THE AUSTIN ASIAN AMERICAN FILM FESTIVAL ANNOUNCES FULL LINEUP OF FILMS FOR THIS YEAR’S EVENT, TAKING PLACE JUNE 21-25 AT THE AFS CINEMA

The Austin Asian American Film Festival returns for its 15th iteration this month; with over 20 films by Asian American, Native Hawaiian, and Pacific Islander (AANHPI) filmmakers, the festival celebrates Texas filmmakers, documentaries about older generation of Asian Americans, and a wide range of narrative short films.

(AUSTIN, TEXAS – June 15, 2023; source: Juice Consulting) – The Austin Asian American Film Festival (AAAFF) recently announced the full lineup of films for this year’s event, taking place June 21-25, 2023 at the AFS Cinema (6406 N I-35 Suite 3100 Austin, TX 78752). The schedule of confirmed films can be found here and individual ticket links (and the link to purchase badges) can be found on each film’s landing page. Descriptions of each film can be found below. All Access and Student badges are currently on sale for the festival here for media in need of a press pass, please fill out the form here. For more information on AAAFF, see here.

On June 22, AAAFF will celebrate Texas Two-Step Thursday with a special lineup of a feature film and a shorts block, all by Texas AANHPI filmmakers, with a dually Texas Two-Step Nacho afterparty at VIVO Tex Mex (6406 N Interstate Hwy 35 Ste 2343 Austin, TX 78752) from 9-11 p.m. And on June 23, AAAFF will host an official red carpet to showcase the festival filmmakers and speakers ahead of one of the headlining films Waiting for the Light to Change starting at 7:30 p.m. Media check in will begin at 7:00 p.m. in the lobby.

Additionally, on June 17, there will be a Double Happiness Beer Release Celebration at Hold Out Brewing and Kaiju Cut & Sew to premiere a new Thai Mango IPA beer. Proceeds from the event will go to AAAFF; the beer will be available at the Opening Night afterparty.
“We’ve gone all out this year and have over 20 filmmakers attending!” said Hanna Huang, AAAFF Executive Director. “Most of the films our audience attends will have a live Q&A with directors, producers, or cast and crew from the films. Our attendees view us as their cultural connector to the local AANHPI community and we exemplify that by highlighting community organizations before each film program. Often, we are also the first time our AANHPI audience members have the opportunity to participate in film Q&As and meet filmmakers after seeing the film on screen.”

AAAFF, one of the preeminent AANHPI arts organizations in town, champions Asian and Asian American stories via media arts and empowers Asian Americans to explore opportunities in cinema. See below for the full list of confirmed films for this year’s AAAFF, as well as a brief synopsis on each work.

FEATURE FILMS:

Starring Jerry As Himself [OPENING NIGHT]
Wednesday, June 21, 7:00 p.m. - 8:05 p.m.
Directed by Law Chen, and starring Jerry Hsu, a family documents how their immigrant father Jerry, a recently retired Florida man, was recruited by the Chinese police to be an undercover agent, only to discover a darker truth.

Kapwa Texas
Thursday, June 22, 7:45 p.m. - 8:58 p.m.
As the world grapples with an emerging global pandemic, three young Filipino women forge unexpected connections with their families and discover themselves in the process. Directed by PJ Raval (Call Her Ganda, Trinidad: Transgender Frontier, Before You Know It), this film is a self-documented time capsule during turbulent times, Kapwa Texas captures the unbreakable bond between Filipino family and community.

Wisdom Gone Wild
Friday, June 23, 5:55 p.m. - 7:19 p.m.
In this immersive meditation on elder consciousness and the act of caregiving a parent with dementia, director and writer Rea Tajiri centers her mother’s storytelling wisdom as the dream fabric for this film. Rose’s renditions of popular songs of her era provide the soundtrack for time travel as we witness her evolution across nine decades of living. A delicate weave between past and present, parenting and being parented, the reliability of memory and the desire to reinvent one’s own life when you can't remember - are reflected upon in this tender and humorous film about aging, loss, mortality and transformation.

Waiting for the Light to Change [CENTERPIECE]
Friday, June 23, 8:15 p.m. - 9:44 p.m.
Written and directed by Linh Tran with the help of Jewells Santos and Delia Van Praag, this film takes place over the course of a week-long beachside getaway. Amy, having recently undergone dramatic weight loss, finds herself wrestling between loyalty to her best friend Kim and her attraction to Kim's new boyfriend.

The Fall of the I-Hotel
Saturday, June 24, 1:20 p.m. - 2:20 p.m.
The Manilatown Heritage Foundation presents a new restoration of the iconic 1983 documentary, The Fall of the I-Hotel. This film has been lovingly re-scanned from a pristine 16mm print and digitized at 2K under the supervision of filmmaker Curtis Choy.

After a decade of spirited resistance to the razing of Manilatown, the battle for housing in San Francisco ends in the brutal eviction of the elderly tenants of the International Hotel. The Fall of the I-Hotel serves as the witness to the community's fight to survive, and as a tribute to the dignity and strength of the "Manongs", or elderly tenants of the hotel. Viewed continuously by students of Asian American Studies since its original release in 1983, The Fall of the I-Hotel not only documents the struggle to save the I-Hotel, it also provides an overview of Filipino American history. This is not just a story about old men in an old building, but of multiple tragedies: ethnic communities redeveloped out of existence, housing gobbled up by realtors, the shabby treatment of the elderly, and the betrayal of American ideals learned in the Philippines by its American pioneers.

The Fifth Thoracic Vertebra 다섯 번째 흉추(2022)
Saturday, June 24, 3:10 p.m. - 4:12 p.m.
In his feature debut, The Fifth Thoracic Vertebra, South Korean filmmaker Park Syeyoung tells the story of mold left behind on a mattress after a couple splits. The film follows the life of the mold as it slowly grows into a creature that steals the vertebrae of humans who inhabit the bed. A movie filled with deep longing and even deeper loneliness, it captures the wistfulness of young love lost and the monster of despair that emerges from that sense of abandonment.

The Taste of Mango
Saturday, June 24, 5:00 p.m. - 6:15 p.m.
Chloe Abrahams’ directorial debut feature is an enveloping, hypnotic, urgently personal meditation on family, memory, identity, violence, and love. At its center are three extraordinary women: the director’s mother, Rozana; her grandmother, Jean; and the director herself. Their stories, by turns difficult and jubilant, testify to the entangled and ever-changing nature of inheritance and the ways in which we both hurt and protect the ones we love.

Fremont
Saturday, June 24, 7:20 p.m. - 8:51 p.m.
Directed by Babak Jalali; Beautiful and troubled Donya, an Afghan translator who used to work with the U.S. government, lives by herself in Fremont, California, and has trouble sleeping. Her routine changes when she’s promoted to writing the fortunes at her job at a fortune cookie factory in the city. As her fortunes are read by strangers throughout the Bay, Donya’s smoldering longing drives her to send a message out to the world, unsure where it will lead.

The Grizzlie Truth
Sunday, June 25, 12:00 p.m. - 1:39 p.m.
Award-winning filmmaker and super fan Kat Jayme sets out to uncover the truth behind the disappearance of her beloved hometown NBA team in hopes of bringing them back. In her obsessive quest to find out what really happened to the team and its cult fandom, she unravels the mystery that’s haunted the NBA’s Vancouver Grizzlies fans for 20 years. The Grizzlie Truth is a 'true-crime style' story exploring the deep roots of fandom, and an irreverent expose of the wild business of professional sports.

How to Have an American Baby
Sunday, June 25, 4:55 p.m. - 6:52 p.m.
Directed by Leslie Tai, a kaleidoscopic voyage into the shadow economy catering to Chinese tourists who travel to the US to give birth for citizenship. Told through a series of intimately observed vignettes, the story of a hidden global economy emerges—depicting the fortunes and tragedies that befall the ordinary people caught in its web.

Arnold Is a Model Student أمانเป็นนักเรียนด้วยอย่าง (2022) [CLOSING FILM]
Sunday, June 25, 7:40 p.m. - 9:05 p.m.
Directed by Sorayos Prapapan; Senior student Arnold excels at his studies and is a frontrunner for education scholarships and accolades. Yet after returning from studying abroad in the United States, he begins to question the meaning and authoritarian practices of school itself, and his growing awareness then makes him ripe for temptation into an underground cheating ring.

SHORT FILMS:

Texas Block
Thursday, June 22, 6:05 p.m. - 6:55 p.m.

Missile
From director Christopher Hwisu Kim; When Alison Cho gets an emergency alert on her phone warning of an imminent missile attack, she calls her mom in a panic—only to struggle to explain the situation because she doesn't know the Korean word for "missile."

Here to Make Friends
From Co-directors Meghan & Justin Ross; An anxious, aging millennial, Arab-American Austin transplant goes on a mission to find the platonic love of her life after realizing she's never had one lasting female friend but will have to figure out how to befriend herself first.

When You Left Me on that Boulevard
From director Kayla Abuda Galang; Teenager Ly and her cousins get high before a boisterous family Thanksgiving at their auntie’s house in southeast San Diego in 2006.

Supermarket Affairs
From director Hang Luong Nguyen; A Vietnamese immigrant mother and daughter in the US argue over how to honor the late patriarch as they shop for his second death anniversary, and inadvertently involve a handsome stranger at the local Asian supermarket.

Documentary Block
Saturday, June 24, 11:00 a.m. - 12:16 p.m.

Benkyodo: The Last Manju Shop in J-Town
Co-directed by Tadashi Nakamura & Akira Boch, Ricky and Bobby Okamura wrestle with closing their beloved family-owned manju shop after serving the San Francisco Japantown community for 115 years.

Dear Corky
Directed by Curtis Chin, this documentary short is about famed street photographer, Corky Lee, who recently passed away from COVID. The short follows Corky’s career over the course of fifty years where he’s covered the most important events in Asian American history, including issues of hate crimes.

The Things I Haven’t Told You Yet
A collage-style, personal narrative composed of emotionally complex memories, questions, thoughts, and stories that meditate on identity, race, transnational adoption, grief, and intergenerational trauma. Director Maya Wanner pieces them together to create a mosaic of a mother-daughter relationship shaped by things left unsaid.

Mia’s Mission
Mia Yamamoto has seen it all. She was born in an incarceration camp during World War II. At age 60 she came out as transgender after a 20-year career as a criminal defense attorney in Los Angeles. At age 78, Mia shows no signs of slowing down. Directed by Jireh Deng, we follow Mia on her mission throughout the years to rally communities of color around issues of racism and to bring visibility to the LGBTQ community. Her passion is rooted in her deep ties to the geography of L.A. and the neighborhoods she calls home.

Stamp Our Story
Co-directed by Kaia Rose & Robert Horsting, this film follows the award-winning extraordinary story of three elderly Nisei (2nd generation) women who led a successful 15-year campaign to issue the Go For Broke: Japanese American Soldiers of WWII Forever stamp.

Narrative Block
Sunday, June 25, 2:20 p.m. - 3:30 p.m.

Bayard Street
Directed by Cindy Chu, set in 1980s NYC, two Chinese restaurant workers find love while chasing their American dreams.

Lunchbox
From director Anne Hu; When a Taiwanese American woman prepares lunches from her childhood, she struggles to forgive herself for pushing away her immigrant mother.

Bloody Gravel
From director Hojat Hosseini; Roya and Bashir are a couple in love and are forced to flee their home. Hoping to enter Iran, they persuade smugglers Saku and Osho to get them there without a hitch, but things don’t go as planned.

Eid Mubarak
Directed by Mahnoor Euceph, a privileged six-year-old Pakistani girl embarks on a mission to save her beloved pet goat from being eaten on the Muslim holiday of Eid al-Azha, only to learn the meaning of sacrifice.

Inheritance
From director Erin Lau; A struggling nature photographer is forced to confront the pain his family has carried for generations.

Swamp Ass
Directed by Katrina Vergara, a young woman gains more than a confidence boost after buying a pair of influencer-approved pants.
