GUIDING PRINCIPLES

~GUARDIANSHIP~
of the land, water and air, and all of us living here, we are connecting and protecting the environment. We acknowledge and honor the interconnection of all life and how our actions today can protect the environment for generations to come.

~COMMUNITY~
unifying youth globally and collaborating with individuals, whole communities, & organizations for collective change.

~EDUCATION~
sharing knowledge, trainings and resources to uplift and engage in climate justice work.

~ANTI-OPPRESSION~
committed to embodying anti-oppression social and environmental work, internally (including personal health) & externally in all actions and campaigns.
We believe you wouldn't be here unless you have been feeling a call to contribute to something greater than yourself. Maybe the call is more of a whisper or feels like a loud curiosity. Maybe you have already started advocating for the environment and are now looking for a group of like-minded individuals to join you.

No matter where you're at, Earth Guardians is here to uplift your voice and help you take action.

This packet is an introduction to the Crews Program, and is here to walk you through what you need to know as you start your Crew, what Earth Guardians offers, and introduces you to the entire EG team and how to connect with the entire Earth Guardians global community.
Crews are youth-led, intergenerational community groups of impassioned leaders taking action for a healthy, just, and regenerative planet. They are the heartbeat of Earth Guardians, modeling that impactful, meaningful and organic change comes from the widespread cultural shifts inspired by dedicated individuals acting as a collective to lead the way.
As an Earth Guardians Crew, there are nearly no limits to what you can do. Crews have the agency to forward their own projects or initiatives in response to the climate and environmental issues affecting their communities, and contribute to the global climate movement as a whole. We encourage Crews to also think intersectionally and holistically, and to not limit themselves to what may strictly be considered "climate" or "environmental" issues or actions. In addition, Crews have the opportunities to participate in and have access to Earth Guardians campaigns, trainings, resources, community, and more.
EG Crews are emerging all over the world and can consist of family, school peers, groups of friends or community members dedicated to making a difference. They can be as small as 5 people, or to whatever size is most manageable for you and your Crew. No matter the size of your Crew—small or large—you can still make great impact and change!

Those under the age of 30 years old are able to participate in EG’s youth programming, like the Crews Program! Strong youth-led movements need the allyship and support of passionate adults, but whether you are a youth or adult person, always make sure that those who are younger than you are valued and have the space to participate/contribute like every Crew member. Adult care takers, family members, educators, and community members with youth already in mind for membership may start and support a Crew. A Crew should have at least one Crew lead who is a youth person (under 30 years old), and have at least an even ratio of youth to adult (over 30 years old) membership—remember to prioritize youth members!

WHO CAN BE IN A CREW?
Crew roles and Responsibilities

CREW LEADS: The primary organizer and contact for the Crew. Crew leads may organize and facilitate Crew meetings, and guide and provide direction to the Crew. Crew leads are expected to communicate with the Global Crew Director and/or Regional Director on Crew updates and/or any Crew project(s) progress. They ultimately act as a bridge between Earth Guardians and the Crew for communications, connection and engagement.

CREW MEMBERS: Are an integral part of a Crew! They support, participate, and contribute to the Crew however able, encouraged, or positioned. Crew members help in brainstorming, planning, and executing Crew projects and initiatives. They may help in communications, community engagement and recruiting new members. Along with Crew leads, Crew members are able to utilize EG’s offerings like trainings, resources, workshops, etc.

If there is ever a change in Crew leadership, please notify your Regional Director and/or the Global Crew Director.
Optional Crew Roles

Below are some examples on more specific and optional roles Crew members could have in a Crew. We welcome you and your Crew to create and develop whatever roles meet the unique needs your Crew may have.

- TREASURER
  - Manages Crew fundraisers, funds and finances alongside Crew leads

- NOTE-TAKER
  - Writes and documents Crew meeting notes

- SOCIAL MEDIA MANAGER
  - Responsible for maintaining Crew social media platforms in alignment and collaboration with their Crew

- PROJECT/COMMITTEE LEADS
  - Working with their Crew leads, project/committee leads help ensure that Crew projects and initiatives are executed successfully
how to Get Your Crew Started

LAUNCH YOUR CREW ONLINE

You’ve taken the first steps: you’ve signed up, identified your Crew name, and received your logo. Now it is time to create your social media profile(s), document your Crew, and engage your community. Use your new logo and Crew name so we can find you. Once you create your first post, tag Earth Guardians so we can share your post and welcome you to the family!

Instagram: @earthguardians
Facebook: @earthguardianstribe
Twitter: @earthguardianz

RECRUIT & HOST YOUR FIRST MEETING

Host your first meeting! Get clear on the EG’s purpose, vision, and values, and explore your Crew’s personal connection to them as you begin to work together. Identify an ongoing meeting time for your Crew and send out a recurring invitation with the meeting details included. Discuss goals, and get to know your team, each other’s passions and interests, and get familiar with the issues in your community that you want to take action on.

BRAINSTORM YOUR FIRST PROJECT

Begin brainstorming your first Crew project! Once you’ve discussed goals for your Crew and have gotten to know each other and your interests/passions, it’ll be a good time to start thinking about one of the first projects your Crew may want to do. Remember: it’s okay to start small! Have each Crew member share what they would like to see happen, take notes and decide together as a team your first project. Don’t forget to share updates on your project on social media!
IDEAS FOR YOUR FIRST PROJECT

You've had your first Crew meeting, and now you're ready to take action. But, where do you start? We've found it's best to take action on projects that your Crew is passionate about. Looking for ideas? Here are just a few project ideas:

- Create an educational social media post
- Trash and/or waterway clean up
- Volunteer
- Organize a clothing swap
- Learn about and plant native plants
- Create art or new materials through upcycling and resusing
- Attend a climate rally or march
- Contact local elected officials about policies and issues in community
- Organize a hike or nature walk

For more information, or to brainstorm ideas, email your Regional Director or our Global Crew Director, Marian Mejia, at crews@earthguardians.org.
BEING AN ACTIVE CREW

As an Earth Guardians Crew, you have access to many opportunities to forward yourselves as leaders and execute impactful projects in your community. Active Crews are able to apply for grant opportunities to support their projects, be featured on social media, register for any trainings, workshops, or events, and more!

In order to have “active” status as a Crew, the following is expected:

- Have at least a total of five people in your Crew by the end of your Crew’s first 12 months and onward
  - A Crew is considered official and active starting in the month they complete Onboarding
  - If a Crew has less than five people total, this does not affect their Crew status and ability to participate in EG’s events, campaigns, or trainings. However this may affect your Crew’s eligibility for grant opportunities.

- Complete at least one reported project a year

- Complete a quarterly check-in survey from the Global Crew Director and/or your Regional Director
  - As well as any other reporting requested by your Regional Director

- Attend at least four Global Crew Calls a year

- Attend at least one Earth Guardians training, workshop, or event a year

At any point, you are able to change your Crew status from “active” to “inactive” by notifying the Global Crew Director. If at any point you would like to reactivate your Crew, you may do so at any time by completing the Reactivation Form.
WHAT ARE GLOBAL CREW CALLS?

To help stay connected and engaged with one another as an entire Earth Guardians community, Global Crew Calls (GCC) are regular meetings between Crews, the Global Crew Director, Regional Directors, other Staff and Youth Council to share updates, project progress, hold discussions, and receive mini trainings, presentations, or workshops to support your development. They’re intended to foster a sense of community, belonging, wellbeing and leadership among EG’s Crews.

JOIN A CALL!

Be sure to check your emails and Earth Guardians social media for reminders about the meetings, and check the Crews webpage for the schedule, RSVP and current information: https://www.earthguardians.org/crews

For immediate questions or concerns about GCCs, email our Global Crew Director, Marian Mejia, at crews@earthguardians.org.

At Earth Guardians, we engage youth at every level of our decision-making processes. This model allows us to better support the work YOU are doing. The Earth Guardians Staff Team works behind the scenes to ensure the movement moves. The Staff Team is guided by the EG Youth Council, which is led by our Youth Council Director. The Youth Council advises the Staff Team on decisions to guide EG projects, programs, and initiatives. They ensure the representation of the youth voice is in the realization of the greater Earth Guardians' vision to build a more equitable and regenerative world.

In addition to the Youth Council voice, we ensure that quality, relevant training and resources are available through transparent and consistent communication streams between the EG Staff Team and all Crews. To facilitate this, as a Crew Lead you will work closely with the Regional Director in your area. They will meet or check in with you and your Crew regularly to ensure all information between the Staff Team and our Crews is flowing, and that you have the support you need. If you do not have a Regional Director in your area, you will work with the Global Crew Director directly.

The Global Crew Director will assist you in the Onboarding process, setting your Crew up for success, and will manage regular check-ins to track Crew activities and ensure our programming matches your needs. The Global Crew Director supports the Global Crew Calls and cultivates an environment of inspiration and connectivity across EG’s platforms, overseeing education & resources, trainings, online learning & forums.

By maintaining these streams of communication, and collaborating directly with the Youth Council, Regional Directors, and our Crews, the Staff Team is able to integrate information from all of you to guide our overall strategy, projects and campaigns, engagement, and initiatives.
