Berta Vive (2016)
On March 2016, the assassination of Berta Cáceres shook the world. Gustavo Castro, Mexican environmental activist witnessed the crime and survived the horror of that night but was then trapped in Honduras. The defense against the construction of a dam at the Gualcarque River is the preface to this story. We follow Miriam Miranda, leader of the Garífuna people as well as a friend and comrade of Berta. Both women share the struggle for decolonization in a country that is being sold to transnational capital and where death is delivered in so many different ways.

General

In this TeleSUR interview, Grahame Russell, director of Rights Action, discusses why large-scale demonstrations continue in Tegucigalpa and throughout Honduras, beyond the two-day national strike which had been called by numerous sectors. We also ask why the government of Juan Orlando Hernandez has been characterized as 'illegitimate', 'fraudulent' and a 'dictatorship' by the opposition and supporters, and why the political situation has received minimal coverage in the mainstream media. Grahame also touches on the government's handling of the environment and indigenous rights, and the role the U.S. and Canadian governments play while multinationals based in the north, create harmful living situations for Honduran communities.

El 'Rey del Porno' enjuiciado por usurpación de tierras Garifunas en Honduras (Noviembre 2015)
El inversionista Canadiense Randy Jorgensen, alias 'El Rey del Porno', compareció ante el Juzgado de Letras en Trujillo, Honduras para contestar a cargos de transacciones ilegales y usurpación de tierras ancestrales Garífuna. La corte adoptó un 'sobreseimiento provisional', lo que significa que hay que buscar más pruebas antes de pasar a un juicio pleno, pero las comunidades Garífunas afectadas sospechan corrupción judicial y dicen que van a apelar la decisión. Jorgensen todavía corre el riesgo de perder todas sus inversiones.

Goldcorp – Siria Valley community defense and resistance struggle

By Steven Schnoor, this 10 minute trailer (of the hour-long documentary, “All That Glitters Isn't Gold) documents health harms and other violations people have suffered, residing near Goldcorp Inc’s open-pit/ mountain-top removal, cyanide-leaching gold mine in Honduras' Siria Valley.
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=-tmqXc5rX8s

No todo lo que brilla es oro (2008)
Hecho por Steven Schnoor. El Valle de Siria en Honduras fue hogar de la mina a cielo abierto más grande del país. La mina de oro y plata, que se llama "San Martín," es propiedad de la compañía canadiense Goldcorp y ha dejado enormes daños en las comunidades cercanas desde que ella comenzó a operar en el año 2000. Miembros de las comunidades discuten las graves daños que ellos han sufrido desde que ésta comenzó a operar -- desde problemas de salud hasta la falta de agua, disputando aserciones de Goldcorp que la mina San Martín ha sido un modelo de desarrollo que no ha causado ningun efecto adverso.
