman
Soooo... Dorsia is where Jean wants to go....

JEAN
Oh, I don't know. No, we'll go anywhere you want.

BATeman
Dorsia is... fine.

He dials the number.

DORSIA MAITRE D'
Dorsia, yes?

BATeman
Yes, can you take two tonight, oh, let's say, at nine o'clock?

He checks his Rolex and winks at Jean.

MAITRE D'
We are totally booked.

BATeman
Oh really? That's great.

MAITRE D'
I said we are totally booked.

BATeman
Two at nine? Perfect.

MAITRE D'
There are no tables available tonight. The waiting list is also totally booked.

(CONTINUED)
BATEMAN
See you then.

He hangs up the phone. He walks over to the coat rack. He glances over at Jean who is still standing in front of the desk, confused.

BATEMAN
Yes? You're dressed...okay.

JEAN
You didn't give them a name.

BATEMAN
They know me.

Pause.

BATEMAN
Why don't you meet me at my house at 7:00 for drinks, OK?

She turns to leave.

BATEMAN
And Jean? You'll want to change before we go out.

INT. BATEMAN'S APARTMENT - EARLY EVENING

Jean stands by the floor to ceiling windows, looking out.

JEAN
Patrick it's so...elegant. What a wonderful view.

Bateman opens up the freezer where Daisy's head is clearly visible.

BATEMAN
Jean? Sorbet?

JEAN
Thanks, Patrick. I'd love some.

Bateman walks in with a bottle of wine and a corkscrew in his hand and hands her the sorbet.

Jean is eating the sorbet.

JEAN Want a bite?

(CONTINUED)

BATEMAN
I'm on a diet. But thank you.

JEAN
You don't need to lose any weight. You're kidding, right? You look great. Very fit.

BATEMAN
(weighing corkscrew, examining the point for sharpness)
You can always be thinner. Look... better.

JEAN
Well, maybe we shouldn't go out to dinner. I don't want to ruin your willpower.

BATEMAN
No. It's all right. I'm not very good at controlling it anyway.

Silence, as Bateman walks around his apartment, opens up his knife drawer, looking at the knives.

BATEMAN
So listen, what do you really want to do with your life?

Pause.

BATEMAN
And don't tell me you enjoy working with children, okay?

JEAN
Well, I'd like to travel. And maybe go back to school, but I really don't know... I'm at a point in my life where there seems to be a lot of possibilities, but I'm so... I don't know... unsure.

Bateman is touching a knife in the drawer, feeling the edge of the blade.

BATEMAN
Do you have a boyfriend?

JEAN
No, not really.

(CONTINUED)

BATEMAN Interesting.

JEAN
(shyly)
Are you seeing anyone? I mean, seriously?

BATEMAN
Maybe. I don't know. Not really.

Bateman opens up a cupboard where there are a lot of very neatly ordered weapons - an ax, a rifle, a chain saw, duct tape, twine and a nail gun.

BATEMAN
Jean, do you feel... fulfilled? I mean, in your life?

JEAN
Well, I guess I do. For a long time I was too focused on my work, I think, but now I've really begun to think about changing myself, you know, developing, and...growing.

BATEMAN
Growing. I'm glad you said that.

Bateman picks up the duct tape.

BATEMAN
Did you know that Ted Bundy's first dog, a collie, was named Lassie? Had you heard this?

JEAN
Who's Ted Bundy?

BATEMAN
Forget it.

JEAN What's that?

BATEMAN
Oh. Uh, tape. Duct tape. I...need it for...taping something.

Bateman goes back to the cupboard for the nail gun.

(CONTINUED)
JEAN
Patrick, have you ever wanted to make someone happy?

Jean puts her spoon down on the table.

BATEMAN
(looking up from loading nails into the gun)
What... No! Put it in the carton.

JEAN Sorry.
(she puts the spoon in the carton)

BATEMAN Jean? What?

JEAN
Make someone happy - have you ever wanted to?

From behind we follow Bateman as he walks across the room and stands behind the couch.

BATEMAN
I'm looking for... I guess you could say I just want to have a meaningful relationship with someone special.

JEAN
Hmmm....

He points the nail gun at the back of Jean's head.

The phone rings. Startled, Bateman hides the nail gun behind his back. The answering machine picks up. As Bateman listens he discreetly places the nail gun behind the couch. He sits down opposite Jean, enjoying her discomfort as she listens to the message.

EVELYN
Patrick. I know you're there. Pick up the phone you bad boy. What are you up to tonight? It's me. Don't try to hide. I hope you're not out with some little number you picked up because you're my Mr. Bateman. My boy next door. Anyway you never called me and you said you would and I'll leave a message for Jean about this too to remind you but we're (MORE) Silence. Jean is obviously embarrassed and upset.

JEAN

Was that ... Evelyn?

Silence.

JEAN

Are you still seeing her?

Silence

JEAN

I'm sorry, I have no right to ask that.

Silence.

JEAN

Do you want me to go?

A long pause.

BATEMAN

Yes. I don't think I can ... control myself.

JEAN

I know I should go. I know I have a tendency to get involved with unavailable men, and... I mean, do you want me to go?

Another long pause.

BATEMAN

If you stay, I think something bad will happen. I think I might hurt you.
(almost hopefully)
You don't want to get hurt, do you?

JEAN

No. No, I guess not. I don't want to get bruised. You're right, I should go.

She gets up to leave.

JEAN
And don't forget you have a breakfast meeting with Frederick Bennet and Charles Rust at '21.

BATEMAN
Thanks. It slipped my mind completely.

He sinks back on the sofa and shuts his eyes.

INT. BATEMAN'S OFFICE – DAY

Bateman enters P&P, walks up the corridor and pauses outside the door to his office. He sees Kimball in conversation with Jean, and Jean looking through her date book. He watches for a moment, frozen with anxiety. He then bursts in, shutting the door behind him.

BATEMAN
Kimball – I've been wanting to talk with you! Come into my office. Jean, great jacket. Matsuda?

Jean looks flustered.

Kimball follows Bateman into his office.

KIMBALL
I actually came to see Timothy Price, but he's taken a leave of absence.

BATEMAN
Yeah, gone into rehab. Shame. (hopefully)
Is he a suspect?

KIMBALL
Not really.

A pause.

KIMBALL
Do you remember where you were on the night of Paul's disappearance? (he checks his notebook) Which was on the twentieth of December?

BATEMAN
God... I guess... I was probably returning videotapes.

He opens his desk drawer and pretends to search through his diary.

(CONTINUED)

BATEMAN
I had a date with a girl named Veronica.

KIMBALL
Wait. That's not what I've got.

BATEMAN
What?

KIMBALL
That's not the information I've received.

BATEMAN
Well... I... Wait... What information have you received?

KIMBALL
Let's see...
   (he flips through his notebook)
That you were with--

BATEMAN
Well, I could be wrong.

KIMBALL
Well.... When was the last time you were with Paul Owen?

BATEMAN
(clearly nervous and under pressure)
We had .... gone to a new musical called
... 'Oh Africa, Brave Africa'. It was ... a laugh riot... and that's about it.
I think we had dinner at Orso's. No
Petaluma. No, Orso's. The .... last time I physically saw him was .... at an automated teller. I can't remember which ... just one that was near, um, Nell's.

Kimball is clearly giving up on Bateman for now. He opens his briefcase to put away his notebook.

KIMBALL
Well, thank you, Mr. Bateman.

BATEMAN
Patrick, please. I hope I've been informative. Long day - a bit scattered.

KIMBALL
Listen, I'm a little spent for now but how about lunch in a week or so when I've sorted out all this information?

BATEMAN
Great, yes, I'd like that.

KIMBALL
And if you could try and pin down where you were the night of Owen's disappearance, it would make my job a lot easier.

BATEMAN
Absolutely. I'm with you on that one.

Kimball is rifling through his brief case. He pulls out a new shrink-wrapped CD and holds it up.

KIMBALL
Huey Lewis and the News. Great stuff.
Heard it? I just bought it on my way here.

Bateman stares at the CD -- stunned, terrified.

BATEMAN
Never. I mean... I don't really like... singers.

KIMBALL
Not a big music fan, eh?

BATEMAN
No, I like music. Just - they're - Huey's too... black sounding. For me.

KIMBALL
Well, to each his own. So - lunch, Thursday? I'll call your secretary about reservations.

BATEMAN
I'll be there.

EXT. MEAT PACKING DISTRICT/INT/ LIMOUSINE - NIGHT

The same street corner where Bateman found Christie before.
The limo is kept idling as he talks to her through a half-opened window.

CHRISTIE
I'm not so sure about this. I had to go to Emergency after last time...

BATEMAN
Oh this won't be anything like last time,
I promise.

CHRISTY
I don't think so.

He hands her five hundred dollars.

BATEMAN
Just come in the limo and talk to me for a minute. The driver's here, you'll be safe.

Christie gets in hesitantly.

BATEMAN
Nothing like last time, promise.

CHRISTIE
Alright.

He pours her a shot of vodka and makes her drink it.

BATEMAN
(chatting as if they were at a cocktail party)
So, you're looking great, how have you been?

CHRISTIE
(a little confused)
Well, I actually might need a little surgery after last time.

BATEMAN
(mock shock) Really?

CHRISTIE
My friend told me I should maybe even get a lawyer.

BATEMAN
Oh, lawyers are so complicated - don't do that. Here.

He writes her a check for $1,000 to cash and hands it to her. She snatches the check out of his hand and gets quickly out of the limo, walking hurriedly down the street.

BATMAN Bitch.

He follows alongside her slowly in the limo, waving a huge wad of cash at her. She hesitates; he uses the money to lure her into the car. As she reluctantly gets into the limo, she reaches for the money.

He snatches it away.

BATMAN
Uh uh uh. Half now, half later.

She takes the money and puts it inside her shirt.

BATMAN
Okay, your name is Christie. We're meeting a friend of mine, Elizabeth. She'll be joining us in my new apartment shortly. You'll like her. She's a very nice girl. Don't say anything about yourself. Is that clear, Christie?

Christie nods.

INT. PAUL OWEN'S APARTMENT - NIGHT

The living room: ELIZABETH has kicked off her shoes and flopped down on the couch underneath the Baselitz. Elizabeth is an attractive, dark-haired society girl who models occasionally. Christie is sitting on the couch opposite her, pretending to examine a CD.

ELIZABETH
You look really familiar. Did you go to Dalton?

Christie shakes her head.

The kitchen: Bateman is grinding up tabs of Ecstasy and putting them in a bottle of wine.

In the living room Elizabeth is still staring at Christie as if she comes from Mars.

ELIZABETH
I think I met you at Au Bar, didn't I?
With Spicye?

Christie looks blank.

ELIZABETH
Well, maybe not with Spicy but it was definitely at Au Bar.

Christie still blank.

ELIZABETH
You know, Au Bar?

Christie shakes her head.

ELIZABETH
Anyway, Au Bar sucks now, it's terrible. I went to a birthday party there for Malcolm Forbes. Oh my God, please.

Bateman enters carrying the bottle of wine and two glasses.

Christie, who seems frightened, sips her wine and stares at the floor. There is an awkward silence.

CHRISTIE
This is nicer than your other apartment.

BATMAN
(offended that she prefers Owen's apartment)
It's not that nice.

Silence.

CHRISTIE
Where did you two meet?

ELIZABETH
Oh God! I met him at, oh God, the Kentucky Derby in '86 -- no, '87, and...
(turning to Patrick)
You were hanging out with that bimbo Allison Poole.
(sarcastically)
Hot number.

BATMAN
What do you mean, she was a hot number.

Uh huh?

BATeman
She's from... France.

A pause. Elizabeth looks at Bateman dubiously.

ELIZABETH
Where's your phone? I've got to call Harley.

Bateman hands her a cordless phone. She dials, and staring at Christie while she waits for someone to answer.

ELIZABETH
Where do you summer? Southampton?

Christie looks at Bateman and then back at Elizabeth.

CHRISTIE
No.

ELIZABETH
(listening to the receiver)
Oh god, it's his machine.

BATeman
Elizabeth, it's three in the morning.

ELIZABETH
He's a goddamn drug dealer! These are his peak hours.

BATeman
Don't tell him you're here.

ELIZABETH
Why would I?

Bateman has poured her another glass of wine. She downs the whole glass, making a face.

ELIZABETH Who?

BATEMAN
(whispering)
Paul Owen.

ELIZABETH
I want the number, idiot.
(She waves him away and continues into the receiver)
Anyway, I'm at Paul Norman's and I'll try you later and if I don't see you at Canal Bar tomorrow night I'm going to sick my hairdresser on you.

She hangs up.

ELIZABETH
Did you know that guy who disappeared? Didn't he work at Pierce & Pierce too? Was he a friend of yours?

BATEMAN
No.

ELIZABETH
Do you have any coke? Or Halcyon? I'd take a Halcyon.

Bateman sits next to Elizabeth on the couch and pours her another glass of the drugged wine.

BATEMAN
Listen, I would just like to see... the two of you... get it on. What's wrong with that? It's totally disease-free.

ELIZABETH

Patrick, you're a lunatic.

BATEMAN
Come on. Don't you find Christie attractive?

ELIZABETH
Let's not get lewd. (flirty) I'm in no mood to have a lewd conversation.

BATEMAN
Come on. I think it would be a turn-on.

ELIZABETH
(to Christie)
Does he do this all the time?

Christie shrugs.

BATEMAN
Christie, you're not drinking your wine.

Christie looks at her wine and gingerly takes a sip.

BATEMAN
(to Elizabeth)
Are you telling me you've never gotten it on with a girl?

ELIZABETH
No! I'm not a lesbian. Why do you think I'd be into that?

BATEMAN
Well, you went to Sarah Lawrence for one thing.

ELIZABETH
Those are Sarah Lawrence guys, Patrick. You're making me feel weird.

LATER:

Elizabeth is now writhing around on the couch and making out with Christie.

Bateman holds up a Whitney Houston CD, showing them the picture of Whitney on the cover.

album on a first listening.

ELIZABETH
You actually listen to Whitney Houston?
You actually have a Whitney Houston CD?
More than one?

She giggles, rolling off the sofa onto the floor.

BATEMAN
(ignoring her)
It's hard to choose a favorite track among so many great ones, but 'The Greatest Love of All' is one of the best, most powerful songs ever written about self-preservation and dignity. It's universal message crosses all boundaries, and instills one with the hope that it's not too late to better ourselves, to act kinder. Since, Elizabeth, it's impossible in the world we live in to empathize with others, we can always empathize with ourselves.

As he speaks, he opens the case and carefully places the CD in the player, admiring its pristine silver surface, and watches it slide into the machine.

BATEMAN
It's an important message, crucial, really, and it's beautifully stated on the album.

INT. BEDROOM - LATER

AN OUT OF FOCUS HOME VIDEO SHOT OF Elizabeth, Christie and Bateman in the throes of sex, in the master bedroom.

CUT BACK TO WIDE SHOT of the bedroom, partially blocked by the video camera in the foreground. Their bodies are an incoherent tangle of arms and legs. The only sounds are moans, heavy breathing and the slapping of flesh against flesh.

CLOSE ON Christie's head and shoulders. Her eyes are shut as she grimly concentrates on giving a good professional performance, turning her head every so often to check the progress of her partners.

OFF SCREEN WE HEAR Elizabeth panting in genuine pleasure, moaning loudly. Her voice gets louder and louder and then shifts to actual pain.

Bateman rises up off the bed, suddenly appearing behind Christie. There is blood on his face.

Christie turns her head and sees him. She screams and leaps off the bed, running out of the room. She slams the mirrored door behind her, and as it swings shut for a split second we see Elizabeth writhing in pain on the bed.

We follow Christie out of the room, panicking, screaming.

Christie runs down a darkened hallway, frantically opening doors, looking for an escape.

She hears the SOUND OF A CHAINSAW coming from the bedroom.

She opens a closet. The closet lights up as she opens the door and sees two dead women hanging inside. She screams, then claps a hand over her mouth. She stops and listens. THE DISTANT SOUND OF THE CHAINSAW.

She backs away slowly, into another dark room, lit only by the light from a television set. Through the darkness she sees a head on the top of the TV and starts to whimper.

She runs towards the nearest door. Finding herself in the main hallway, she begins to jog toward the front door, then runs.

Bateman appears from nowhere, holding the chainsaw, spattered with blood.

Christie screams and changes direction. Bateman leaps at her, bellowing.

They run through the bedroom and into the bathroom. Christie trips over Elizabeth's body, which is half in the bathtub.

Both are slipping on the floor, which is slick with blood.

Christie falls, tries to get up. Bateman grabs her leg. He tries to bite it.

She kicks him in the face and gets up, running toward the front door.

He runs after her.

BATEMAN
Not the face, you bitch. Not the fucking face you piece of bitch trash.

Christie, screaming, makes it out the front door.

Bateman runs after her.

She runs down the hall screaming and banging on doors.

She moves to the elevator, pounding hysterically on the buttons. She sees the stairwell and runs for it.

Bateman sees this and runs after her, revving the chainsaw.

She runs down the stairs, Bateman two flights behind her. He stops, leans over the railing to look at her, then aims the chainsaw at her and drops it.

Christie SCREAMS OFF SCREEN, then is suddenly silent.

From Bateman's POV. We see Christie's body sprawled face down at the bottom of the stairwell. The chainsaw sticks out of her back like a sword.

INT. CRAYONS - EARLY EVENING

An insanely expensive restaurant with a childhood motif: paper tablecloths and jars of crayons for drawing, lots of primary colors, and a goldfish bowl on each table.

Bateman is at a table with Evelyn. They are both drawing on the tablecloth. Bateman is drawing Christie with the chainsaw in her back.

EVELYN
I want a firm commitment.

BATEMAN
(speaking very carefully, measuring each word)
I think, Evelyn, that...we've lost touch.

Evelyn waves to a couple across the room.

EVELYN (distracted) Why? What's wrong?

BATEMAN
My need to engage in homicidal behaviour on a massive scale cannot be, um, corrected...but I have no other way to fulfill my ... needs.

The woman across the room holds up her hand, displaying a new bracelet.

Evelyn smiles and nods approvingly.

Touchy, touchy.

BATEMAN
I'm fucking serious. It's fucking over.
Us. This is no joke. I don't think we should see each other any more.

EVELYN
But your friends are my friends. My friends are your friends. I don't think it would work.
(reaching over to dab his face with a napkin)
You have a little something on your upper lip.

BATEMAN
(brushing her hand away)
Listen I know that your friends are my friends and vice versa. I've thought about that.
(pause)
You can have them.

EVELYN
You're really serious, aren't you?

Yes, I am.

EVELYN
But what about our past?

BATEMAN
We never really shared one.

EVELYN You're inhuman.

BATEMAN
I'm ... in touch with humanity.

EVELYN
No, no, no.

BATEMAN
I know my behaviour is ... erratic sometimes.

She reaches desperately across the table, takes his hand and pulls it to her.

Bateman pulls his hand away.

EVELYN
What do you want me to do, what is it you want?

The occupants of nearby tables begin to stare. Bateman is becoming increasingly agitated.

BATEMAN
(looking uncomfortably around the room)
If you really want to do something for me you can stop making this scene right now.

EVELYN
You're so lousy. You are not...

BATEMAN
Not what?

EVELYN
You are not all there. You don't add up.

EVELYN

Oh God, I can't believe this.

BATEMAN
I'm leaving now. I've assessed the situation and I'm going.

EVELYN
Where are you going?

BATEMAN
I'm just leaving.

EVELYN
But where?

BATEMAN
I have to return some video tapes.

He rushes out of the room.

EXT. TRIBECA STREET - EVENING

BATEMAN wanders into misty Tribeca streets, sees a stray cat.

BATEMAN
Here kitty, kitty.

The small mangy cat rubs against him, he picks it up and walks toward an ATM holding the cat. He puts his card in the machine. The screen reads: FEED ME A STRAY CAT.

Bateman begins to attempt to shove the kitten into the deposit slot with some difficulty. The kitten squeals. He takes a gun from out of his pocket and points it at the kitten. He doesn't notice the woman waiting behind him.

WOMAN
Oh my god! Stop that! What are you doing?

Bateman wheels around and shoots her. She falls screaming to the floor.

Responding to the gunshot, A POLICE CAR SIREN WAILS in the distance. Bateman breaks into a run. The police car screeches after him.

EXT. ALLEY - NIGHT

A COP rushes towards him, seemingly from out of nowhere, and tackles him, trying to get the gun away from him.

Bateman manages to shoot the cop in the face while both of them have their hands on the gun, then shoots him again. He reloads the gun. The sound of more COP CARS arriving.

He runs out of the alley.

EXT. STREET - NIGHT

As he reaches the street he finds A PHALANX OF POLICE CARS approaching.

COP CAR
Halt. Put down your weapon.

The COPS leap out and fire a warning shot in the air. Bateman shoots at them. The police return fire.

Bateman ducks down behind a parked car and continues shooting wildly.

A bullet hits the gas tank of one of the police cars. It catches fire and explodes. The flames light up the scene, illuminating the bodies of policemen both living and dead.

NEW ANGLE: Bateman flees from the scene. The camera follows him as he runs along a row of Porsches, trying to open each one, setting off a cacophony of CAR ALARMS.

THE SOUND OF POLICE SIRENS draws near.

NEW ANGLE: He runs, panting, until he ends up in front of a tall, brilliantly lit office building. As he approaches, the lights in the building are going off floor by floor.

INT. OFFICE BUILDING - NIGHT

He rushes into the lobby, running for the elevator.

NIGHT WATCHMAN

Bateman wheels around and shoots him. He runs toward the revolving doors. As he swings round in the doors he notices a JANITOR who has witnessed the shooting. He revolves back into the lobby and shoots the janitor.

NEW ANGLE: He runs out of the building and across the street to Pierce and Pierce.

INT. PIERCE & PIERCE LOBBY - NIGHT

BATEMAN nods at the Pierce & Pierce NIGHT WATCHMAN and signs in.

He breathes a sigh of relief as the elevator doors close behind him.

INT. BATEMAN'S OFFICE - NIGHT

Bateman stands looking out through the floor length windows at a panoramic night view of the city and the river.

Below him he sees a SWAT TEAM swarming over the roof of the adjacent building, ambulances standing by, flares everywhere, distant sirens.

Suddenly, THE SOUND OF A HELICOPTER draws near. Frightened, he drops to the floor behind his desk.

Helicopter search lights scan the building, illuminating Bateman's office for a few moments with a blaze of light.

He is crouched in one corner, half-sobbing, talking into the phone, as the search light keeps circling.

BATEMAN

Harold, it's Bateman. Patrick Bateman. You're my lawyer so I think you should know - I've killed a lot of people. Some escort girls, in an apartment uptown, some homeless people, maybe five or ten, an NYU girl I met in Central Park. I left her in a parking lot, near Dunkin' Donuts. I killed Bethany, my old girlfriend, with a nail gun, and a man, some old faggot with a dog. Last week I killed another girl with a chainsaw - I had to, she almost got away. There was someone else there, maybe a model, I can't remember but she's dead too. And Paul Owen. I killed Paul Owen with an ax, in the face. His body is dissolving in a bathtub in Hell's Kitchen. I don't want to leave anything (MORE) out here...

I guess I've killed 20 people, maybe 40 -
I have tapes of a lot of it. Some of the girls have seen the tapes, I even... well I ate some of their brains and I tried to cook a little. Tonight I just, well I had to kill a lot of people and I'm not sure I'm going to get away with it this time - I mean I guess I'm a pretty sick guy.
So - if you get back tomorrow, I may show up at Harry's Bar so, you know, keep your eyes open.

Bateman hangs up the phone. The helicopter search light circles back, briefly illuminating the room. The camera rises up over Bateman huddled in the corner, staring blankly at the sky.

INT. SMITH AND WOLLENISKY RESTAURANT - DAY

Kimball and Bateman are sitting at a corner table.

KIMBALL
(very surprised)
No hash browns?

BATEMAN
Not in the mood, I guess.

KIMBALL
But... everyone orders the hash browns here. I mean-- it's-- have you been here before?

BATEMAN
(deliberately nonchalant)
Yes, of course. The hash browns are delicious. I'm just... not.. ordering them.

KIMBALL (looking at him like he's nuts)
Suit yourself, I guess.

Pause.

KIMBALL
So, the night he disappeared? Any new thoughts on what you did?
CONTINUED:

BATEMAN
I'm not really sure. I had a shower...and some sorbet?

KIMBALL
I think maybe you've got your dates mixed up.

BATEMAN
But how? Where do you place Paul that night?

KIMBALL
According to his date book, and this was verified by his secretary, he had dinner with ... Marcus Halberstam.

BATEMAN And?

KIMBALL
I've questioned him.

BATEMAN Marcus?

KIMBALL
Yes. And he denies it. Though at first he couldn't be sure.

BATEMAN
But Marcus denied it?

KIMBALL
Yes.

BATEMAN
Well, does Marcus have an alibi?

KIMBALL
Yes.

A pause.

BATEMAN
He does? You're sure?

KIMBALL
(smiling)
I checked it out. It's clean.

BATEMAN
Oh.

CONTINUOUS: (2)

KIMBALL
Now where were you?
(he laughs)

BATEMAN
(laughing with him)
Where was Marcus?

KIMBALL
He wasn't with Paul Owen.

BATEMAN
So who was he with?

KIMBALL
He was at Atlantis with Craig McDermott, Frederick Dibble, Harry Newman, George Butner and - (he pauses, then looks up) - you.

A moment of stunned silence.

BATEMAN
Oh, right. Of course.... We had wanted Paul Owen to come. But he said he had plans... I guess I had dinner with Victoria... the following night.

KIMBALL
Personally I think the guy went a little nutso. Split town for a while. Maybe he did go to London. Sightseeing. Drinking. Whatever. Anyway, I'm pretty sure he'll turn up sooner or later.
(a pause)
I mean to think that one of his friends killed him, for no reason whatsoever would be too ridiculous. Isn't that right, Patrick?

McDermott stops by the table.

MCDERMOTT
Kimball! How's the investigation? Talking to Bateman? Don't believe a word he says.
(laughs uproariously, slapping him on the back)
Bateman, what's wrong with you?

Bateman looks at him in silence, panicking.

MCDERMOTT
You can't eat at Smith and Wollensky without ordering the hash browns. Jesus Bateman, you're a raving maniac. Been at Pierce & Pierce too long.
(he wanders off muttering:)
No fucking hash browns...

INT. PAUL OWEN'S APARTMENT BUILDING – DAY

Bateman walks into the lobby of Paul Owen's building. He has a surgical mask in one hand.

DOORMAN
What can I do for you, sir?

BATEMAN 20B.

DOORMAN
Of course. Mrs. Wolfe is up there right now.

BATEMAN
Mrs.... Wolfe?

DOORMAN
The real estate agent? You do have an appointment, don't you?

Bateman steps out of the elevator and walks cautiously down the hallway.

Owen's door is open. The apartment is freshly painted, and has been immaculately redecorated in English country house style: overstuffed sofas, lots of chintz. There are flowers everywhere, and a YOUNG YUPPIE COUPLE stands admiring the place talking to the realtor, MRS. WOLFE.

Bateman wanders down the hallway, looking for familiar signs. He stops at the closet where we last saw two dead girls hanging. He opens the door and the light switches on, but it is empty.

Mrs. Wolfe approaches, smiling.

MRS. WOLFE
Are you my two o'clock?

BATEMAN
No.

(continued)
Mrs. Wolfe eyes him strangely, then looks down at the surgical mask clutched in his hand. Her expression changes.

MRS. WOLFE
Can I help you?

BATEMAN
I'm looking for... Paul Owen's... place.

She stares at him impassively.

BATEMAN
Doesn't he live here?

MRS. WOLFE
No, he doesn't.

BATEMAN
Are you sure?

MRS. WOLFE
You saw the ad in the Times?

BATEMAN
No. Yes. I mean yes, I did. In the Times. But... doesn't Paul Owen still live here?

MRS. WOLFE
There was no ad in the Times.

Bateman is shaking as they continue to stare at each other.

MRS. WOLFE
I think you should go now.

BATEMAN
But I think... I want to know what happened here.

MRS. WOLFE
Don't make any trouble. Please. I suggest you go.

Bateman backs away slowly.

MRS. WOLFE
Don't come back.

BATEMAN
I won't... don't worry.

Mrs. Wolfe glares at him as he walks down the hall, rattled, and gets into the elevator.

EXT. DEPARTMENT STORE – DAY

Bateman enters the revolving door of an office building, panicking and breathing heavily. He is sweating, his hair is wild, and he looks deranged. He goes around the revolving door twice and comes out onto the street again, where he bumps smack into a GUY just like him.

GUY
Hey, Kinsley.

Bateman looks up at him wild-eyed.

GUY
See you at Fluties, okay?

The guy walks away, utterly unfazed. Bateman wanders down the street, banging his briefcase against walls, garbage cans, etc.

EXT. MIDTOWN PHONE BOOTH – DAY

Bateman searches his pockets for pills. He finds three different pills and swallows them. He's sweating, and takes his jacket off to wipe his face, dialing a number.

JEAN (O.C.)
Patrick Bateman's office.

BATEMAN
Jean? Hello? Jean?

JEAN (O.C.)
Patrick? Is that you?

BATEMAN
Hello? Jean, I need help!

JEAN (O.C.)
Where are you?

BATEMAN
Jean – I'm not –

JEAN (O.C.)
Craig McDermott called. He wants to meet you and David Van Patten and Tim Price at Harry's for drinks.

(CONTINUED)

BATEMAN
Oh god, what did you say, you dumb bitch?

JEAN (O.C.)
Patrick? I can't hear you.

BATEMAN
What am I doing?

JEAN (O.C.)
Where are you? Patrick, what's wrong?

BATEMAN
I don't think I'm gonna make it, Jean.

Pause.

BATEMAN
...to the office this afternoon.

JEAN (O.C.)
Why?

BATEMAN (screaming)
Just...say...no!

JEAN (O.C.)
What is it, Patrick? Are you alright?

BATEMAN
Stop sounding so fucking sad! Jesus!

He hangs up. He throws the Walkman which is around his neck into a nearby trash can, and wipes his face with his jacket.

CUT TO

INT. BATEMAN'S OFFICE - SAME DAY

Jean sits at Bateman's desk. She is examining a video tape labelled 'Christie and Elizabeth'. She walks over to the television console in the corner of the room and inserts the tape. We hear Elizabeth's voice:

ELIZABETH (O/S)
Those are Sarah Lawrence guys Patrick.
You're making me feel weird...

INT. HARRY'S BAR - EVENING

Bateman comes into the bar, a little cleaned up from the previous scene (he's smoothed his hair), but still panicking (CONTINUED) and disheveled. He spots his friends in a corner, sits down, still breathing heavily.

Price is on his cellphone, trying to get reservations.

MCDERMOTT
Bateman, you're looking a little wild-eyed - rough day at the office?

They all laugh.

MCDERMOTT
Hey look - Price is back. And he's drinking Perrier. He's a changed man.
Except...he still can't get a reservation to save his life.

Bateman sits down silently.

MCDERMOTT
Why don't you try 150 Wooster? Just fucking call them.

BATEMAN
(on automatic)
I'm not going anywhere unless we have a reservation.

VAN PATTEN
Le Cirque, Flamingo East, Oyster Bar, come on, faggots - just get a res.

PRICE
Keep your shirt on. Maybe lose the suspenders.

Bateman spots HAROLD CARNES at the bar, tenses.

BATEMAN
(he downs his drink)
Excuse me, gentleman. Right back.

He approaches Carnes cautiously.

CARNES
Face it - the Japanese will own most of this country by the end of the 90s.

Bateman approaches, trying to act casual.

BATEMAN
Shut up, Carnes, they will not.

Carnes is surprised, turns around, looks vaguely confused.

(Continued)

BATEMAN
So Harold, did you get my message?

Carnes lights a cigarette, stalling. Then laughs.

CARNES
Jesus, Davis. Yes. That was hilarious.
That was you, wasn't it?

BATEMAN
(waving smoke out of his face)
Yes, naturally.

CARNES
Bateman killing Owen and the escort girls? Oh that's fabulous. That's rich.

Pause.

CARNES
It was a pretty long message, wasn't it?

BATEMAN
What exactly do you mean?

CARNES
The message you left.

Carnes is distracted, waving at people.

CARNES
By the way, Davis, how is Cynthia?
You're still seeing her, right?

BATEMAN
But wait, Harold, what do you mean?

Carnes isn't really listening.

CARNES
Excuse me. Nothing. Good to see you.
Is that Edward Towers?

He turns to go.

BATEMAN
Carnes? Wait.

CARNES
(sighing)
Davis, I'm not one to bad mouth anyone, your joke was amusing. But come on, man, you had one fatal flaw: Bateman's such a dork, such a boring, spineless lightweight, that I couldn't fully appreciate it. I wasn't fooled for a second. Now, if you'd said Price, or McDermott...Otherwise, it was amusing.

Now, let's have lunch or dinner or something. Hilarious, Davis. A killer.

BATEMAN
What are you talking about? Bateman is what?

CARNES
Oh Christ. He can barely pick up an escort girl, let alone... what was it you said he did to her?

Carnes looks around the club, raises his glass to a passing couple. He laughs politely.

CARNES
Now, if you'll excuse me, I really must...

BATEMAN
(desperate, shouting) Wait. Stop. You don't seem to understand. You're not really comprehending any of this. I killed him.
I did it, Carnes. I'm Patrick Bateman. I chopped Owen's fucking head off. I tortured dozens of girls. The whole message I left on your machine was true.

CARNES
Excuse me. I really must be going.

BATEMAN
No! Listen, don't you know who I am? I'm not Davis, I'm Patrick Bateman! I talk to you on the phone all the time! Don't you recognize me? You're my lawyer.

Carnes stares at him in confusion and annoyance.

BATEMAN
Now Carnes, listen to me. Listen very, very carefully. I killed Paul Owen and I liked it. I can't make myself any clearer.

CARNES
But that's simply not possible. And I don't find this funny anymore.

CONTINUED: (4)

BATEMAN
It never was supposed to be! Why isn't it possible?

CARNES
(eyeing Bateman worriedly)
It's just not.

BATEMAN
Why not, you stupid bastard?

Carnes stares at him.

CARNES
Because I had dinner with Paul Owen twice in London... just ten days ago.

BATEMAN
No, you... didn't?

CARNES
Now, if you'll excuse me.

Bateman returns back to his friends' table, in a daze.

They are all looking at the television, where Ronald Reagan is giving a speech about Iran Contra. They are halfheartedly arguing about whether or not he's lying.

PRICE
How can he lie like that? How can he pull that shit?

VAN PATTEN
What shit? Now where do we have reservations at? I mean I'm not really hungry, but I would like to have reservations somewhere.

PRICE
(to Bateman)
I don't believe it. He looks so .... normal. He seems so...out of it. So...undangerous.

MCDERMOTT
He is totally harmless, you geek. Was totally harmless. Just like you are totally harmless. But he did do all that shit and you have failed to get us into 150, so you know, what can I say?

CONTINUED: (5)

PRICE
I just don't see how someone, anyone, can appear that way and yet be involved in such total shit. How can you be so fucking, I don't know, cool about it?

VAN PATTEN
Some guys are just born cool, I guess.

Bateman laughs at this. Price shoots him a look.

PRICE
And Bateman, what are you so fucking zany about?

BATEMAN
I'm just a happy camper. Rockin' and a rollin'.

VAN PATTEN
(to Price)
Rehab's done wonders for you, pal. Working for UNICEF now?

MCDERMOTT
Do you want another Perrier, Timothy? Some seltzer water?

PRICE
Oh brother. Look - he presents himself as a harmless old codger. But inside...

Pause.

PRICE
But inside...

THE SOUNDS OF THE BAR FADE AWAY and we hear Bateman's thoughts:

BATEMAN V/O
But inside doesn't matter...

THE SOUNDS OF THE BAR RETURN.

MCDERMOTT (bored)
Inside? Yes, inside? Believe it or not, Price, we're actually listening to you.

PRICE
Bateman? Come on, what do you think?

Bateman looks up and smiles at Price. Then shrugs.

BATEMAN

Whatever.

The conversation breaks up, as Van Patten takes out his phone.

VAN PATTEN

Whose moronic idea was it to drink dry beers? I need a scotch.

The sounds of the bar fade down. The following voice over runs over images of Bateman and his friends ordering drinks, talking on portable phones, talking, laughing -- combined with images of other, very similar young men at other tables drinking, talking on portable phones, talking, laughing.

BATEMAN V/O

There are no more barriers to cross. All I have in common with the uncontrollable and the insane, the vicious and the evil, all the mayhem I have caused and my utter indifference toward it, I have now surpassed...

INT. BATEMAN'S OFFICE - DAY

Jean is alone in Bateman's office, watching the video.

From the screen comes the SOUND of a chainsaw, and a woman screaming. Jean has her head in her hands and looks lost and terrified. She is crying.

BATEMAN V/O

My pain is constant and sharp and I do not hope for a better world for anyone. In fact I want my pain to be inflicted on others. I want no one to escape.

INT. HARRY'S BAR - EARLY EVENING

As the film ends the camera moves CLOSE on Bateman. He is leaning back in his leather armchair, drinking a double scotch, his eyes blank.

BATEMAN V/O

But even after admitting this, there is no catharsis. I gain no deeper knowledge about myself, no new knowledge can be extracted from my telling. There has been no reason for me to tell you any of this. This confession has meant nothing...
