Music Monday: Rhyming

Write a poem with a rhyme--any rhyme!

This week's poem is just about playing with rhyming words and seeing what you come up with. Choose a word, and write a sentence ending in that word. Then come up with another sentence where the last word rhymes with that same word. The sentences can make sense and tell a story...or they can be very silly. The rhymes can all be real words...or you can make up names of imaginary creatures, or weird sound effects. All you need to focus on is rhyming and having fun!

Have a grownup share your rhyming poem with us with us at storypirates.com/submit-a-story.
