This is very much a down and dirty, at-home, low-tech zine course.

For the first session, students should have:

- 10 or so sheets of 8.5 x 11 paper (letter weight, printer paper, notebook paper, or sketchbook paper is all is fine)
- 5 or so sheets of heavier paper for covers (cover weight, construction, cardstock, or heavier sketchbook paper is fine)
- Scissors
- a stapler
- a bone folder (if you are fancy) or a spoon (if you are not)
- Whatever you like to have for drawing or collaging (markers, pens, pencils, glue sticks, magazines, old books, etc!)

The following are things that students may benefit from but are not required:

- Access to a printer or photocopier
- Any zines that students have in their collections that they would like to share.
