About

Growing up in the West, I have always been drawn to sea and mountains, and to the work of artists who have interpreted these subjects. Today I find further motivation in the many new and expanding ideas about art, from representation to abstraction. My concern is not with copying what I see, but with expressing a feeling, a story or a visual idea. And I hope this produces work that evokes in the viewer a feeling of shared experience and a deeper connection with the natural world.

About

Annette H. Evans' Indiana upbringing shows through in her paintings. Her art is optimistic, approachable, and strong women are a recurring subject matter. Annette's current work is influenced by her admiration of female role models, and the beauty of Southern California beaches. Annette attended the Fashion Institute of Design & Merchandising (FIDM) in Los Angeles and went on to design beachwear for companies such as OP. She has been painting commissioned portraits since 1995 and her fascination with people often shows up in her gallery work. In 2015 she began teaching traditional drawing, and painting in watercolor and oil. She is now a full-time artist and published Author. Annette currently lives in South Orange County with her husband and Bichon Hazel.

About

Native Southern Californian artist Tim Genet originally painted large landscapes in oils with a pallet knife. Turning to plein air painting years back, he painted not only his native California but took his paints traveling across the United States, to Europe, Central/ South America, the Caribbean, Mexico and the South Pacific. Currently, along with his landscape paintings, Tim is working in oils and mixed media painting Expressive Figurative and abstract pieces. “Working in two styles helps keep my work fresh as well as distinctive.”

About

Joan Gladstone's vibrant seascapes, landscapes and portraits have been featured in more than a dozen juried fine art exhibitions throughout Southern California. A dedicated oil painter, Joan majored in drawing and painting at Boston University's School of Fine Arts before switching to public relations and founding her own PR firm. Having lived near beaches from Coney Island to Laguna Beach her entire life, Joan has a deep affinity for the ocean. Her seascapes capture the grace of waves and surfers. Her landscapes portray sunsets and scenes from bicycling trips across the U.S. and abroad with her husband Ed. She paints expressive portraits that convey the subject's personality in form and color. Joan has lived in beautiful Laguna Beach, where she maintains a studio, for 30 years. She currently serves as Vice Chair of the Board of Trustees of the Laguna College of Art + Design and is a member of numerous art associations.

About

“Nature has always been the greatest teacher for me, never predictable and ever changing.”

Jacks is a self-taught artist who has learned through observation and the study of old master paintings. The paintings of E.E. Jacks capture life in motion. ‘Art is Life’ is the motto for all of her work. No subject is off limits. Her work has received numerous awards, been featured in various periodicals, showcased in museums such as MOLAA, Olaf Wiegthorst Museum, the Yellowstone and Yosemite Museums, and been recognized and exhibited in the California State Capitol. Jacks is also a poet. She has published two books of poetry and prose. Jacks practices plein air painting and studio work daily, favoring oil paint over any other medium. She continues to exhibit her work nationally and currently works out of her home studio in Ladera Ranch, California.

Kelly Lingel

Quorum Gallery Resident Artist
Contact Kelly: 562.754.8969

About

Kelly Lingel was born and raised in southern California. From an early age, her mother exposed her to great artwork, and encouraged her daughter's creativity. Kelly is passionate about color and always knew she wanted to be an artist. Kelly has worked as an art teacher and Arts Director in the United States, Spain, and Japan where she was exposed to different artists, artwork, and styles of aesthetics. She has written art curriculum for school districts in Los Angeles County, and has worked in collaboration with the Los Angeles Music Center. Kelly is a representational artist who paints in oil in both plein air and the studio. For her, painting is a form of meditation, both challenging and deeply fulfilling. She paints landscapes, still lifes, portraits and figurative works. She is also available for commission work. Kelly has privately exhibited at the Long Beach Museum of Art, Sherman's Gardens, as well as numerous juried art shows throughout California. Her painting for the California Art Club's 2010 Long Beach Bicycle Race Show was used for the event's Home Page and poster. In addition, Kelly won First Prize at the Lake Arrowhead Art and Wine Festival 2018, with over 70 artists in attendance. She is a member of the California Art Club, the American Impressionist Society (AIS), Oil Painters of America (OPA), and the Southern California Plein Air Painters Association (socalpapa). Kelly is represented by the Quorum Art Gallery in Laguna Beach, and The Lake House in Lake Arrowhead.

About

“I paint whatever I see that is striking...something that takes my breath away.” While Emilee admires watercolor pieces done in soft, light washes, she goes for “the gusto” and drama of bold, colorful artwork. Due to the vivid colors, many who view her work at first think the medium must be acrylic....and now she also uses acrylics in her “Paint Pouring” art pieces as well. Emilee accepts custom orders, and also specializes in personal paintings for her clients. These pieces are called “Favorite Things”. The piece is composed of the recipient’s....favorite things. Retired after over 30 years with the Walt Disney Co., Emilee lives and paints in Anaheim, California. She is a published artist, a Board Member and Juried Exhibitor at Laguna Art-A-Fair in Laguna Beach, a Juror, an Art Demonstrator and conducts Watercolor and Paint Pouring workshops and lessons at Laguna Art-A-Fair, Art Supply Warehouse/Catalyst and in her Anaheim studio. Emilee is a member of Watercolor West, Spark OC and Orange County Fine Arts Association. Emilee’s artwork is available at the Quorum Gallery located in Laguna Beach, CA.

About

I have been a film photographer for 50 years and I still shoot with film. The majority of my work is with large format cameras 4"x5" and larger. Over the years I learned how to developed all my own film both B&W and E-6 color transparency film with a Jobo CPP2 processor which I still use today. I have always done my own printing, framing and matting. In 2018 I decided I wanted to step back in time and learn how to print using one of the alternative printing processes from the 1800's. I finally decided on Platinum/Palladium prints. The beauty of these prints still makes me smile! Each print is handmade and an original. No two prints are ever the same.
