Losing a loved one to an overdose is difficult for the surviving family.

For children, the loss of a caregiver sometimes results in behaviors or emotions that are difficult to manage.

Supporting Children is here for your family.

If your child is experiencing emotional outbursts or behavioral concerns at home, school, and/or with peers, our licensed therapists can help.*

THIS PROGRAM IS FREE AND CONFIDENTIAL

*Supporting Children is not grief counseling. This program provides therapy for children who are having difficulty managing their behavior and emotions. We will provide services in the location of your choosing.

Call / Text 988

If you or your child are having thoughts of suicide or are in crisis, call or text the 24/7 Crisis Team

Supporting Children helps children process the trauma of losing a parent to opioid overdose. The program utilizes the evidence-based intervention, Trauma Systems Therapy (TST), developed by NYU Langone Health. Case Western Reserve University provides program evaluation.

SAMHSA
Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration

A PARTNER IN

NCTSN
The National Child Traumatic Stress Network

CASE WESTERN RESERVE UNIVERSITY

www.FrontLineService.org
1744 Payne Avenue • Cleveland, OH 44114

This brochure was supported in part by grant number H79SM084804 from the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA). The content of this public action does not necessarily reflect the views or polices of SAMHSA or the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.
We provide

- Assessment of child’s needs
- Weekly in-home / community-based therapy
- 6-12 months of support
- At your request, help advocating with:
  - Schools
  - Child welfare
  - The legal system

Who we serve

- Cuyahoga County children ages 5-17
- Children who have lost a caregiver to opioid overdose or experienced something similar
- Children experiencing behaviors such as:
  - Withdrawal
  - Self-harm
  - Irritability
  - Inattention
  - Aggression
  - Shutting down

Supporting Children
(216) 361-8640
supportingchildren@frontlineservice.org