Please note that CEEISA is a small conference, so in many cases the panel chairs will also serve as discussants.

The chair's role is to briefly introduce the panel/roundtable to the audience, manage the time limits for presentation, and facilitate participation with the audience. We recommend leaving around 30 minutes at the end of the session for questions and answers from the audience.

The role of discussant is to read each of the papers on the panel and comment upon them in a constructive manner during the panel session. Each chair/discussant should contact the panel in advance of the conference and agree on the paper submission deadline individually. If a panelist does not submit their paper in advance, discussants are not obligated to comment on the paper at the panel session.
