Vermont’s future depends on a just and sustainable recovery.

As members of the Vermont business community we are weathering the dual storms of climate change and the COVID-19 pandemic. Despite these converging crises we see an opportunity for an equitable, resilient recovery for Vermont.

The Global Warming Solutions Act creates a framework of accountability and community input that prioritizes Vermont’s most vulnerable, puts people to work in the local clean energy economy, and harnesses the unique values of our working lands and ecosystems.

The climate crisis is unfolding, and failing to act as others modernize their infrastructure will see our rural communities left behind. Now is the time to act, to lift up all Vermonters.

A healthier climate means a healthier economy and future for all. Climate progress simply cannot wait.

Signed,

Governor Scott:
