

Each child is a world.
Each child with cancer is our world

Our Mission

MyChild'sCancer mission is to give hope to parents fighting childhood cancer by finding the best treatment for their child through a network of leading pediatric oncologists around the world, at no cost to the families.

While there are many nonprofits helping sick kids, we are the only organization coordinating video calls between world experts and parents to discuss a child's treatment options.

We then share knowledge and information from parents who have navigated their child's rare cancer with parents from around the world who are now starting their journey.

“MyChild’sCancer helped us with finding research, with mentorship and even document translation. It was valuable knowing that there was someone in the United States that could help with meaningful connections.”

What We Do

We walk with families throughout their difficult struggle against childhood cancer - every step of the way.

Our team of cancer experts and researchers have a deep understanding of pediatric cancers and access to information on treatments, procedures, emerging clinical trials & domain experts.

Our 3 pillars of service include:

- Personalized Treatment Research - finding best treatment options for each child and making it accessible.
- Local Support away from Home.
- WikiCancer Database & Testimonials.

Who We Are

We are a caring community of medical experts, researchers, family advocates, and volunteers. Together, we help families fighting childhood cancer find life-saving information and treatment options, anywhere in the world.

MyChild'sCancer was founded in 2010, and it has active branches in New York, New Jersey, Florida and Israel.

“MyChild’sCancer enabled us to receive an opinion from an expert, who had seen quite a few similar cases and confirmed that the treatment offered to our child was the right treatment.”

What Do Our Families Say About MyChild'sCancer?

"Words cannot describe your professional yet warm support during this difficult time in our lives. You are a truly one of a kind. You represent a winning combination of love and affection, empathy, wisdom, out-of-the-box thinking and experience. Your support helped us tremendously to go through this tough time in our lives."

-The Bernstein Family

How does our impact look like?

When faced with a leg amputation, 9-year-old Sarah's parents contacted our team in search of an alternate treatment option what will salvage her leg. Our team of medical researchers found such alternative, non invasive treatment. Sarah responded well to that treatment and today she stands tall on two legs.

Naomi, an 17-year-old girl was diagnosed with a tumor in her spine. Her parents had to make a decision whether or not to undergo complex surgery with risks of lifelong complications.

MyChild'sCancer team reached out to global experts who suggested an alternate course of treatment. The family uprooted to New Jersey for proton radiation therapy, and six months later, Naomi was cancer free. She went back home to study for her high school final exams.
