Legitimate Interest means the interest of Organization’s business activities in conducting and managing our organization to give you the best service/products and the most secure experience. We make sure we consider and balance any potential impact on you, both positive and negative, and your rights before we process your Personal Data for our legitimate interests. We do not use your Personal Data for activities where our interests are overridden by the impact on you, unless we have your consent or are otherwise required or permitted by law. You can obtain further information about how we assess our legitimate interests against any potential impact on you in respect of specific activities by contacting the Data Privacy Manager at the address provided above.

YOUR LEGAL RIGHTS UNDER THE GDPR

Under certain circumstances, you have rights under data protection laws regarding your Personal Data. Each of the rights is summarized below.

- Request Access to Your Personal Data. You have the right to be informed of the Personal Data we hold about you and why and how we have it. You may also request certain information regarding Organization’s disclosure of Personal Data to third parties for their direct marketing purposes.

- Request Correction of Your Personal Data. You have the right to request corrections to inaccurate or incomplete Personal Data although we will need to verify the accuracy of the new data you provide to us. We may not be able to accommodate a request to change information if we believe the change would violate any law or legal requirement or cause the information to be incorrect.

- Request Erasure of Your Personal Data. You have the right to have your Personal Data erased if there is no good reason for us to continue to process it. You also have the right to ask us to delete/erase your Personal Data where you have successfully exercised your right to object to its processing (see below), where we may have processed your information unlawfully or where we are required to erase your Personal Data to comply with local law. Note, however, that we may not always be able to comply with your request of erasure for specific legal reasons which will be provided to you, if applicable, when evaluating your request. By requesting that we delete your Personal Data, we may keep anonymized or de-identified statistical data that is not connected to your identity.

- Object to Processing of Your Personal Data. You have the right to object to the processing of your Personal Data where we have justified the data processing on the basis of our legitimate interests and there is something about your particular situation which makes you feel the processing impacts your fundamental rights and freedoms. You also have the right to object where we are processing your Personal Data for direct marketing purposes.

- Request Restriction of Processing Your Personal Data. You have the right to restrict the processing of your Personal Data if: the accuracy of the data is being contested for as long as it takes to verify that accuracy; the processing is unlawful and you request restriction of processing (rather than erasure of the data); we no longer need the data for its original purpose but you would like us to hold the data because you need it to establish, exercise, or defend legal rights; or, you have objected to our use of your Personal Data but we need to verify whether we have overriding legitimate interests to use it.

- Request Transfer of Your Personal Data. You have the right to request the transfer of your Personal Data to you or a third party. We will provide you, or a third party you designate, your Personal Data in a structured, commonly used, machine-readable format. This right only applies to automated information which you initially provided consent for us to use or where we used the information to perform a contract with you.

- Right to Withdraw Consent. You have the right to withdraw your consent to the processing of your Personal Data where we are relying on consent to process it. However, this will not affect the lawfulness of any processing carried out before you withdraw your consent. If you withdraw your consent, we may not be able to provide certain services to you. We will advise you if this is the case when reviewing your request to withdraw your consent.

If you wish to exercise any of the rights set out above, please contact the Data Privacy Manager at the address provided above. You will not have to pay a fee to access your Personal Data or to exercise any of the other rights. However, we may charge a reasonable fee if your request is clearly unfounded, repetitive, or excessive. Alternatively, we may refuse to comply with your request in such circumstances. Also, the exercise of some rights will prevent our ability to provide services to you, and if this is the case, we will explain this to you when you submit your request to us.

We may need to request specific information from you to help us confirm your identity and ensure your right to access your Personal Data or to exercise any of your other rights. This is a security measure to ensure that Personal Data is not disclosed to any person who has no right to receive it. We may also contact you to ask you for further information in relation to your request to speed up our response.

We try to respond to all legitimate requests within one month after the request is received. Occasionally it may take us longer than a month if your request is particularly complex or you have submitted several requests. In this case, we will notify you and keep you updated.
