Update on Efforts to Prevent Hunger During COVID-19 Pandemic

Lisa Hamler-Fugitt
Executive Director
Ohio Association of Foodbanks

April 17, 2020

Ohio’s largest charitable response to hunger, representing Ohio’s 12 Feeding America foodbanks and 3,600 member agencies
2019 Foodbank Service Statistics

Our network is made up of 12 Feeding America foodbanks and 3,601 member food pantries, soup kitchens shelters, and supplemental feeding programs, serving all of Ohio’s 88 counties.

In state fiscal year 2019, our network distributed 229,546,132 pounds of food, or about 191.3 million meals.

Together, we served 3,438,315 households, containing 9,458,206 individuals, including:

- 2,871,974 children (30.4%)
- 4,689,228 adults (49.6%)
- 1,897,004 seniors (20.0%)

duplicated service statistics
First unduplicated count:

In calendar year 2019, we served more than 1.6 million different Ohioans through food pantries.

We provided another 15 million meals through hot meal programs.

That was before the COVID-19 outbreak, during a comparably strong economy.
The Perfect Storm

The COVID-19 outbreak has had a compounding, widespread impact on household food security and on our emergency hunger relief network.
Immediate Economic Impact
As more Ohioans heeded the Governor’s recommendation, and then order, to Stay At Home, businesses quickly began furloughing and laying off workers. Businesses and workers in nearly every industry were immediately impacted by loss of demand for their services.

Demand for Help with Food Surges
The Federal Reserve most recently estimated that nearly 4 in 10 American adults don’t have enough saved to cover a $400 emergency. That reality came to bear quickly on Ohio’s foodbanks, which experienced immediate 50% to 100% increases and more in requests for help with food.

Delay and Inadequacy in Federal Safety Net Response
H.R. 6201, signed into law by President Trump on March 18, 2020, will send additional commodities to the country’s hunger relief network, but that relief will take months to come. SNAP (food stamp) benefits will take time to rollout to displaced workers and will be inadequate.

Loss of Traditional Fundraising Dollars
Ohio’s foodbanks, like many nonprofits, rely on giving campaigns and in-person fundraising events to generate critical operating dollars. Those events have been cancelled and those dollars will be harder to come by as individuals and corporations feel pressure on their budgets.
Challenges to Community-Based Food Access
Ohio’s foodbanks traditionally rely on 3,600 food pantries, soup kitchens, and other feeding programs to reach people in need across Ohio’s 88 counties. Many of those agencies are beginning to close out of concern for volunteer safety or orders to suspend services.

Shift to Focus on Social Distancing
Normally, Ohio’s foodbanks promote client choice and community, offering an experience similar to grocery shopping at food pantries, as well as congregate, communal feeding at hot meal sites. The hunger relief network has quickly had to shift to pre-packed food and “to-go” meals.

Lack of Volunteer Support and Reduced Staff
Like many employers, Ohio’s foodbanks are coping with reductions in staff due to school closures and quarantine measures. Additionally, Ohio’s hunger relief network has had sharp declines in needed volunteer support as older adults and corporate volunteer groups have pulled back.

Threats to Food Supply Chain
With added pressure on grocers and food retailers as schools, daycares, and restaurants close, product that may have been donated to a foodbank will now be sold in primary or secondary markets. Further strain on the larger food supply chain will increase costs and limit availability.
Modifications to Hunger Relief

Ohio’s foodbanks and their member food pantries and hot meal programs have drastically altered services.

Summary of relief actions impacting food security at federal level

The Honorable Sonny Perdue
Secretary of Agriculture
U.S. Department of Agriculture
1400 Independence Avenue, S.W.
Washington, D.C. 20250

Dear Secretary Perdue:

We write in support of the Ohio Department of Job and Family Services’ (ODJFS) request to operate the Disaster Household Feeding Program, and to urge you to act swiftly on this request for the State of Ohio.

Ohioans are facing significant economic challenges as the country takes action to halt the spread of COVID-19. As more Ohioans lose work, emergency food providers in every part of the state are seeing a massive increase in demand for food assistance. According to ODJFS, as of March 26, 2020, the state has received more than 187,800 new claims in unemployment in a single week. During this time, many food banks reported a significant – greater than 50 percent – increase in clients, with roughly two-thirds of the total utilizing emergency food services for the first time.

What we need in the weeks and months ahead

We must continue to be #InThisTogetherOhio
We will continue to need philanthropic and private support. We will need additional, sustained support from the State of Ohio. And most importantly, we need a strong federal nutrition safety net and we need the State of Ohio to apply the safety net as broadly as possible.
COVID-19 Challenges and GCFB Response
April 17, 2020
Challenges in Service Delivery:
Decreased Supply & Increased Demand
The Growing Need

• 131,000+ individuals filed for unemployment in our six-county service area since beginning of March

• 8,500 new families served by GCFB in same period, with 4,000 of those new families served in the last two weeks

• 2,200+ avg. calls per week to GCFB Help Center since mid-March

• At the same time, more than 200 of our partner programs have closed their doors - nearly 100 of these closures include our Kids Café partners (afterschool meals) that typically operate in libraries, community centers, afterschool sites, etc.
Food Supply Challenges

- Food retail donations are down more than 40% over the past month

- Shelf-stable food is in demand for the families we serve, but it costs GCFB about $0.40 more per pound than fresh produce

- Our vendors have been impacted by supply chain issues, which causes delayed or cancelled orders (example: one vendor delayed our delivery because they ran out of food labels)
GCFB COVID-19 Service Delivery
Food is donated by retailers, manufacturers, and food drives, or acquired through state and federal nutrition programs. Money and food are also donated by businesses and individuals.

Once donations arrive at the Food Bank, volunteers sort, repackage, or prepare the food to be distributed to the community.

Local churches, community centers, schools, and other organizations partner with the Food Bank and order bulk food from our warehouse to have delivered to their location.

Agencies distribute food and/or serve prepared meals to hungry people in their communities. Nearly half of these clients are children or seniors.
Weekly GCFB Distributions

- Before COVID-19, we had a monthly produce distribution at our warehouse, serving an average of 800-900 families per month.

- Since mid-March when closures began, GCFB has been providing a weekly distribution.

- After only two weeks, we outgrew our space and relocated to the City of Cleveland Municipal Lot.

- 1/3 of families served have never been to emergency food program before.

Households Served by GCFB-Operated Food Distribution

- 3,570 households

16-Jan, 20-Feb, 19-Mar, 24-Mar, 31-Mar, 9-Apr

Number of Households

State of Emergency in OH
Other GCFB COVID-19 Efforts

• Providing 9,000 weekend backpacks per week to kids accessing to-go school meals

• Delivering 600 boxes of food each week to homebound seniors and disabled individuals who cannot access food during COVID-19 crisis

• Providing “walk-up” hours at GCFB at least 2x/week for individuals seeking food (~150-200 families per week)
COVID-19 Policy Priorities- abv.

Policy & Process Changes So Far

- SNAP emergency allotments
- Postponed redeterminations & simplified applications
- Waived ABAWD work requirements & time limits
- New flexibilities for WIC & child nutrition programs
- Disaster distribution authority for Food Banks
State Recommendations

1. Submit plan to FNS for Pandemic EBT
2. Share data on rising demand
3. Extend emergency SNAP allotments
4. Request additional administrative waivers from FNS
5. Pursue FNS’ online purchase pilot
6. Raise SNAP’s gross income limit to 200% FPL
State Recommendations

Priority #1

Ohio Should Enact a Pandemic-EBT Program to Help Kids

Since March 13, 1 in 4 of Ohio’s Children No Longer Have Access to Free and Reduced-Price Meals At School

Pandemic EBT Would Give Families A Monthly Electronic Benefits Card Worth The Value Of The Meals Kids Are Missing

Michigan and Rhode Island Have Approved P-EBT Programs

Other States Are In The Process Of Getting P-EBT

Learn More About the P-EBT Program and Why It’s Good For Ohio By Visiting CommSols.com/PandemicEBT
State Recommendations

#2: Share county-level data on rising demand

- Nationwide caseload projected to rise anywhere from 16% to 47%
- Metro counties reporting 3x to 5x increase in applications in April

Key question:
Is Ohio seeing a spike in applications or do access barriers remain?
State Recommendations

#3: Extend emergency SNAP allotments into May and June

So far, 450,000 SNAP households received SNAP supplement for March worth $80 million. Another supplement will be issued in late April.

Examples

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Supplement</th>
<th>No Supplement</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Family A gets $200/mo. in SNAP for 1 adult and 2 kids. Since this is less than the maximum SNAP of $509 for a family of 3, Family A will get a SNAP supplement of $309.</td>
<td>Family B gets $509/mo. in SNAP for 1 adult and 2 kids. This family will NOT get any extra SNAP because they get the maximum SNAP for 3 people.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Individual A gets $16/mo. in SNAP. The maximum SNAP for one is $194. This individual will get a supplement of $178.</td>
<td>Individual B gets $194/mo. in SNAP. This individual will NOT get any extra SNAP because they get the maximum SNAP.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
State Recommendations

#4: Request additional administrative waivers from FNS

- Suspend all claims activity
- Hold harmless period for Quality Control (QC) reviews
- Suspend, rather than terminate, households receiving short-term pandemic-related unemployment
State Recommendations

#5: Request to join SNAP Online Purchase Pilot

- More than 50% of SNAP households in Ohio include an elderly or disabled individual
- 10 states currently approved for online shopping with home delivery through SNAP

News Release

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
April 1, 2020

‘Click and Collect’ Grocery Shopping Available for Families Receiving Food Assistance

COLUMBUS, OHIO – Grocery stores and other retailers can offer online “click and collect” grocery shopping and curbside pickup for families in the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), the Ohio Department of Job and Family Services (ODJFS) learned this week. Families also can place orders over the phone.

Only a few retailers (Kroger, Walmart) currently able to offer curbside pickup for SNAP customers
State Recommendations

#6: Raise SNAP’s gross income limit to 200% FPL

• This is a state option that the DeWine administration could opt into any time.

• Brings in additional federal SNAP dollars at a time when state/local revenue is rapidly declining.

• Especially helpful for families of essential workers receiving relatively low wages

• For Family of 3, 130% FPL = $2,311 per month vs. 200% FPL = $3,620

• SNAP’s Net Income Test at 100% FPL still applies; Only families with significant deductions (e.g. housing and childcare costs) continue to qualify
Federal Recommendations

1. Increase SNAP benefits by 15% until the economy recovers
2. Increase minimum SNAP benefit to $30
3. Suspend all proposed rules that limit eligibility and cut benefits
4. Extend Pandemic EBT through summer
