The National Partnership to End Interpersonal Violence Across the Lifespan (NPEIV) was founded by Jacquelyn White and Robert Geffner. It grew out of their collaboration with APA president Alan Kazdin’s presidential initiative on violence that resulted in the February 2008 APA Summit on Violence and Abuse in Relationships: Connecting Agendas and Forging New Directions. In September 2008 the first Think Tank was held to determine the future of the fledgling partnership. It was decided that NPEIV would integrate across all aspects of interpersonal violence in order to link research, practice, policy and advocacy.

Over the years NPEIV has continued to grow and establish itself as an organization. The name "National Partnership to End Interpersonal Violence Across the Lifespan" and the NPEIV logo were chosen in January 2009 during the APA National Multicultural Summit. In February 2010 the first 11 Action Teams were developed.

From there, NPEIV increased its efforts toward interpersonal violence prevention across the fields of research, practice, policy and advocacy. In addition to an annual forum focused on training and education, NPEIV has spear-headed the publication of several special issues in leading violence and trauma journals, been involved with the publishing of several interpersonal violence journals, participated in federal roundtables and congressional briefings, and helped establish a national curriculum geared toward interpersonal violence prevention.

Today, NPEIV continues its dedication to interpersonal violence prevention primarily through five Action Teams - Public Policy & Engagement, Training & Mentoring, Practice, Research & Dissemination, and Global Peace – which meet regularly to discuss their projects and goals, and Action Team chairs meet with the Board of Directors monthly to provide updates. It is through the collective efforts of our members that we continue to strive toward the goal of a violence-free future for all. For more information visit npeiv.org.

About the 25th San Diego International Virtual Summit

Description & Goals

This Summit is a unique forum for professionals across all disciplines and philosophies to gather for in-depth exchange of current information on all facets of violence, abuse and trauma prevention, intervention and research. We are one of the very few events that include researchers, practitioners, advocates, survivors, and front-line workers from all disciplines to share information, discuss controversial issues, and engage in difficult dialogues. We strive to infuse our theme of transforming trauma into triumph into the presentations as well as into the thoughtfulness and professionalism reflected throughout the Summit. We continue to focus on linking research, practice, policy and advocacy.

The vision of the Summit organizers, co-sponsors, collaborating organizations, exhibitors, and participants is to make a significant, positive impact on eliminating all forms of violence, abuse, and trauma everywhere. We are expecting over 1,000 attendees from around the globe to come together drawing from multi-ethnic and multicultural perspectives. Opportunities for networking are scheduled into the program to enhance informal discussions of cutting-edge research, prevention and intervention strategies, policy changes, innovative methods, healthcare approaches, advanced clinical concepts and skill-building essentials.
