Thanksgiving Health & Safety Tips

- Host outdoor rather than indoor gatherings as much as possible. Even outdoors, require guests to wear masks when not eating or drinking.
- Avoid holding gatherings in crowded, poorly ventilated spaces with persons who are not in your household.
- Think of creative ways to share the experience remotely instead of in-person.
- Grocery shop online and help elderly or higher-risk loved ones.
- Wear cloth face coverings and keep your distance.
- Remind everyone to follow safety steps beforehand.
- If you are traveling by car, drive with family members in a private vehicle to avoid exposure to people outside your household if possible.
- If you must travel by air, remember to maintain physical distance in security lines and concourses and wear masks in airports and planes.

Remember: Do not host or participate in any in-person festivities if you or anyone in your household has been diagnosed with COVID-19 and is still at risk of spreading it to others, had any coronavirus symptoms within 48 hours of the gathering, is waiting for viral test results, could have been exposed to someone in the last 14 days or is at high risk.

Stay safe during Thanksgiving 2020 and your family will be even more grateful for your traditions in the years to come.
