

Wine List

Our journey in wine starts and ends in France. The limestone slopes, gravel terraces, chalk plains, and sunburnt shorelines are a source of inspiration for winemakers worldwide. We take many detours to countries beyond its borders in an exploration of terroirs both classic and rarely seen.

Whether in Piedmont or Napa Valley, Santiago or Syracuse, the culture of wine is in ferment and our wine list captures the spirit of endeavour amongst winemakers. Whether organic or biodynamic, low intervention, or sustainably farmed, a passion to protect the environment underlies the selection.

Salut!

Mon enfant, ma soeur,
Songe à la douceur
D'aller là-bas vivre ensemble!
Aimer à loisir,
Aimer et mourir
Au pays qui te ressemble!

Champagne Philipponnat

The Philipponnat family have been cultivating vines around the town of Mareuil-Sur-Aÿ since 1522, and six centuries later the house is presided over by Charles Philipponnat.

Clos des Goisses

Philipponnat has owned an exceptional walled vineyard, the Clos des Goisses, for nearly a century. In the old Champagne dialect the name of this 5.5 hectare plot means a very steep slope. It is also the warmest terroir of the region: facing due south, this pure chalk slope receives no shade from sunrise to sunset. It is considered the most consistently great single vineyard wine in all of Champagne.

The Artisans

Champagne from small growers continues to set the pace in a region once dominated by big brands, transforming its identity thanks to the integrity the growers put in every bottle, and for leading the charge for more sustainable ways of working.

White chalk soils are the signature of central France and the vineyards of Sancerre are some of the most famous planted on these calcified fossil remains. As France's longest river turns west at Orléans the Loire continues its lazy 629 mile journey to the Atlantic, passing the tuffeau chalk caves of Vouvray, until granite soils take over at the sea swept coast of Muscadet.

Straddling the estuary of two of France's most important rivers, Bordeaux proves that you don't need to be born great to achieve greatness. The transition from low lying marshland to noble vineyard was slow, yet the combination of gravel, the temperate climate, and sustained investment, has made Bordeaux wines the touchstone for reliability, longevity and sheer class they are today.

Voyage to the New World The Americas, South Africa & the Antipodes

Around the middle of the nineteenth century French winemakers started to notice that their vineyards were dying. The cause was soon identified as the phylloxera aphid which had been imported by accident along with a consignment of American vine cuttings. The destroyer, as it became known, had a devastating impact that was felt all over Europe, forcing bankrupt families to flee to other parts of the world. Although vines may be grafted to allow them to continue producing grapes, phylloxera remains a global problem with no cure, and this section of the list pays homage to those who pioneered winemaking in the new world.

South-West France The High Country

The river Garonne and its tributaries the Tarn and the Lot are the life blood of the high country upstream of Bordeaux. From the plateau of central France to the peaks of the Pyrenees, the river system cuts a course through a magical landscape of ancient forests, gravel terraces and weathered limestone cliffs. Wines of a distinctly local and lively personality are produced with many unique grape varieties.

El Camino

Iberia from Rioja
to Rias Baixas

The scallop shell is a symbol of the Camino pilgrimage to Santiago de Compostella where the relics of the apostle St James reside. Those starting their journey in France enter Spain from St Jean Pied de Port on the edge of the Pyrenees, and make their way to Galicia via some of the country's most famous vineyards. Sharing a border with Portugal, this rugged corner of Europe is called the country of a thousand rivers. It is remarkable for its steep valleys, and fjord-like coastline.

Chablis and Auxerre Chalk Circles

A reef of old oyster beds where the sea is a memory many million of years old is where the Chardonnay grape becomes a mineral essence. It is hardly surprising then that the combination of oysters and Chablis is so compelling.

In the wider Auxerre region some delightful Pinot Noir is made, and the historic appellation of St Bris offers a unique expression of Sauvignon Blanc outside the Loire.

The sherry-like vin jaune is by law aged for six and a half years under a protective veil or voile of native yeasts, and develops a complex, nutty character, reminiscent of walnut. It is bone dry and lightly oxidative. The combination with the local Comté cheese is one of the world's greatest food and wine matches.

Jura & Savoie Alpine Foothills

Leaving Burgundy heading eastwards towards the Alps, limestone starts to mix with glacial deposits, especially in the higher altitude vineyards of Savoie and its ski resorts. To the north, Franche-Comté is a mirror of Burgundy with its clay limestone soils and celebrated Comté cheese which pairs so well with the local vin jaune. Nestled between the two, the Jura offers a thrilling mix of tradition and discovery with its incense-like reds and nutty, mineral whites.

13 Northern Rhône Roman Ruins

The Rhône river enters France from Switzerland and carves a passage through the tough granite cliffs, bending dramatically where it cannot penetrate the dense bedrock. The vineyards, often on perilously steep cliffs and terraces, represent no more than 10% of the total Rhône output, yet have captured the hearts of winelovers and collectors to such an extent that they are increasingly hard to come by.

Southern Rhône Papal Relics

Plunging south from Montélimar, the Rhône enters a different terrain: a broad flood plain composed of mixed soils of sand, clay and limestone that supports a wealth of grape varieties. Nearly 95% of the wines are red and based on the Grenache grape, which conveys the heady wild herb scents and ripe fruit flavours of the south so easily. These are generous, gourmand wines.

Languedoc & Provence Azure Coast

Vines cover the hills in a swathe hugging the coastline and invading the rugged hillsides of the Midi. In the Languedoc grapes fight for space with olive groves, wild scrub and rock, while around the glamorous towns of Aix, St Tropez and Cannes vines are in a constant battle with property developers for space. Nearby Corsica, Île de Beauté, is a home from home for the seafaring gentry. Famous for its pale rosés the region offers distinctive reds and whites too.

Catalonia:

Vermilion Coast

Where the Pyrenees sweep down to the Mediterranean the charming port towns of Collioure and Banyuls-sur-Mer are the jewels of a rugged coastline dotted with vineyards of old vines eking out meagre yields in dry schist soils. This tiny, little explored region of France was for centuries part of Catalan Spain and its identity remains strongly rooted in that language and culture. Across the border exciting wines are made from Empordà down to the dramatic hillsides of Priorat near Barcelona. On both sides of the border the wines are rich yet crammed with a thrilling mineral freshness.

Rosé and Skin Contact

The art of the not quite white wine has entered a new dimension beyond the essential summer sipping from Provence. Rosés fermented in oak that can age, old school clarets blended from red and white grapes, and that special category of wines aged on skins to produce full-bodied, even demanding, orange wines, are all found here alongside pinks of uncomplicated pleasure.

18 Sweet and Fortified

Preserving natural grape sweetness in wines through the addition of a measured amount of alcohol is an age old tradition. Ports, Sherries and Madeiras are made this way. Unable to finish fermenting due to the higher alcohol the wines start a journey in ageing of almost unlimited potential, and wines made decades or even centuries ago continue to give undimmed pleasure.

In this category, the fascinating wines of Maury and Banyuls on the French coast hold a special place in our hearts, and are exceptional with cheese, with dessert, and especially chocolate.

Là, tout n'est qu'ordre et beauté,
Luxe, calme et volupté.
