Job title or line of work:

Your emotional, mental and physical health:

What do you wish to gain by working together?

What is your main, or most important goal?

How important is it for you to achieve this?

What will it mean to you, your family, your health, your relationships, your performance, your career, and your life to achieve this?

What has got in the way, slowed you down or stopped you from achieving this?

Have you received any coaching or mentoring for this in the past and if so, what was it?

How did it help you?

In what way, if at all, did it not help you?

In your own mind, what do you expect from a yearly intensive, immersive coaching programme with me?

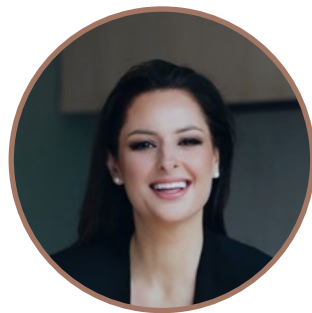

Are you ready to make an investment of 60,000 in yourself, to turn your life around?

Are you open and ready to be coached by me on a weekly or fortnightly basis, and stick to it no matter how challenging it might get?

In this area please tell me anything else that will give me more information about you and your reason for applying.

Thank you.

Once completed please email this form to me at info@jessie-rose.com and I'll be in touch within two working days to let you know if you've qualified for an exploration call.
