

PRIVACY STATEMENT

The Self-Isolation Choir is committed to protecting your privacy and complying with GDPR. In the fulfilment of the services we provide, we need to hold some personal details about you.

This document explains why we have that information, how we use and handle it and your rights to that information.

What information do we hold?

We currently hold personal information to provide our core services, such as:

- Identifying Information – name
- Contact Information – email address, phone number

Where did we get your data from?

The personal data that we have is provided to us by you.

Why are we holding this personal information?

We may hold your personal data if we you have given us your consent to do so. We may also hold your personal data if we are legally required to do so.

How we use your personal information

The information we hold will be used principally to deliver contracted services, and only for the stated purpose. In carrying out these services, we may use your details so that we can communicate with you by email. The personal information we hold is stored and processed securely in line with the UK government's Cyber Essentials guidelines for Cyber security controls.

For more information about Cyber Essentials, please visit:

<https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/cyber-essentials-scheme-overview>

Your personal information is held and processed in the UK. If your personal information is transferred outside of the EEA, the level of protection provided is sufficient to meet the requirements of the EU GDPR directive.

What we don't do with your personal information

We do not use any automated decision-making systems relating to your personal data. We do not pass your information on to any third parties not associated with the fulfilment of our services.

How long do we keep your personal data?

The information we use to communicate with you will be kept until you notify us that you no longer wish to receive information from us or you want us to delete your personal data. Any personal data that we hold will be kept in line with the requirements of the Data Controller, or if the Data Controller has not communicated this with us we will hold the data until we are requested to delete it.

What are your personal data rights?

If at any point you believe the personal information we hold on you is incorrect, you want us to correct or delete that information, or you no longer want us to hold that information or contact you, you can exercise your rights under the current Data Protection laws. These rights include:

- Right of access
- Right to rectification
- Right to erasure
- Right to restriction of processing
- Right to data portability
- Right to object

For more information about your personal data rights, please visit the Information Commissioner Office website at: <https://ico.org.uk/for-organisations/data-protection-reform/overview-of-thegdpr/individuals-rights/>

How do I make a complaint about how my personal data is being held or processed?

If you believe we are processing your personal data not in accordance with the law, you can complain to the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO). Their Helpdesk number is 0303 123 1113.
