GERMANY'S MIDDLE EASTERN CHILDREN

The 4/14 Window in Refugee Camps

Join us in praying for this neglected people group!

CENTRAL EUROPE:
Germany

MIDDLE EAST
*Syria, Afghanistan,
Iran and Iraq*

- Refugee Population in Germany:
745,000 (from Syria)
253,000 (from Afghanistan)
237,000 (from Iran)
310,000 (from Iraq)
- Language: German (secondary)
- Main Religion: Islam

Wars, instability and persecution in the Middle East have led to decades of refugees flooding into Germany. As a result, the city of Hamburg has become a main center for diaspora from Syria, Afghanistan, Iran and Iraq (including Arabs, Kurds and Iraqi Turkmen). Refugee families have Muslim backgrounds and are housed in camps where their children are raised and educated. Many of the children are ages 4-14, a key timeframe for receiving the gospel, known as the 4/14 Window by the global Christian missions movement.

All Nations' field worker Amanda* of Taiwan moved to Hamburg in 2019 and began working with the Hub team there. Recently, a door opened for her to begin leading a three-month children's program at one of the camps. Her vision is to reach the children with the gospel while they are at such impressionable ages, and in turn, they will become bridges to Christianity for their families. Her hope is to train local believers with Muslim backgrounds who will join her in reaching this neglected people group.

PRAYER POINTS

Please pray for the children to:

- be open to the locals and those around them, not just interested in their own people
- be curious about Jesus and ask questions
- embrace the gospel and start praying for their parents
- receive a solid Christian foundation that will have lasting impact

Please pray for Amanda to:

- be inspired by the Holy Spirit for program ideas
- establish team members with the same passion for the children
- be free from Covid restrictions for the outreach
- find favor with the children and their families
- have local partners help by supporting the program
- grow in language proficiency in Farsi and German
- receive opportunities to lead programs at other camps
