March 2020 - Rebuilding Together North Texas, the local affiliate of Rebuilding Together, the leading national nonprofit organization with a mission to repair the homes of people in need and revitalize our communities, has officially postponed all spring projects. Rebuilding Together North Texas repairs homes making them safer for our most vulnerable neighbors including seniors, veterans, people with disabilities and families with minor children.

"As we monitor the spread of COVID-19, Rebuilding Together is taking precautions to protect high-risk individuals and preparing for increased demand and new ways of delivering our services." said Caroline Blakely, President and CEO of Rebuilding Together.

In conjunction with our state and federal authorities we have postponed all project work. We appreciate your continued support as we work to strengthen our community during these challenging times. We are communicating with our neighbors in need to ensure they remain safe during this time. During times like these we must continue to care for one another and protect one another, especially our older neighbors. Our office is closed, and our staff is working from home. Please do your part by staying home and strictly limiting all interaction with other people. As our healthcare system is under extreme pressure and we potentially face a long-term economic downturn, the need for Rebuilding Together’s critical home repair services will be needed more than ever. The spread of COVID-19 has made our work more challenging, but we will persevere.

With our world constantly changing we are waiting to develop plans and timelines for our rescheduled work. We hope for a busy fall and will share new project dates as soon as we have them. Thank you for your patience and understanding with our staff as we adjust to new priorities. Rebuilding Together North Texas is deeply connected in our community and work every day to improve the safety and health of our neighbors. Thank you for your support and please stay home and be safe.
