Miki’s Park, the recently opened Korean-inspired bar concept in River North, offers Chicagoans an introduction to Seoul nightlife with an interactive drinking game, the “Titanic Package”. Perfect for quarantine, Titanic is a fun twist on somaek—a staple Korean beer cocktail of light lager and soju—in which players take turns pouring soju into a shot glass floating atop a glass of beer. The player who pours the soju that sinks the shot glass into the beer must then drink the refreshing Korean boilermaker. Available for pick-up and delivery, the "Titanic Package" is priced at $30 and includes a bottle of Soju, six pack of Hite light lager, custom-designed shot glass, and instructions. Additional alcohol offerings include six packs of Hite for $15 and Soju bottles for $20.
