75th WORLD WAR II
COMMEMORATION CEREMONY

September 2, 2020
Pearl Harbor, Hawai‘i
It was on board the USS Missouri in Tokyo Bay on September 2, 1945, that General MacArthur, Admiral Chester Nimitz and representatives of the Allied Powers accepted Japan’s formal surrender, bringing to an end the bloodiest war in world history. The heartfelt words of General MacArthur, spoken on that day, are still with us:

“It is my earnest hope, and indeed the hope of all mankind, that from this solemn occasion a better world shall emerge out of the blood and carnage of the past – a world founded upon faith and understanding, a world dedicated to the dignity of man and the fulfillment of his most cherished wish for freedom, tolerance, and justice.”

— General Douglas MacArthur, September 2, 1945

Aligning with the sequence of history, and coming full circle, it is our privileged duty to preserve the legacy of patriotism and the sacrifice of our Greatest Generation, commemorating their indelible mark upon world history. We are mindful that this historic tribute may be the last commemoration to include participation of remaining WWII survivors.

Dear Friends,

We are honored to serve as the Co-Chairs of the 75th Anniversary of the End of World War II commemoration committee. Alongside our Presenting Sponsor, Linda Hope who represents the Bob Hope Legacy as a part of the Bob & Dolores Hope Foundation, we encourage you to join us in commemorating this historic occasion by supporting two seminal events in 2020, marking the end of the war in Europe and the Pacific.

Our hope is that these events will preserve our nation’s memory of a time when the United States persevered with selflessness and courage in the face of tyranny. We also hope to inspire our fellow citizens and freedom-loving people around the world by celebrating the legacy and character of those who have been called America’s “Greatest Generation.”

World War II was perhaps the single greatest unification of the American people in our nation’s history. The sacrifices demanded by the global conflict touched every citizen. Military service became commonplace. Americans capable of donning a military uniform dutifully raised their hands. The oath of service was pledged by citizens of every stripe. The burden was not carried by a mere few.

Those who did not wear the uniform supported those who did. Women entered the workforce in historic numbers to keep American industry running. The American Red Cross mobilized to collect blood donations and furnish aid to the sick and wounded. Every American made daily sacrifices at home to keep gasoline and critical materials flowing to the frontlines. Even famous entertainers like Bob Hope and his peers committed their time and energies to not only entertain the troops as they served, but to energize fund raising efforts for this country’s war efforts. All these people were patriots and heroes.

Americans responded to World War II with one of the finest examples of joint commitment to our country and to each other. Since our Founding Fathers, no generation has better understood the peril of division. They recognized that above all else, we are all Americans bound by common, timeless values. Through the World War II generation’s resiliency, spirit and patriotism, the United States and our allies were victorious, and America emerged as a global leader.

We need your help. Please join our campaign to commemorate the End of World War II. The events planned in Washington, D.C. and Oahu next May and September, including historic flyovers, may be our last opportunity to honor the service and sacrifice of our veterans and our heroes, celebrating the impact they had on our lives.

The history made by the World War II generation is too precious to lose to time. The accomplishments of the “Greatest Generation” are too valuable to forget. Together, we can preserve the legacy of World War II and remind our nation of what can be achieved by the American spirit.

Sincerely,

Bob and Elizabeth Dole

Maintained and operated as the Battleship Missouri Memorial under the tireless care of the association’s staff and volunteers, its continued success as a historic attraction is made possible by the support of visitors, memberships, grants and the generosity of donors.
