Global Citizenship Program (GCP)

Parent/Guardian Acknowledgement Letter

Dear Parent/Guardian of Future GCP Student:

Congratulations! Your child had submitted an application for the World Affairs Council’s Global Citizenship Program (GCP). After a review of many student applications, we have decided to extend an invitation to your child to participate in this unique program.

Applying and being accepted to participate in this program is only the first step. The recognition of the students’ achievement will only be issued at the completion of all requirements and submission of an original capstone project that reflects their understanding of global citizenship through the activities they have done.

The GCP is a two year hands-on, global learning experience for high school freshmen and sophomores. The program consists of six learning labs that bring students face to face with local and global experts. The Global Citizenship Program allows high school students the opportunity to investigate the diversity in their local communities, communicate with diverse audiences, and participate in service works that connect to global issues. Our goal is to have globally-minded students ready to lead, work, and thrive in Kentucky. The program requires students to successfully complete a global education curriculum and experiences that foster the development of global competencies through both in-house programs offered by WAC and those offered by partner organizations.

Thank you for supporting your child’s participation in the GCP, and we look forward to working with you as your child works to become a Global Citizen.

• I support my child’s application and will do my best to help him/her in meeting the program requirements as needed.
