

Jared Hagen, MBA

Jared is an accomplished and dedicated professional who brings a wealth of diverse educational and leadership experiences to our leading development company. Holding an MBA from Athabasca University, his academic focus on performance management showcases his commitment to academic rigor and expertise.

Jared's passion for fostering leadership development was cultivated during his tenure as the Learning and Leadership Manager at a major pension fund. Here, he finely tuned his skills in nurturing organizational agility and delivering impactful learning experiences. His dedication to his craft is underlined by an impressive array of certifications, including Prosci Certified Change Practitioner, Harvard's Consultant's Toolkit, and Certified Training and Development Professional (CTDP).

Jared's professional journey is punctuated by a proven track record in conceptualizing and executing global change strategies that drive transformative shifts within organizations. He has spearheaded and overseen a wide range of influential projects, spanning from pioneering digital learning strategies to crafting and executing sophisticated leadership development programs.

With his extensive and varied educational background, complemented by a wealth of hands-on experience, Jared is uniquely positioned to be a driving force for positive change and a developer of leaders who serve as catalysts for profound transformation and progress within our organization.

PHONE 1.833.538.3552

EMAIL jared@level52.ca

WEB level52.ca

 LEVEL52