The European Union has set a clear direction for the future of Europe with the Green Deal and the NextGenerationEU programme:

if we want to overcome the existential threat posed by climate change and reach the targets of the Paris Agreement, we need to transform our economies and societies, and design a Europe that works for everyone.

CSR Europe’s Leaders Groups represents the business’ contribution to the European Commission’s proposal for a Council recommendation on ensuring a fair transition towards climate neutrality.

In the Leaders Groups, selected corporate members will engage with national CSR networks, their value chain partners, and stakeholders, to ensure a Just Transition in Europe.

2021 has bluntly forced the world to recognize the need to accelerate the journey towards climate neutrality and the urgency for the adoption of an inclusive approach to the green and digital transition.

Europe is taking the lead in this transformation with the Green Deal, the European Pillar of Social Rights Action Plan, the Just Transition Mechanism, and the NextGenerationEU Programme.

In this context, Europe is the place where businesses can provide innovative solutions to meet present and future sustainability challenges and lead the transition in line with Europe's welfare state experience.
