Thanks to generous donations from supporters, the PATH Foundation has transformed the landscape of our city through more than 280 miles of multi-use trails over the past 28 years. PATH trails are linear parks that span hundreds of neighborhoods, providing safe and accessible greenspaces that link residential, commercial, and undeveloped pockets of greater metro Atlanta and the state. Today, as the city continues to grow, the PATH Foundation is poised to make Atlanta the most trail-connected city in the country.
